"Decadal Survey of Ocean Sciences 2015: Sea Change"

The National Academy of Science report "The Decadal Survey of Oceanography: Sea Change" was released on 23 January. The report, available for free download at <http://nas-sites.org/dsos2015/>, highlights critical ocean issues for the coming decade, and reviews and makes recommendations for national spending in priority areas.

Dr. Edwards, a co-author of the report, will discuss the report's findings and lead a discussion of its implications.
