

Assistant Professor, position number 85853, University of Hawai'i at Manoa, Center for Pacific Islands Studies, School of Hawaiian, Asian and Pacific Studies, 9-month, tenure track, starting January 2008 or August 2008, pending position clearance and availability of funds. Duties: Coordinate planning for a new interdisciplinary undergraduate major in Pacific Islands Studies; develop and teach interdisciplinary undergraduate and graduate courses on issues of social change in the Pacific Islands, such as diaspora, gender, or globalization; supervise MA students; share in advising of students; conduct research or other scholarly activities and publish in appropriate media; and perform university and professional service. Minimum qualifications: PhD from a college or university of recognized standing in the Social Sciences or Humanities with emphasis on Pacific Islands Studies. Extensive knowledge of and research experience in the Pacific Islands region outside of Hawai'i. Strong interest in interdisciplinary research and teaching, especially at the undergraduate level. Desirable qualifications: Publications in refereed journals. Evidence of excellence in teaching. Demonstrated interest in innovative teaching strategies. Experience in academic program planning and development. Ability to speak one or more indigenous Pacific Islands language. Pay range: Salary commensurate with qualifications and experience. To apply: Submit cover letter indicating how you satisfy the minimum and desirable qualifications, 3 letters of recommendation, and curriculum vitae. Official transcripts that reflect degree and course work will be required at the time of hire. All submitted materials are the property of the school. Application address: Director, Center for Pacific Islands Studies, 1890 East-West Center, Moore 215, Honolulu, Hawai'i 96822. Inquiries: Dr. David Hanlon (808) 956 7700 or hanlon@hawaii.edu. Women, members of minority groups, veterans, and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply. Closing date: September 4, 2007. EEO/AA Employer.