University of Hawaii,

We are not against science. Just those that put it before protection of the environment. Chile has started construction on a bigger telescope already making TMT obsolete. I have a problem with any entity that does not follow the conservation criteria already in place to protect the environment. This is our source of water and spirituality. The sacredness of Mauna a Wakea deserves the respect and care of any church, temple, or place of worship. Enforce the laws that are in place already to protect what should be protected. It is time for you to start showing your support for stopping further destruction of Mauna a Wakea and for those who have been protecting the mauna to date.

Sharron Cushman