STUDENTS FOR WHOM THE COURSE IS INTENDED: This course is intended for librarians who plan to provide or already are providing library services to young adults in either a public or school library; intermediate and high school teachers; fifth and sixth grade teachers; and anyone else who is interested in young adults and their literature.

PREREQUISITE: none

COURSE/TEACHING PHILOSOPHY

I believe that instructors and students form communities in which they share in learning. Each person's enthusiasm, expression of thoughts and perspectives, and positive and supportive behavior contributes to a learning environment where people can expand their worlds and build a foundation for future learning. As an instructor, my role is to participate as one of the learners while facilitating student learning by structuring experiences and content.

LIS PROGRAM LEARNING OBJECTIVES

- To demonstrate an understanding of the history, philosophy, principles, policies, and ethics of library & information science and technology
- To demonstrate an understanding of the development, organization, and communication of knowledge
- To demonstrate theoretical understanding of and basic competencies in evaluating, selecting and organizing information sources
- Apply basic competencies and knowledge that are essential for providing, managing, and designing information services and programs in a variety of information environments
- To demonstrate the professional attitudes and the interpersonal and interdisciplinary skills needed to communicate and collaborate with colleagues and information users
- Faculty incorporate their research findings in the courses they teach
COURSE LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Students who complete this course will:

* be exposed to YA literature including highly recommended or controversial books and library materials popular with young adults
* identify outstanding authors of young adult literature
* understand the selection criteria for print and nonprint materials appropriate for YA and secondary school collections, what constitutes excellence in the various genres and how to evaluate literature for YAs according to literary elements
* know how to access reviews and professional literature about books and media for young adults
* relate developmental needs and interests of young adults to their literature
* examine the complexities inherent in issues related to censorship
* have knowledge of the history of young adult literature
* relate YA literature and library collections to concerns and concepts of diversity
* understand the purpose and value and techniques of booktalking
* formulate a philosophy related to books and media for young adults

RESEARCH METHODS: Historiography, Case Study, Literary analysis and Criticism, Interview. Content Analysis (a standard methodology in the social sciences and humanities that entails a systematic analysis of the content rather than the structure of any communication, such as a written work, speech, or film, including the study of thematic and symbolic elements to determine the objective or meaning of the communication.)

TEACHING METHODS: Includes readings, written assignments, lectures, videos, speakers, small group & team work, discussions, presentations, book talks

TEACHER'S EXPECTATIONS

Students will come to class having done the readings and completed assignments due that day. All students should students bring copies or the originals of their assignments to class for use in discussions. It is wise to keep copies or back-up files of assignments in case of loss. Students will turn in assignments at end of class. Attendance is critical. Students will lose three points for every missed class that isn't made up. To make up a class: reschedule presentations; and write a one-page single space summary of the readings.
Professional Expectations for Library and Information Science Graduate Students at UH

LIS graduate students are responsible for observing the highest standards of intellectual and personal honesty in every aspect of their careers at the University of Hawaii. The University’s Student Conduct Code represents a zero tolerance policy, the penalties for academic dishonesty are severe and ignorance is not an acceptable defense. Students are required to be familiar with University policies on academic integrity including:

* The University of Hawaii Student Conduct Code http://www.manoa.hawaii.edu/students/conduct/ and http://www.manoa.hawaii.edu/students/conduct/impermissible_behavior.html
* The University of Hawaii at Manoa Campus Policies http://www.catalog.hawaii.edu/about-uh/campus-policies1.htm

The field of Library and Information promotes ethical conduct of its members through published codes of ethics and standards of conduct. LIS students as pre-professionals are expected to adopt and to enact these standards and codes in their degree work in classes, written assignments, oral presentations, group work, at internship, practicum and fieldwork sites, and in personal, Internet and phone communications related to their LIS studies. Students are required to be familiar with the ethical guidelines of professional associations including but not limited to the following:

* ALA Code of Ethics http://www.ala.org/ala/oif/statementspols/codeofethics/codeethics.htm
* Guidelines for Behavioral Performance of Reference and Information Service Providers http://www.ala.org/ala/rusa/rusaprotocols/referenceguide/guidelinesbehavioral.htm
* ASIST Professional Guidelines: http://www.asis.org/AboutASIS/professional-guidelines.html

Principles of Ethical Conduct

Propriety. Students should maintain high standards of personal conduct in the capacity of identity as a student of the University of Hawaii.

Competence and Growth. Students should strive to become proficient in academic performance and professional practice, functions, and activities.

Development of Knowledge. Students should take responsibility for identifying, developing, and fully utilizing knowledge for academic assignments and professional practice.

Scholarship and Research. Students engaged in study and research should be guided by the conventions of scholarly inquiry and academic integrity. Students must be familiar with and follow the requirements of the course syllabus.

Service. Students should regard as primary the service obligation to internship, practicum, fieldwork or community sites, as well as to student professional organizations.

Confidentiality. Students should respect the privacy of information users and hold in confidence all information obtained in the course of professional service at practicum, community internship, and fieldwork sites.

Commitments to Organizations. Students should adhere to commitments made to practicum, community, internship, and fieldwork sites, as well as to student professional organizations.

Respect, Fairness, and Courtesy. Students should treat staff, student colleagues, professional and faculty with respect, courtesy, fairness, and good faith in all communication settings, including online, classrooms, group meetings, internship and fieldwork sites, and faculty and departmental offices.

Integrity. Students should act in accordance with the highest standards of professional integrity to uphold and advance the values, ethics, knowledge, and mission of the profession as outlined in professional codes of ethics and standards of conduct.

Approved by the LIS Faculty on 19 March 2007
