HIGH SCHOOL BACKGROUND OF FIRST-TIME STUDENTS
UNIVERSITY OF HAWAIʻI, FALL 2007

Total first-time student enrollment for the University of Hawaiʻi system measured 7,754 for Fall 2007, a 6.1% increase from Fall 2006 (Table 1 and Figure 1). Enrollment of first-time students from Hawaiʻi high schools measured 5,967, a 9.4% increase from Fall 2006 (Table 1A). Enrollment of Hawaiʻi public high school graduates increased 9.0% to measure 4,935, while enrollment of Hawaiʻi private high school graduates increased 11.6% to reach 1,032. Enrollment of students from the U.S. mainland measured 991, a very slight decline from Fall 2006, while 349 students came from foreign countries, a 2.5% decline.

The going rate of Hawaiʻi recent high school graduates (those who completed high school within the previous academic year) into the University of Hawaiʻi system measured 34.6% in Fall 2007, an increase of 2.5 percentage points from Fall 2006 and the highest going rate so far this decade (Table 4 & Figure 5). The going rate of public high school graduates measured 35.6%, while the going rate of private high school graduates measured 30.8%.

The number of high school graduates for the State of Hawaiʻi in June 2007 measured 13,821, a 1.3% increase over June 2006 (Table 4 & Figure 2). Overall the number of high school graduates has grown since the mid-1990s. The number of high school graduates in June 2007 was 1,509 more than in June 1997. WICHE has forecast further increase through 2008, followed by a gradual decline.

While the number of Hawaiʻi high school graduates has been increasing in recent years, the going rates of those graduates into the UH campuses have been declining (Table 4 and Figure 5). The increases in Fall 2007 may or may not signal a reversal of this trend. Overall, however, the total UH system going rate has declined since the 1970s (Figure 6).

First-Time students from the U.S. mainland have increased in recent years, from 8.7% of the total in Fall 1997 to 12.8% in Fall 2007 (Figure 4). Although the overwhelming majority of first-time students are from Hawaiʻi (77.0%), first-time freshmen from outside the state accounted for 17.3% of the total for the UH system in Fall 2007, 30.9% at UH Mānoa and 28.9% at UH Hilo (Table 1).

UH-West Oʻahu admitted its initial class of first-time freshmen in Fall 2007 (Table 1). The total count of first-time freshmen was 35, with 32 of them from Hawaiʻi high schools.

Since Academic Year 1997, total enrollment in Hawaiʻi public schools has declined 5.1%, from 188,837 to 179,234. Over this same period, enrollment in Hawaiʻi private schools has increased from 32,550 to 36,218, an 11.3% increase. For high school seniors, the percentage changes over this period measured 8.8% and 29.1%, respectively (Figure 13).

In Academic Year 1971, enrollment in special education as a percentage of total public school enrollment measured 2.3%. Since that time, the percentage has grown steadily and measured 10.6% in AY 2007. For public high school seniors, the percentage enrolled in special education has increased from 8.5% in AY 1997 to 14.0% in AY 2007 (Figure 14).
