UNIVERSITY OF HAWAI‘I PEER AND BENCHMARK COMPARISON GROUPS

Peer and Benchmark Institutions

The terms “benchmark” and “peer” are used here to differentiate between the comparative groups developed internally at UH and those developed more systematically by the National Center for Higher Education Management Systems (NCHEMS) or by using the peer analysis tool of the national Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System (IPEDS). In particular, the benchmark groups reflect input from campus executives. The UH Manoa list was developed many years ago and its enduring use reflects the desire of UH officials to understand where Manoa stands relative to some well-known mainland institutions. The lists of benchmarks for UH Hilo and the UH Community Colleges were developed with input from the Chancellors’ offices and have evolved and changed over the years.

The institutions included in the peer groups were developed by NCHEMS Information Services or jointly by the UH system and campus analysts. NCHEMS and UH analysts use an indicator data base containing variables covering institutional characteristics, faculty, finance, degrees awarded, enrollments, and other data. There is also professional judgment involved in this selection process.

These are peer and benchmark comparison groups for the University of Hawai‘i campuses as follows. The groups listed in this report do not include peer or benchmark groups developed internally at the campus, college, or departmental levels.

Carnegie Classifications

In 2005, The Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching updated its classification of institutions of higher education. As part of the revision, the single classification system was replaced by multiple, parallel classifications. The original Carnegie classification structure, included in this report, is now called the “Basic” classification and has also undergone substantial revisions.

Basic classifications for University of Hawaii campuses and the peer and benchmark institutions is based on time-specific snapshots of institutional data from 2002-003 and 2003-04, as collected by The Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching. Institutions may be classified differently using a different time-specific snapshot. The next update to the classifications is slated for 2010.

Additional information about the multiple classifications is available at The Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching website:
<http://www.carnegiefoundation.org/index.asp>.
