

Workshops that Matter

How to find what you need at the library—and beyond

HAMILTON LIBRARY: ON TOUR

Did you know that Hamilton Library is made up of more than a dozen different departments? Learn where they are, what they've got, and how they can help you! (Meet in Hamilton Lobby.)

Thursday, October 26
2-3:30 PM

An optional tour of Sinclair will follow

Google to da Max

If you're like most people, you're only using a fraction of Google's searching power. You'll be amazed by what you can find on the internet using Google's advanced features.

This workshop will be held in Hamilton 113

Tuesday, October 31
3-4:30 PM

Research 101: How to find books

At UH you have access to millions of books—but how do you find the right one? This workshop will teach you how to get the books you need for any research project using the UH Libraries' search engine, Voyager. This workshop will be held in Hamilton 113

Tuesday, October 24
2-3:30 PM

Tuesday, November 14
12:00-1:30 PM

Research 201:

How to find articles

Your professor just told you to find journal articles for your paper. What do you do? Come to this workshop! We'll show you how to search through millions of articles, and even how to access them from home!

Wednesday, November 15
2-3:30 PM

Cite-seeing with the Web of Science

Find the most important journal articles on your topic using the Web of Science. Learn how many times your professor (or even you) has been cited.

Tuesday, November 14
3-4:30 PM

Extreme Makeover:

Library Website

Gone are the secret passages and cryptic languages of the old library website! Be the first to view the extreme makeover of the library website.

Wednesday, November 1 & 8
1:30-3 PM

Finding International Statistics

Is your research taking you beyond our borders? This workshop will help you quickly find the non-US statistical data you need online!

Thursday, November 2
1:30-3 PM

Finding Maps Online

Need a map of Hawaii, or maybe the mainland? This workshop will show you the best websites to find the map you need

Thursday, November 9
1:30-3 PM

Workshops will be held in Sinclair learning arena one.

All UH Students, faculty, and staff are welcome!

gohere.sinclair.hawaii.edu