Fall 2011 Courses on Japan at UHM

Note: Instructors are listed alphabetically by last name, meeting time and days for those teaching multiple courses are listed under the Course heading.

Instructor: Farris, Wayne
Course: History 665B-Grad Readings in Traditional Japan
Day and time: Mondays - 3:00 to 5:30 pm.
Room: Sakamaki B301

Instructor: Iezzi, Julie
Course: THEA 466, Drama and Theatre of Japan
Day and time: Mondays and Wednesdays – 12:30-1:45pm
Room: Kennedy Theatre 101

Instructor: Ito, Ken K.
Course: JPN 640, Themes in Japanese Literature--Cultures of Defeat: Literature of the Occupation Era (1945-1952)
Day and time: Mondays - 2:30-5:00 pm.
Room: Moore 105
Note: This is the only graduate course in Japanese literature being offered in the fall.

Instructor: McDonald, Mary
Course: Geog 652, Contemporary Japan Seminar
Day and time: Friday, 9:30-12:00
Room: Saunders 442
Note: Dr. McDonald would like to double the seminar meetings in August and December weeks on campus, and then meet with the seminar via Skype from Japan during Sept, Oct, and Nov. This will require some work with all the members to synch our schedules and find a time when it’s daylight in Japan. She would also like to try Skype field trips for the class, related to each week’s readings.

Instructor: Vovin, Alexander
Course: JPN 601 Japanese Phonology and Morphology 12:00 - 1:45 MW
Course: JPN 631 History of the Japanese Language 2:30-5:00 W
Course: JPN 730H Western Old Japanese 2:30-5:00 M

Instructor: Yano, Christine
Course: ANTH 720 - Anthropology of Japan
Day and time: Tues 1:30-4pm, Saunders 345
Room: Saunders Hall 345
Note: This course is only offered once every three years.

Instructor: Yoshimi, Dina
Course: JPN604 Introduction to Japanese Language Pedagogy  TTh 9-10:15
Course: JPN730p Research Seminar in Japanese Pedagogy - A pedagogy for particles: Teaching Japanese particles with an eye towards pragmatics
Originally scheduled for T 2:30-5:00 but likely to be rescheduled owing to overlap with another seminar at that time.