Follow up with Sp 151 question would any other institution accept a course in transfer if the course is worth less credits than the equivalent course at the accepting institution. For example, SP 151 is worth 3 credits across the UH system but would any of the schools accept a course that is equivalent to SP 151 if it was only 2 credits? And if you would how would you make up the loss of the one credit for the student?

 Are we consistent? Need for common academic policies?
