• Office of Communications – This group provides leadership and direction for the planning, development, coordination, and management of the overall public and alumni relations, governmental relations, advancement, and special events strategy that brings greater visibility, recognition, and support to UHM.
• Office of the Ombudsperson – This office provides guidance, counseling, and advocacy for victims seeking redress through the sexual harassment, non-discrimination or academic grievance policies, or needing assistance with the navigation of administrative procedures at UHM.

B. Specify the objectives/goals of the new/restructured unit(s) involved in the reorganization.

The objectives and goals for the restructured Office of the Chancellor and Office of Communications and the proposed new Title IX Office include the following:

Office of the Chancellor

• Have the government relations function play a key role in forging strong relationships and sending a unified message on the priorities and plans of the university to state legislators, government officials, and external entities to enable UHM to accomplish its mission and objectives more efficiently.
• Key responsibilities of the Government Affairs function will include the following:
  o Coordination of government relations across the UHM campus.
  o Actively monitor and communicate legislative and government actions that impact the campus to the Chancellor and appropriate campus units.
  o Serve as the lead advocate in establishing relations with external constituents including members of the State Legislature, Governor’s Office, local city officials, neighborhood boards, and other external entities whose policies and recommendations may relate or affect the UHM campus.
  o Recommend operational changes necessitated by legislative mandate, and to draft alternative policies and procedures to fulfill campus goals.
  o Work closely with UH System offices to develop and maintain mutually beneficial relations with the University’s multiple publics and to represent UHM to appropriate organizations.
  o Research, monitor, analyze, and evaluate legislation and regulation issues that may have an impact on UHM; determine appropriate action and recommend plan to be taken to Chancellor and appropriate executive offices.
- Draft position papers and legislation that accurately reflects the interests of UHM and to engage with Legal Affairs and University General Counsel on issues related to Hawai‘i law and policy.
- Establish close working relationships with UHM leadership and departments to understand campus needs, priorities, and objectives to productively evaluate legislation and regulation issues and to communicate effectively with external groups.

- To develop a cohesive team to provide leadership and direction for the planning, development, coordination, and management of public and alumni relations, advancement, and special events that brings greater visibility, understanding, recognition, and support to UHM as a destination and leader in higher education.
- It is proposed that the functions of this Office focus on the following areas to increase efficiency, improve communication, and share positive stories with one unified campus voice:
  - Create a collaborative news and social media function to increase awareness of the academic, research, programs, campus initiatives, and progress of UHM to internal and external constituents to develop relationships with campus units, source stories (ground breaking achievements, public service initiatives, etc.), and distribute content in an integrated and comprehensive manner to promote the campus in a positive way, to market UHM to increase student enrollment, and to share UHM’s broader story to external audiences to increase support.
  - Increase the impact of outreach efforts by defining strategic media targets.
  - Conduct media/message training to assist UHM leadership and other university communicators how to respond to media.
  - Establish policies, practices, and procedures that will clearly communicate processes, establish consistency, and create a sense of shared mission and allow for communications efforts to have greater overall impact.
  - Develop and maintain productive and mutually beneficial relations and effectuate regular interaction and communication with UHM’s multiple publics including alumni, students (current and prospective), parents, friends of the University, donors, businesses, and community groups.
  - Manage UHM’s interaction with UH System offices and the news media.
  - Assist with publicity efforts, including stories, press releases, media advisories, fact sheets, op-eds, and other materials to publicize academic, research, outreach, and university news.

Title IX Office

- Enhance UHM’s federal compliance capacity by creating a centralized infrastructure for addressing gender-based discrimination, harassment and violence reporting, interim measure implementation, investigation, and adjudication.
- Establish and house a full-time Title IX Coordinator to improve campus level oversight capacity to ensure compliance with Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, the Violence against Women Act (VAWA), the Clery Act, and other similar legislation. After the establishment of the Office, the recruitment of a Deputy Coordinator and a Compliance/Administrative Support personnel is proposed as funding becomes available to facilitate education, and assist with advising, counseling, and alternative/informal dispute resolution services.
- Improve capacity to provide valuable training on gender-based discrimination, harassment, violence, and Title IX / VAWA compliance to increase overall safety for our campus community and reduce liability for UHM.
- Ensure University policies, procedures, protocols, and practices are in compliance with Title IX regulations.
- Provide and maintain annual statistical report on the number, nature and disposition of incidences, to identify patterns, and make recommendations for a safer campus environment.

The structure and function of Mānoa Faculty Senate and the Office of the Ombudsperson will remain unchanged.

II. RATIONALE FOR THE REORGANIZATION:

A. Provide background and relevant historical information.

The MCO organizational chart (currently reflected as Chart I and Chart I-A) was approved under the Reorganization of Mānoa Chancellor’s Office in February 2005 and has served the Mānoa campus under four (4) chancellors (Peter Englert, Denise Konan, Virginia Hinshaw, and Tom Apple) since its separation from UH System in 2001. The reorganization of 2005 established the Office of the Chancellor, aligned its authority and management with the organizational sub-structure at Mānoa, and resolved second-level staffing and management problems emerging from the system reorganization of December 2002. Since 2005, the offices of the Vice Chancellors (VCs) and units reporting to the respective VCs have undergone reorganizations as their role and function within the wider UHM campus became better defined.

Over the past five (5) fiscal years, state and local appropriations for higher education fell by eight percent (8%) nationally. Source: NACUBO – April 30, 2014 http://www.nacubo.org/Research/Research_News/Public_Funding_for_Higher_Education_Debates_8_Percent_from_FY08_to_FY13.html
For UHM, state appropriations fell ten percent (10%) from FY2009 (35%) to FY2013 (25%). Source: UH Mānoa FY 2015 Budget Presentation (Page 2) – October 2014 http://manoa.hawaii.edu/ovcafo/pdf/FY15BudgetPresentation.pdf
As a result, the function of government relations plays an increasingly key role in forging strong relationships and sending a unified message on UHM’s priorities and plans to state legislators, government officials, and external entities.

In addition, compliance with the provisions of Title IX and VAWA have begun to play an increasingly critical role on university campuses across the United States in reducing gender violence and creating a safe campus environment in recent years. The responsibilities of the UHM Title IX Coordinator is currently split between the Equal Employment Office (EEO) and the Office of Student Affairs (OSA) and held by two (2) different individuals, one at the UH System level and one at the UHM campus level. Furthermore, the responsibilities of the Title IX Coordinator are over and beyond each individual’s regular job duties which have made it difficult to ensure full compliance with existing laws and to sufficiently meet the needs of the campus community under Title IX and VAWA.

In August 2014, the Board of Regents appointed an Interim Chancellor for UHM. A review and discussion of the current structure with MCO staff members resulted in valuable feedback and insights to better serve the campus community.

B. Provide a detailed explanation of the conditions and/or factors prompting the proposed reorganization and how they will be addressed by the reorganization. Explain why the current organization is inadequate and whether the reorg is consistent with the University’s strategic, program, and financial plans.

Communications / Government Affairs

With the recent appointment of the Interim Chancellor, the campus community has expressed the need to maintain the high standard for campus communication for greater discussion and transparency of campus issues. During the review of the current MCO structure, improvements in key areas, including the need for early notification and dialog between the Office of Communication and campus units, were identified. The Office of Communication also handles the government affairs function, internal communication, external communication, marketing, events planning, media relations, web/emergency communications, materials production, reports, etc. The current structure does not allow the required focus needed for the government affairs function due to staff members having to juggle multiple responsibilities within the Office. In addition, a unified effort to market UHM to increase student enrollment and to promote the accomplishments and efforts of campus departments/units to the university’s many publics is needed.

This reorganization proposes to move the government affairs function from the Office of Communication to the Office of the Chancellor for a direct link and greater focus on understanding and servicing the needs of UHM. This includes providing the UHM leadership team with information on legislative and government actions that impact the campus, operational changes and draft policies and procedures necessitated by legislative mandate, and to establish greater communication with UHM units to understand campus needs, priorities, and objectives to effectively evaluate legislative and government issues and to compose position papers and legislation that benefit UHM. This function will continue to work closely with the Office of Communication and UH System offices to ensure unified relations and communications with internal and external entities.

With the above transition, recruitment for a full-time Director of Public Affairs will be implemented to lead the team in developing a communications campaign plan for UHM, inclusive of defined objectives, strategies, and measureable benchmarks to raise the profile of UHM. This involves an integrated approach to media relations and external communications, opportunities for media exposure, and developing a coordinated approach to telling UHM's broader story to both internal and external audiences with a unified voice.

Title IX Office
The current split structure, as explained in Section II.A, produces discrepancies and disparateness in the way cases are handled and does not allow the University to effectively align best practices in its efforts to fulfill and comply with Title IX and VAWA requirements. There is also a lack of understanding of Title IX, VAWA, and other similar legislation by the campus community and appropriate response in addressing concerns which may affect the safety of campus constituents and increase the University's liability.

Therefore, this proposal seeks to establish a stand-alone Title IX office and to house a full-time Title IX Coordinator to serve both students and employees and to ensure UHM is in full compliance with the provisions of both Title IX and VAWA. Having a dedicated Title IX Coordinator will help resolve discrepancies and disparateness in the way cases are handled and also create greater understanding and recognition regarding the appropriate level of urgency and response required by Title IX, VAWA, and other civil rights legislation. The Title IX Coordinator will also collaborate with the Office of the Vice Chancellor for Students (OVCS) to establish interim safety accommodations and to work with the Office of the Ombudsperson and the Women's Center to ensure UHM students, faculty, and staff are aware of their options and resources with respect to reporting and filing complaints alleging sexual harassment, sexual assault, sexual misconduct and relationship violence. The Title IX Coordinator will also be responsible for the collection and reporting of relevant facts on Title IX incident reports and assessments, and collaborate with appropriate campus offices to coordinate and execute UHM’s response and investigation of complaints pursuant to Title IX in a timely manner.

The Office will work in collaboration with Intercollegiate Athletics, Office of Public Safety, Student Housing, and other key first responders and will be available to both the complainant and respondent. In addition, the Office will serve as a direct resource to both the on-campus and off-campus university community and will ensure impartiality and consistency.
It is also proposed that two (2) additional full-time staff, a Deputy Coordinator and Compliance/Administrative Support personnel be recruited when funding becomes available, to efficiently fulfill the complete scope of the office. This includes providing much needed education and training on civil rights legislation and appropriate support services to the campus community.

This reorganization proposal aligns with UHM’s 2011-2015 Strategic Plan, Achieving Our Destiny, in the following areas and also meets program and budget plans:

- A Transformative Teaching and Learning Environment ➔ to create and ensure a positive, innovative, and safe campus environment for our students, faculty, staff, and visitors; and to increase student success.
- An Engaged University ➔ to promote work that informs the campus community; increase partnerships and sharing with community organizations; and to increase appreciation and understanding.
- Facilitating Excellence ➔ to increase transparency, efficiency and accountability in resource allocation; and improve communication to foster community engagement and student learning.

C. Explain other alternatives explored.

Other options taken into consideration include the following:

- No change to current organizational structure ➔ This option does not facilitate the progress UHM needs to accomplish the following due to:
  - Effectively comply and address current federal laws on gender/equity compliance, including Title IX and VAWA, and to centralize compliance and response services for the campus community;
  - Provide and fulfill the requirements of the government affairs function the campus leadership needs in the current higher education landscape; and
  - Create an integrated communications and media approach to share UHM’s broader story to internal and external audiences and to respond and provide campus updates in a streamlined and coordinated effort.

- Organizational structures of peer and benchmark institutions ➔ Structures of peer and benchmark institutions were reviewed, including the following:
  - University of California – Davis (Benchmark)
    - There is a Title IX Compliance Officer (Compliance and Policy, Office of the Provost and Executive Vice Chancellor) and a Title IX Athletics Administrative Advisory Committee composed of students, staff, and faculty that serve as an oversight and review body.
    - UC Davis provides a great example of strategic communication and also has a staff of 31 to execute its mission and goals.
    - There is a separate Government and Community Relations department actively engaged in building awareness, understanding, and support of UC Davis’ vision and priorities with elected officials, business, community and civic leaders.

http://gcr.ucdavis.edu/

- University of Washington (Benchmark)
  - The school has a Title IX/ADA Coordinator within the Office of Risk Management and works with seven (7) designated individuals responsible for coordinating compliance with Title IX. Involvement is based upon whether the investigation and resolution of allegations of sexual harassment and discrimination involves university employees, undergraduate students, graduate students, and/or athletic programs.
  - The Government Relations function is part of UW’s Office of External Affairs. There is an Office of Federal Relations which serves as the university’s chief representative in Washington D.C. and advises the university president on legislative strategy and communication to the university community regarding higher education issues. There is also an Office of State Relations focusing on higher education issues in Olympia and an Office of Regional & Community Relations which serves as a link between UW, the surrounding neighborhoods, civic groups, and local government.
  http://f2.washington.edu/treasury/riskmgmt/compliance/titleIX

- Colorado State University (Peer)
  - CSU has a Title IX Coordinator and a Deputy Coordinator/Director of Support and Safety Assessment which is part of the Office of Equal Opportunity.
  - The government relations function is at the Colorado State University System level and works on a wide variety of public policy issues on both the national and state level.
  http://www.csusystem.edu/about/government-relations

At the campus level, CSU has the Department of Public Relations responsible for informing the public and university community about events, programs, scholarship, research, and other CSU news.

http://www.publicrelations.colostate.edu/

- University of Arizona – Tucson (Peer)
  - There is a Title IX Coordinator located within the Office of Institutional Equity along with three (3) Deputy Coordinators, one for students, one for faculty/staff, and one for athletics.
  - The Office of University Relations houses the following seven (7) departments responsible for various functions:
    - ANSC Office of Public Affairs
    - Arizona Public Media
    - Marketing
    - University Relations – Phoenix
    - Alumni Association
- Legislative & Community Relations
- Communications
  http://universityrelations.arizona.edu/

Applicable information gathered from peer and benchmark institutions will be referenced and augmented to develop an optimal organizational structure over time that best fits the needs of the UHM campus.

D. Explain how the proposed changes will affect current relationships and workflows, including impact on services and relations with other University segments.

Title IX Office → The proposed changes will improve campus level oversight capacity to ensure compliance with Title IX, VAWA, and Clery, by performing uniform training on gender-based discrimination, harassment, and violence, and providing education, advising, counseling, and alternative/informal dispute resolution services related to civil rights. The Title IX Office will service both the accused and the victim by informing them of their informal and formal options and to ensure required and immediate response are taken for assessing allegations and determining appropriate measures. Having a dedicated campus level Office available to both the complainant and respondent and which focuses to ensure impartiality and consistency is needed at UHM to meet the key aspects of federal compliance. In addition, a dedicated Title IX Coordinator will have clear responsibilities for servicing the campus and not have a host of other responsibilities to detract from increasing overall safety, reducing liability, and meeting compliance obligations.

Government Affairs/Office of Communications → The relocation of the government affairs function from the Office of Communication to the Office of the Chancellor will improve the relationship, communication, and coordination of legislative and government matters between the Chancellor’s Office and the campus leadership. Positive results are expected as a result of coordinated efforts to pass key legislation with “one UHM voice.” In addition, the Office of Communications will focus on an integrated approach to media relations and increase awareness of the research, programs, campus initiatives, and progress to internal and external constituents to raise the profile of UHM. Both functions will work closely together to provide increased services to the campus whenever possible and to maximize the impact of outreach/media efforts to raise the profile of UHM.

E. List the groups that will be impacted by the reorganization and indicate whether they have been informed/consulted. Explain issues raised and how concerns were addressed.

Title IX Office → The following groups were consulted regarding the creation of the Title IX Office, including the two (2) employees currently serving as Title IX Coordinators at UHM, duties over and beyond their existing full-time responsibilities.
- Office of the Chancellor
- Office of Communications
- EEO/AA: Mie Watanabe (Title IX Coordinator for Employees)
- OVCS: Lori Ideta (Title IX Coordinator for Students)
- Office of the Ombudsperson
- OVCAA
- Intercollegiate Athletics
- Mānoa Human Resources
- Women’s Center
- Office of Public Safety

Discussion with the above groups resulted in the following comments/concerns:

- The need to have coordination across the different offices and efforts focused on addressing sexual harassment and hostile campus climate.
- Current Title IX Coordinator responsibilities are split between two different individuals in two different offices, one at the campus level and one at the system level. This is not ideal nor in line with best practices.
- The need to have one Title IX Coordinator for the campus and a single stand alone Title IX Office.
- The Title IX Office should be adequately staffed, ultimately, so that it can effectively address both educational, remedial and the investigative functions associated with Title IX.

Government Affairs/Communication ➔ The following groups were informed and consulted regarding the relocation of the government affairs function to the Office of the Chancellor with an expanded role to better meet the objectives of UHM and a more focused role for the Office of Communications to promote a unified campus voice.

- Office of Communications
- Office of the Chancellor
- Vice Chancellors
- UH System Office of External Affairs and University Relations

Discussion with the above groups resulted in the following comments/concerns:

- The need to have the government affairs function play a more robust role in the current higher education landscape was recognized. The importance of coordinating information and efforts between UH System offices and the Mānoa campus on government matters was made.
- The government affairs staff should be involved in UHM leadership meetings and activities to fully understand the priorities and goals of the campus.
- Many campus units are currently working in silos resulting in lack of advance communication and updates to the Office, frequently resulting in the scramble for accurate information at the last minute to be able to issue appropriate responses to internal and external audiences.
- Current Communications staff has clear areas of responsibility, including events, marketing, broadcast media, internal communication, emergency communication, and web. It was recommended that the new structure be more of a team approach/effort with each staff having multi-functional responsibilities to ensure service levels are met and projects are completed in a timely manner.

- Need for better coordination with UH System on internal and external communications, especially during emergencies. Identify the role(s) UH System will play versus the campuses.

F. Outline the benefits that will be achieved by the reorganization, including efficiencies and service improvements. Explain whether the supervisor/subordinate reporting relationships are properly identified and how the reorganization will minimize confusion over authority, roles, and responsibilities.

The benefits of this reorganization include the following efficiencies and service improvements:

- The expanded role of the government affairs function as a key part of the Chancellor's Office will enable strong relationships to be built and a unified message to be sent to government officials and community groups regarding UHM's priorities and objectives, enabling UHM to accomplish its mission and goals more efficiently. This will be achieved by the key responsibilities of the government affairs function as outlined under Section I.B. on page 2.

- The Office of Communications will re-focus its mission to bring greater visibility, understanding, recognition, and support to UHM as a destination and leader in higher education. The functions of the Office will be updated to include the responsibilities outlined under Section I.B. on page 3 to increase efficiency, improve communication, and share positive UHM stories with one unified campus voice.

- The Title IX Office will streamline and centralize gender equity compliance and response services and improve campus level oversight capacity to ensure compliance with Title IX, VAWA, and other similar legislation. Additional benefits for establishing this Office and having a full-time Title IX Coordinator is outlined under Section I.B. on page 3.

III. IMPACT ON RESOURCES AND THE UNIVERSITY

Provide a detailed description of the resource requirements and the programmatic impacts of the reorganization on the University.

A. Impact on budget resources:

1. Provide a realistic assessment of the estimated annual and future cost or savings of the reorganization taking into account such factors as proposed position re-descriptions and reallocations. Explain how the annual and future costs or savings were derived and, if applicable, reasons the reorganization justifies the estimated costs.

The recruitment and re-descriptions of the following positions is estimated to cost $280,000 – $310,000 annually as outlined below to achieve the goals and customer service levels highlighted in this proposal. F = Position Filled, V = Position Vacant

Office of the Chancellor - Government Affairs
