Rice Importers Hit Food Comm. ‘Discrimination’

By KEM KROOKER

A last fight almost followed an exchange of bitter words between a member of the Chinese Chamber of Commerce, who has a member of the local government’s emergency food committee. The member of the committee, when reporting the price of rice to the merchants, said that the merchants should be allowed to buy rice at less than the set price.

Various explanations are given for the curtailment of service by the Veterans Administration to some veterans. Foremost among these is the necessity of checking on vet patients and to have them registered if they are to be considered for payment by the VA in the "post-war" period.

Mr. BEEMAN, former chairman of the Veterans Committee, said that veterans were being asked to pay their own transportation expenses.

SS Benefits Here Up By $26,000

An estimated 6,000 people are receiving $26,000 monthly in old-age and survivors' insurance benefits in the Honolulu office of the Social Security Administration, according to reports from the agency here.

This represents an increase of $1,000 recipients during the 14 months ending last April. In June, 1960, the monthly benefit outlays of the Federal Security Agency gave $1,000 recipients in the city.

The Social Security Administration said the reports from the Federal Security Agency included recommendations for revisions in the law to extend old-age and survivors' insurance coverage to those employees who are now in agriculture, self-employed, domestic workers, or working in some occupation not covered by Social Security.

1. Coverage for wage earners be extended to more than 6,000 workers who are now in agriculture, self-employed, domestic workers, or working in some occupation not covered by Social Security.

2. The rate of benefits be substantially increased, from the present maximum for a family of $300 to a possible $350.

3. Benefits for survivors be increased to as much as $250 per month in surviving relatives' death benefits. Benefits for their monthly payments would be extended to survivors of the deceased employee.

4. A worker's earnings up to a maximum of $2,000 per year would be exempt from old-age and survivors' insurance contributions. Benefits would be increased to $250 per month for dependents of deceased employees.

5. The contribution credit to benefits—rather than the present limit of $2,000 per year.

Mr. Wise said that benefits being paid to workers under Social Security are being uniformly increased. Benefits for all survivors are being substantially increased. Benefits for the deceased employee are increased to as much as $2,000 per year.

Joseph Petroski, Sr., insurance manager, 55 S. Roberts Ave., said approximately 50 per cent of the local beneficiaries are children and mothers with children in their care. The remaining 50 per cent are insurance beneficiaries years of age or over.

Honolulans Tell What They Want Of Intercomm.

By SPECIAL WRITER

In my journeys throughout the Hawaiian Islands, I have come to realize that we are a people who are always striving for the best. I have visited many of our islands and have seen the progress being made in every aspect of our lives.

This week I asked a number of people what they thought the Honolulu Intercommute Committee should do. Here are the answers:

1. Create a system of bus routes that connects all the major cities and towns.

2. Expand the current subway system to include more areas.

3. Build a new airport to accommodate the growing number of tourists.

4. Improve the current road network to make it easier to travel between cities.

5. Increase public transportation subsidies to encourage more people to use public transportation.

The committee should be focused on making our lives easier and more convenient, while also being environmentally conscious.

Permit Mandatory

In order to build any new roads or schools, the construction companies would be required to obtain permits from the city. This would help to ensure that the projects are safe and meet the necessary standards.

The two-page letter sets forth the criteria for issuing a permit to a building company, including:

1. The project must be for the benefit of the community.

2. The project must be constructed in a safe manner.

3. The project must comply with all local and state codes.

4. The project must be completed within a reasonable time frame.

These requirements will help to ensure that the projects are safe and meet the necessary standards, while also being environmentally conscious.

BAR BATHERS AT PARK PAVILION

pavilion has the showers and dressing rooms, etc., for bathing, and there are no other such facilities available in Ali Moana Park.

Backroom Too Small

Mr. Lyon told me that William Lyon, the chairman of the Ali Moana Park company, was pleased with the idea of having a backroom, but that the present one was too small. He said that the company was planning to expand it soon.

Erected From Funds

The pavilion was originally erected from public funds, as a sports pavilion for use by the public. The city has now decided not to develop the park. It is now used as a park for the public.

The tennis players pay 25 cents for a court if they play singles, and 50 cents for a court if they play doubles. The pavilion also contains a small store where they can purchase equipment.

The public, with the exception of the members of the Ali Moana Park company, is barred from use of the shower.

I told Mr. Lyon the RECORD would go out of business if the public is barred from its own public park. I promise public relations.

Mr. Lyon replied that he agreed, but that the public had to be careful about the use of the public park. He said that there had been cases of vandalism in the past.

I asked him if he was the person responsible for the rules and regulations of the park. He replied that he was.

I then added: "Of course I have done so in accordance with the rules and regulations laid down by the board of directors of the park."

Disagreement on Rules

That very statement made Mr. Lyon very much upset. He said: "You are speaking for the board of directors of the park."

I knew that Mr. Lyon had expressly stated that the shower should be open to the public. He had previously told me this Mr. Lyon had asked me whether I would comment on the matter.

Mr. Lyon shrugged off this information, and then went on: "The ruling was made by the board of directors of the park."

But he added: "Of course I have done so in accordance with the rules and regulations laid down by the board of directors of the park."

That very statement made Mr. Lyon very much upset. He said: "You are speaking for the board of directors of the park."

Feather Sues Up Pegler

Westbrook Pegler, whose column appears in the Advertiser, was told by Mr. Lyon that his photograph appeared in a newspaper article.

Mr. Lyon said that he was not interested in the story, but that he did not want to be quoted as saying that he was interested in it.

Pensioners in Opposition

Garcia: "They are the main ones who are suffering because of the war.

President Garcia has asked the government to organize the corporation. He did not say when or how it would be done, but he indicated that he would do his best to see that it was done.

"How can we go on without a manager?" the pensioners asked. "We want to know who is in charge of the corporation."

Locally, Garcia is an insurance broker. He is a director of the Marinduque Insurance Co., Ltd., and is a member of the board of the First National Bank of Manila.

Recently the stockholders became the subject of a stockholders' association. The association, which is a club of foreign companies that have sold stocks to local investors, has a large membership. It includes several large American and foreign companies.

The association has been active in a large shipment of Carnation milk on the last relief drive. It normally handles the American Brand and Angelic Brand. The association, however, was dissolved in this emergency, and imported Carnation milk.

MILES KAUAHANE EVIDENCE IMPLICATES OFFICIALS IN FIGHT TICKET SCANDALS

BY EDWARD KOHOKOHO

A scandal in the Territorial Boxing Commission that involves up to 700 tickets for a fight and possibly even farther, has been disclosed to the Honolulu Star-Bulletin by Tommy Miles, one-time secretary of the commission and Bob Claasen, president of the commission. According to the recent court order two months ago, Miles and Kauhane, a former two-term commissioner, in which company said $500 had to be provided by a bank officer to enable them to sell tickets for a fight. The fight manager, according to another version when confronted with it in the commission office.

Another piece of the puzzle against Kauhane is the affair of 58 tickets he obtained from the commission for personal use or permission, from the monopoly held by Kauhane in the recent Peenaauwok-Dawson fight. Of these, 58 tickets, it maintains, only 10 were marked complimentary, and Kauhane's list of those to whom he sold tickets had been untrue. Miles adds.

NEW TAXI CO.

Tokiyo Arishiro, printer and car-pen-and-pencil man, has opened the ABC Cab Co., in partnership with Saburo Kobayah.""

Miles, who is the allegation, by T. K. Kihara, that his wife has been a distinct taxi for approximately 20 years. Honolulu is formerly of Kauhane's wife. He was a frequent customer of his. Miles told the Kauhane business and said that they were recording conversa. Kauhane noted, the answer against Kauhane was dismissed and Kauhane was cleared because there was "not sufficient evidence."

One of the most constructive pieces of evidence in this case is the testimony of Tommy Miles and Kauhane. In a recent court order two months ago, Miles and Kauhane, in the recent Peenaauwok-Dawson fight, had been given permission to sell tickets for a fight. These, 58 tickets, it maintains, only 10 were marked complimentary, and Kauhane's list of those to whom he sold tickets had been untrue. Miles adds.

They wanted to find out what the passenger thought of the new taxi. This was the case against Kauhane. Miles says he was found from the public that the company had been using the ABC. They could get ready to build their defense wall.

On the other hand, Kauhane does not think there is justice in any of these cases. The charges are, he believes, entirely groundless and unjustifiably so.

The Herman-Kim Fight

We went a bit early last Tuesday to be on hand to see the preliminaries before the main event, which was a return match between Herman and Kim. Both men are known for their fighting ability, and the crowd was excited about the prospect of a good fight. However, during the preliminaries, something unexpected happened. Kim knocked out his opponent, and the crowd erupted in cheers. We heard that this was the first time Kim had knocked out an opponent in a match, and the news spread quickly. As the journey continued, there was nothing like what some of the sports writers had expected. The fight was tense and exciting, but in the end, Herman emerged victorious. The semi-final event was a fight between Perry and Curoe, who had committed illegal mayhem. Both of the boxers were in excellent condition, and Perry came out on top. We saw the fight won by Perry due to his knockdowns in the opening round. For which, it is our knowing our boxing's certainly ranks higher than our playboxing.

We are not to agree with Judee Walter Cho, who claimed the winner by a score of 6 to 4. Rachke's score is very interesting and cannot figure as being too good because we are sure that there must be some other judge who does know the boxing game better than thequahk Rachke. There has been some hope coming of the judges. A referee's score is in order. Congratulations, take over!

Some Changes Needed In Boxing?

Now that Al Karsaleck is going to promote boxing along with his weekly wrestling exhibitions, both to be held at the Civic Auditorium, we are told that he is thinking in some suggestions to Mr. Karsaleck from some of the public who patronize All's secco establishment.

This as a real suggestion and we will not cost the management too much. The management is not an easy one for the management to handle. At the same time, the management is looking forward to the possibility of making some improvements in their facilities.

With reduced incomes the public would appreciate immediate lowering of the general admission price. Along with this, the management is also considering the possibility of lowering the ticket prices. The promoters should know by now that the last days of the season are near.

While the commissioners are investigating some of the problems in the capacity of the arena, there is a rumor of possible improvements being made.

Public Beach Expansion for Waikiki

The summer months bring thousands of people to Waikiki Beach. The public manages to enjoy swimming and sunbathing in spite of the overcrowding. With the presence of the Outrigger Club monopoly, the beach area should be given to the people of a public trust. The mayor feels that the public and the people living in many of the smaller hotels without the semi-private beach rights should be given an opportunity to use the beach.

A proposal submitted by the Outrigger company will result in an extension on the Beach Park beach area. This extension is on the Lagoon, which is the site of the old beach. The Outrigger company plans to enlarge this area and will once again take away a beach section so sorely needed for public use. This plan may only be achieved after many meetings and negotiations. The Outrigger Club monopoly is already adequate for the tourists and guests of the "Big Three."

The public, without a private right of way to the beach or that cannot use the outlying or other private establishments should stand behind the mayor's proposal and let it be heard.

What's With Luke Easter?

With Jackie Robinson opening the way in the majors, it was only a name same to the fans of the Pacific Coast League to break the antiquated Jim Crowlaw that had prevented many Negro ball players from getting a chance in the big leagues. The steady hitting and consistent play of Big Luke have brought a steady stream of fans and cash customers wherever the Pader played.

In spite of a bad knee, aggravated by a chopped bone, Easter has continued to play for the team. He has received many letters from thousands of friends and fans who consider Easter one of the finest hitters in the Coast League. Bad knee or not, Easter has continued to play until the team physician advised the Pader and Cleveland management to play it safe by taking him out of the lineup.

LET THE PUBLIC KNOW
It would be unjust to condemn all of the members of the governor’s emergency food committee, but it is fair to say that as a team the committee’s actions are “not in the public interest.” The membership of the two organizations has gone to the committee and demanded some allowance of space on the relief ship, since there is an acute shortage of this staple food.

The public knows that right under the eyes of the system of Tong, Go and Bailey had been brought in to make beer.

It is too much to ask that a few more tons of rice be allocated for import, in place of the smaller allowance made, and let us not forget the possibility of preserving, frozen shrimp and Clore’s.

A good substitute for the latter is manufactured here.

The food committee had been extremely solicitous of the health of the public and acceptable for emergency import, and small importers feel that this list was finally made public because of their pressure.

The food committee remained profit-sharing by certain merchants, but it has yet to come out with any set of prices for wholesale and retail distribution. The public has been protected and that is, we assume, one of the responsibilities of the committee.

For Fairy sneakers and all, especially to the small importers, lousiness of items shipped as relief cargo should be made public also, with names and addresses and places of origin.

Mr. Carney, just when the committee does not bring all pertinent information to the open, suspicion and criticism result.

Let the public know the facts. An enlightened community is level-headed.

THE NEW APPROACH
In organizing the new Hawaii Stedlers, Ltd., Samuel Wilder King tried to give the impression in his public statements that the company was walking a tight rope or straddling a fence during the present water front.

He called this the “new approach.” His expressed motive of “alleviating the sufferings of our people” was a noble idea, but the lack of fundamental soundness was all too obvious. In fact, the public can see that the company’s approach is not in the public interest.

THE DEATH IS CHERISHED
In the trend of the entire press of Hawaii, during 1989, only the Nippon Jiji stood firmly by the wage-increase argument. The two other Japanese papers, like the Advertiser, just as the Star-Bulletin, the two English papers, were opened point blank.

Among the Japanese papers of Hawaii, Mano and Kanio only Dr. Shiro Hayashida’s Honolulu newspaper bravely supported the Nippon Jiji. Most of the others did not take a definite stand. Since he was of the same Rhine heritage as St. Hilda, Koichi Yamamura’s Kairin Shimbum, published in Honolulu, opposed the wage increase and buried the most atrocious vilification at us.

As for both Honolulu English papers, not only did they support and abet the Hawaiian Sugar Planters Association from every angle but they attacked us resoundingly, daily dicing each epithet as “agitators” and “troublemakers” to the slow progress of the Nippon Jiji and the members of the Nippon.

In a problem of this kind it is natural to have “agitators,” and that is all they were in the eyes of the English papers. I thought really unpardonable.

But I think that even though it has cost us some pain, this issue of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters’ Association has been lost over to the NAACP affirmative action programs serving as witnesses in higher courts.

Often times in the past, however, courts, trying to put the constitution into force, both now and in the past, we are subjected to such social injustices as Pratts and Pali who were impotived by the same social club, or the American Jewish organizations. Despite the fact that their high sounding phrases, the Marshall Plan has been a device to maintain high profits for U.S. industries.

While selling to Western Europe—and getting rich in funds—some 425,000,000 other papers must be removed from the list of those who can be sold by the Big Business.

Basically, such arrangements can be made only with other capitalist governments, thus letting the New World and the subordinated nations of Eastern Europe. In addition, the Chinese Communist victory has the same result, and the people of other lands who are against trusts and monopolies. Some states must prove their neutrality and stand for the American nation.

Naturally, this makes the field wider than ever, as long as there are only nations opposed to dominion by the private profit, they serve as a beacon to peoples of other lands who are against trusts and monopolies. Some day this could prove the Marshall Plan’s superiority in social matters.
