

Community Colleges Evaluation, Planning, and Assessment Workshop

January 6-7, 2004
Windward Community College

Purpose: In June 2003, the Accrediting Commission for Community and Junior Colleges (ACCJC) adopted new standards, which will be in effect for the next accreditation visit in fall 2006. These new policies reflect the focus on developing an “institutional culture of evidence.” Based upon the observations expressed by ACCJC staff during their recent campus visit, it has become apparent that we have a number of policies, tools, and practices that need to be revised and put into practice before we begin the campus self-studies in fall of 2005. This workshop is designed to get that process started so we can implement new practices and procedures during the 2004-05 academic year.
