<th>Explanation describing how procurement by standard competitive means is either not practicable or not advantageous to the University;</th>

<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Procurement by standard competitive means, involving the preparation and advertising of a formal request for proposals, will not permit the campus to enter into a contract in time to implement for the Fall 2019 incoming cohort. This revamp of the Orientation was decided only in January 2019, and success depends on completely overhauling previous efforts. As the Fall 2019 cohort will start registering for classes at the end of May 2019, it is critical that this online orientation piece be implemented as close to that period as possible (target date May 1). One of the key components of orientation is how to select courses and register for classes. Best practices call for a 4 month window to design and develop the online orientation, and thus going through a standard RFP, even with a rushed timeline, will not allow us to have the online program running by the start of summer. In-person orientation sessions, which this year will be geared more heavily towards allowing students opportunities to make individual connections, are planned for the week before school starts in August, and are too late to be effective in giving the students the tools to register for classes in May. This online orientation program, with 24/7 access once implemented, is a key component for the New Student Orientation Program. This is critical to meet our enrollment projections, maintain our current momentum, and improve our student success metrics (retention, persistence, and graduation rates).</td>

<td>In anticipation of the time constraints applicable to this procurement, we conducted a search and survey of the businesses that provide online orientation services. The companies were asked whether they could provide 3 essential components listed in the description of services above (unique to Manoa design, unlimited 24/7 access with data analytics, and ready for Fall 2019 cohort). The following 6 companies/options were surveyed by Kevin Kaneshiro of the Enrollment Management Office: Advantage Design, Comevo, Smart Sparrow, Innovative Educators, Articulate 360, and Laulima. The result of the survey were evaluated by Interim Vice Chancellor for Students, Dr. Lori M Ireta, Assistant VC for Enrollment Management Roxie Shabazz, and Interim Assistant VC for Diversity Dr. Christine Quemuel. A table showing a comparative analysis of the services offered by the 6 entities is attached. Two of the 6 firms surveyed (Comevo and Advantage Design) were found to be capable of providing all of the 3 essential components. Informal proposals will be requested of these two firms; these proposals will be evaluated by Assistant VC Shabazz and Assistant VC Quemuel with final selection to be made by IVC Ireta.</td>
