(1) Explanation describing how procurement by standard competitive means is either not practicable or advantageous to the University;

The University of Hawaii Study Abroad Center (SAC) encourages overseas academic experiences and offers the following to SAC students:

- Curricula and programs that enable students to analyze, appreciate, comprehend, and interpret global circumstances;
- Education that situates the United States as a part of the present global community;
- Opportunities that broaden perspectives, develop competencies and improve the students’ ability to make personal and public policy decisions as responsible citizens of an international society.

The SAC has an Advisory Council made up of faculty members that represents various colleges/departments of the University of Hawai‘i at Mānoa. The Advisory Council is the SAC’s policy-making body and serves as its curriculum committee. One of the key duties of the Advisory Council is to review and/or approve programs and faculty resident director appointments.

The Council on Study Abroad functions through a designee, the Director of the UHM Study Abroad Center. The Council recommends policy and advises on proposed Study Abroad academic programs in terms of their feasibility and consistency within established guidelines. The Council is the Curriculum Committee of the UHM Study Abroad Center that reviews and gives final approval to the academic content of the program.

The current academic content of the program has been established and the Study Abroad Center (SAC) has agreements with various institutions for international programs for UHM students (see attached). As mentioned above, the SAC programs require an appointment of an on-site Faculty Resident Director at their international institution locations. Appointment periods range from two to three months depending on the program. The Faculty Resident Director will conduct research, teach courses at the international institution and provide oversight/care for the UH Mānoa students on-site.

Short term housing is required for each of the Faculty Resident Director’s that accompany students to the study abroad locations. Procurement by standard competitive means is not practicable or advantageous due to the difficulty of researching and securing housing near the international program campuses from Hawaii. As an alternative, the partner international institutions will secure housing for each of the Faculty Resident Director’s at each international location.

(2) Details of the process or procedures to be followed in selecting the vendor to ensure as fair and open competition as practicable;

The lodging secured by the international institution shall not exceed the current maximum Federal Allowable Rate for per diem for Outside the Continental United States (OCONUS). The Federal Allowable Rates for OCONUS are managed and updated by the Department of Defense, Defense Travel Management Office. The International Institution will secure the lodging on behalf of the faculty resident director and provide an invoice to the Study Abroad Center for reimbursement.

(3) A description of The Department’s internal controls and approval requirements for the exempt procurement.

The housing invoice is submitted to the Study Abroad Center by the international institution. It is reviewed by the Director. After initial review it is sent to the Fiscal Specialist to process for payment. The Fiscal Specialist reviews the dates of the lodging and calculates the Federal Allowable Rate (FAR) comparison amount to ensure that the daily rate being charged by the international institution during the program does not exceed the FAR. The calculation is attached to the payment processing documents as support. The Fiscal Administrator does the final review of the invoice and FAR calculations and approves it for Disbursing review and payment.
