

Grant Writing Workshop

March 10-13, 2014

University of Hawaii, John A. Burns School of Medicine
Medical Education Building, Room #315

The John A. Burns School of Medicine (JABSOM) and JABSOM programs supported by the National Institute on Minority Health and Health Disparities (NIMHD) are pleased to present a grant writing workshop with:

Wendy Sanders, M.A.

Assistant Dean for Research Career Development Program
University of Maryland School of Medicine

Wendy Sanders has been a collaborating partner with the Center for Native and Pacific Health Disparities Research (CNPHDR) for more than 7 years and has consistently received high marks for her grant writing workshop sessions.

The NIMHD-funded programs supporting this workshop are: 1) Bioscience Research Infrastructure Development for Grant Enhancement and Success (BRIDGES), 2) RCMI Multidisciplinary and Translational Research Infrastructure eXpansion (RMATRIX), and 3) CNPHDR.

Highlights:

- Planning a grant application—Identifying best funding sources and mechanisms; NIH vs other funding sources; funding databases
- First steps—Assessing whether you're ready to apply; putting together your grants "team"; developing a schedule for proposal writing; determining your research "niche"
- Resources at JABSOM
- Research Performance Progress Report (RPPR)
- Writing an NIH or other peer-reviewed grant (e.g. developing compelling specific aims, research strategy, statistical considerations, preparing an abstract)
- Statistical considerations
- NIH system of peer review; Mock review
- Writing a career development (K) award
- Approaches to Engaging "Grassroots" Communities in Research: Experiences from the Field
- Patient-Centered Outcomes Research Institute (PCORI)
- Individual consultation with Wendy Sanders

The workshop is open to anyone interested in attending, but will specifically target new emerging investigators and in particular those interested in health disparity research. There is no cost to attend, but registration is required. Seating is limited.

If you have any questions regarding this workshop, please contact Dr. Cecilia Shikuma at shikuma@hawaii.edu or Sheri Koike at kataoka@hawaii.edu. For registration questions, please contact Mona Cardejon at monaann@hawaii.edu.
