What is sacred is sacred. It is not any one's right to be piecemealed out at someone else's leisure. Sadly, it's almost understandable that the majority of the US Mainland doesn't understand what sacred lands mean since that's what has been taken has been from the indigence Native Americans. For oh so many, the only thing seen as sacred has monetary value. Mauna Kea’s value is deeper than any pockets! The TMT project will only destroy what means so much to the Hawai’ian people and their generations to come. It must be stopped!
