

Is It Legal?

Copyright & Fair Use with Library and Instructional Materials: Avoid Putting Yourself or the University at Risk of Copyright Violations!

Spring 2022: Is it Legal? Series

Fridays in February
11:30 am–12:45 pm
Online (Zoom) or Hamilton Library, Room 306, in-person

Join librarians from Hamilton and Richardson Law Library in a 4-part series designed to address copyright and fair use for librarians and faculty in instruction. Each session covers a different topic area.

This event is co-sponsored with Hamilton Library, Richardson Law Library, and the OFDAS Center for Teaching Excellence.

For more session details, visit the registration page (URL below).

For further information, contact Access Services Librarian, Jean Thoulag at thoulag@hawaii.edu.

SESSION 1

Introduction: Copyright for the Instructor, Librarian, and Author

Friday, February 4

SESSION 2

Copyright Exceptions: Fair Use and the Classroom

Friday, February 11

SESSION 3

Fair Use: Maps & Geospatial Materials and Controlled Digital Lending (CDL) of Whole Books Still under Copyright

Friday, February 18

SESSION 4

Fair Use: AV Media, Music, Videos, Streaming Content, Recorded Live Performances, and Works of Visual Art

Friday, February 25

OFDAS Center for Teaching Excellence

P 808-956-6978
cte@hawaii.edu
www.cte.hawaii.edu

Register Online

www.cte.hawaii.edu/events.html

