Section 9-13 Health Fund, Retirement, and Other Benefits.

d. Emeritus Title.

(1) The emeritus title is an honor bestowed by the Board of Regents upon retiring University of Hawai‘i faculty members in recognition of dedicated and honorable service rendered to the University and to administrators who have made exceptional contributions to the University and provided long and distinguished service, and who are recognized as distinguished leaders in their profession.

(2) The emeritus title is conferred, upon recommendation of the President, to those persons who separated from active service with the University, who have attained retiring with the rank of full professor or its equivalent at baccalaureate campuses, or professor, community colleges rank at the Community Colleges, or service in the position of vice-president, chancellor, or vice-chancellor for five or more years to the University.

(3) Individuals holding equivalent or higher positions, who report to the Board may be considered by the Board for the emeritus title using the above criteria. (April 16, 1969; Mar. 16, 1990; Jan. 17, 1992; Am: Dec. 15, 2005)
