

Celebrate Reading and the Hawai'i Council for the Humanities Present

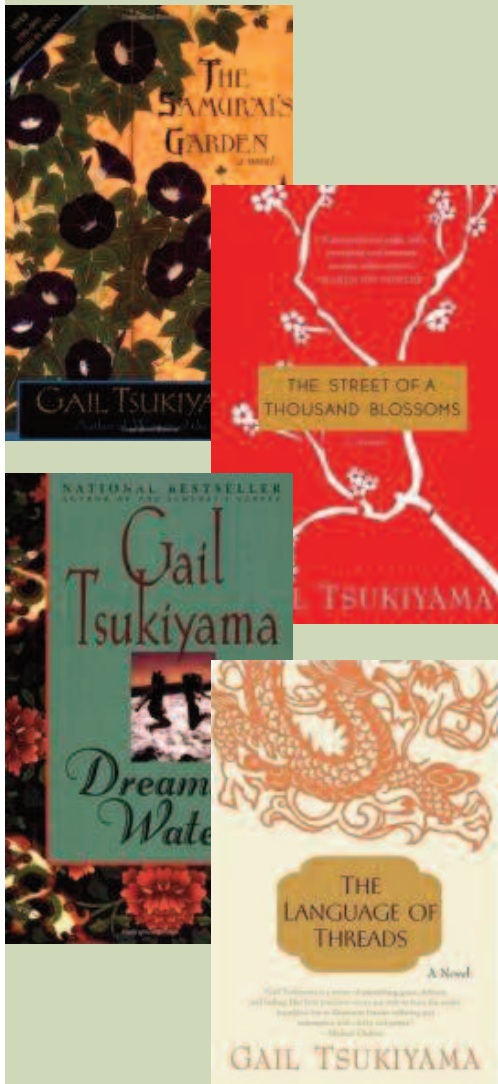

Gail Tsukiyama

Reading • April 19, 2012 • 5:30 pm

Art Auditorium, UHM campus

Q and A and book signing to follow

Books will be available for purchase at the event from the UH Bookstore.

Gail Tsukiyama is the bestselling author of six novels, including Women of the Silk, The Samurai's Garden, and The Street of a Thousand Blossoms. Her novels reflect both her Chinese and Japanese heritage, richly revealing cultures and histories filled with tradition and change, loss and renewal, and love and family. She has been the recipient of the Academy of American Poets Award and the PEN/Oakland Josephine Miles Award for Literary Excellence. Her latest novel, A Hundred Flowers, will be out in August 2012.

Other sponsors: Associated Students of the University of Hawaii and the Department of English at UHM

Contact Lorna Hershinow at 239-9726, hershinow@gmail.com