 - a. The Consider Withdrawal Survey was implemented by the Counseling Department for Fall 2014. Deployment of the Consider Withdrawal Survey is a Counseling Department initiative to “catch” continuing students before the deadline to drop from a course has passed. “Catching” students before the drop deadline is seen as an opportunity for students to drop a course with a grade of “W” and not have their academic standing impacted.

The survey is made available to instructors to use if they feel that a student is not passing their course. The counselor assigned (by major) to the student follows up with the student. Students are asked to check in with their instructors for assistance in deciding if they should drop the course.
