Conducts research in industrial relations, disseminates information pertaining to industrial relations and develops and maintains an industrial relations library.

- Facilitates University system wide research, instruction, and public service in the disciplines and professions related to industrial relations.

- Develops and maintains a library of research and reference materials deemed necessary to the research, instruction, and public service functions of the Center.

- Provides a library reference service for the purpose of making this information available to labor, management, and other community groups.

- Investigates and analyzes problem areas in the practice of industrial relations.

- Disseminates, through public lectures, conferences, discussion groups and publication and distribution, information developed from the Center’s resources.