

Globalization and Higher Education List of Participants (Incomplete Bios)

Tom Abeles, President of Sagacity, Inc., member of the Global Alliance for Transnational Education, and currently developing a virtual campus for the graduate school at Hamline University, Abeles has been active in discussions, in print and online, of the implications of the digital revolution. Editor of Horizon. tabeles@hotmail.com

Alan Bowen-James, CEO of NextED, “the leading Asia-based provider of online learning solutions for the corporate, professional and higher education markets.” Founded in Hong Kong in 1998, NextEd has 8 offices in Australia, China, Hong Kong, Malaysia, the UK and the US. cogsys@bigpond.net.au

Jan Currie: Associate Professor, School of Education, Murdoch University. Co-Editor of Universities and Globalization: Critical Perspectives (London: Sage, 1998), jcurrie@cyberportal.net

Gerard Delanty: Gerard Delanty is Professor of Sociology in the University of Liverpool, UK. He was Visiting Professor York University, Toronto in 1998, in 2000 at Doshisha University, Kyoto, Japan . He is the Editor of the European Journal of Social Theory and author of Inventing Europe: Idea, Identity, Reality (Macmillan, 1995), Social Theory in a Changing World (Polity Press, 1999), Modernity and Postmodernity: Knowledge, Power, the Self (Sage, 2000), Citizenship in a Global Age (Open University Press, 2000); Challenging Knowledge: The University in the Knowledge Society (Open University Press, 2001); and (with Patrick O'Mahony) Nationalism and Social Theory (Sage, forthcoming 2002). delanty@liverpool.ac.uk

Leonardo Garnier: University of Costa Rica; Political economist whose writings include problems of globalization and human rights. Has extensive experience with UN agencies, PNUD and ECLAC, most recently with UNICEF in Ecuador. lgarnier@racsa.co.cr

Sohail Inayatulla Does extensive work is Australian and East Asian universities, but especially as regards corporatization, the internet, multiculturalism, democratization and organizational transformation. Co-editor of The University in Transformation: Global Perspectives on the Futures of the University (Greenwood Press, 1999). sohail@mail.tku.edu.tw

Charles (Buddy) Karelis, currently an independent scholar. Director of Fund for the Development of Secondary Education (FIPSE), Dept of Education for many years. Former President of Colgate University. Ckarelis@mail.colgate.edu

Michael Margolis: Professor Political Science, University of Cincinnati
Authored: “Brave New Universities.” margolis@email.uc.edu

John. J. McDermott Distinguished Professor of Philosophy and Humanities, Texas A&M Danforth Fellow; author of numbers books and articles on American culture and philosophy, including philosophy of education.
<k-dunnington@philosophy.tamu.edu>

Jaishree Odin: Liberal Studies, University of Hawai'i at Manoa. Has published on ALN pedagogy and implications of new technologies. More recently, as Assistant Dean for Outreach College, been responsible for developing various entirely new on-line programs for UHM. odin@hawaii.edu.

Su Hao: Chair of the Department of Diplomacy of the College of Foreign Affairs, Peking University, China. Professor Hao is currently a Fulbright Fellow at Columbia University. He has had continuing interest in the consequences of globalization on Higher Education in China. hs2042@columbia.edu

Richard Ruch: Author of Higher Ed, Inc: The Rise of the For-Profit University (Baltimore: Johns Hopkins University Press, 2001). He has served as chief academic officer at DeVry College of Technology, and Dean of the College of Business Administration at Rider University. He holds a Ph.D. in Communication from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute and did post-doctoral study in higher education at Harvard's Institute for Education Management. He is currently studying theology at Princeton Theological Seminary.
richardruch@home.com

Charles Smith: Department of Sociology, Queens College. Former Dean, Provost and Assistant to the President at Queens College. Authored: Market Values in American Higher Education 2000. Editor of Journal for the Theory of Social Behavior. charles_smith@qc.edu

Scott Thomas, Institute of Higher Education at the University of Georgia
Author of several studies of income effects of higher education, including differences in outcomes for graduates of types of institutions.
slthomas@arches.uga.edu

Peter Wagner, University of Warwick, currently based at the European University Institute in Florence. His publications include The Scholar's Space: A Topography of Academic Practices (with Heidrun Friese, in German, 1993); Social Sciences and Modern States (co-editor, 1991); The Social Sciences and the State: France, Italy, Germany, 1870-1980 (in German, 1990). Wagner was with the Wissenschaftszentrum Berlin für Sozialforschung and the Free University of Berlin, and has conducted research at the Centre National de la Recherche Scientifique, Paris, the Institute for Advanced Study, Princeton, the Swedish Collegium for Advanced Study in the Social Sciences, Upsala, and the Center for Studies in Higher Education at the University of California, Berkeley.
peter.wagner@iue.it.