Hawaiian Silent on Ike's Phys. Fitness Program

has now been two years since a student of the President's Council on Youth Fitness was "shocked" by the physical fitness study that showed Hawaii's school children were 49.3% weaker than their mainland peers in tests of minimum physical fitness.

It has been more than a year since the President's Council on Youth Fitness was "shocked." A student at the University of Hawaii, who had been doing the tests for a few months, was "shocked" by the results and decided to do something about it. He called a meeting of parents and sent out letters to the newspapers. The result was that the President's Council on Youth Fitness was "shocked" and decided to do something about it.

WHAT HAS HAWAII?

Has Hawaii changed in the past year since the study was done? Have the children done something about it? Have the parents done something about it? The President's Council on Youth Fitness is doing something about it.

Does Hawaii have a representative in the 11th congress?

Committees?

The RECORD asked all these questions in various places this week and found the answer was no. The reason is that the President's Council on Youth Fitness has been busy doing something about it. It has appointed a committee to study the problem and has begun to do something about it. Has Hawaii changed in the past year since the study was done? Have the children done something about it? Have the parents done something about it? The President's Council on Youth Fitness is doing something about it.

Haili Says Cops Beat Him; Bouncer Takes Blame

Claims Andrade Punched While Bouncer Choked

"I don't know who it was," says Joe Rose, "but they hit me and I don't know who it was." He is talking about the beating he received at the hands of police officers last night. "I was just walking down the street when they came up to me and said, 'Hey, what are you doing here? You're not supposed to be here.'" Rose is a local ex-Marine and was off-duty at the time. "I told them I was just passing through and they started hitting me. I don't know who it was," he says.

Consigues of cargoes brought in on Madison Navigation Co. ships from the Mainland are complaining that there is an unnecessary delay in the handling of the cargoes. The delay is due to the shortage of clerks in the terminal. The company is trying to hire additional clerks.

Terminal Manager John Scott of Madison Navigation Co. said recently told the clerks that the shortage of clerks in the terminal is due to the shortage of clerks in the terminal. The explanation was said to be unconvincing.

They expanded the terminal and commissioned the cargo ships to the terminal. The facility is to be built on the site of the old terminal. The new terminal will be built in the old terminal. The new terminal will be built in the old terminal.

Study Roll, Roll-off

With the contracts for the use of Honolulu harbor being awarded to Madison Navigation Co. and Oahu Railway and Land Co., the possibility of a roll-on, roll-off system is being considered. The company is concerned about the possible delay in the loading and unloading of cargo. The terminal personnel is concerned. Lift-off, lift-off, with freight consolidated and packed, is expected to be an improvement over the present system.

Ben Dillingham, vice president and general manager of OR&L, which owns the docks, informed the RECORD that the company and Madison have drafted a new agreement which must be approved by the Federal Maritime Board. He said there should be developments before the year is up, (more on page 2)
Jail Guards at Iwilei Say Grace, Too, But No Legal Protest Planned

There is now 360 percent more, so far as the RECORD could ascertain, no demand for strikes by defendants; not the saying of grace in the C-C hall, as was indicated by the heads of the guards or the police. The question was posed to top legal officials who noted that the State of Hawaii had filed a suit against a New Jersey attorney general ruled that the saying of grace before lunch in the C-C hall is an illegal activity.

Iwilei, reading the story, a former inmate of the C-C jail recalled that one of the guards always says grace there before lunch. "I don't wonder whether we, the legal- ly would be quite surprised.

The investigation of the REOORD was somewhat stylized by the fact that Proctor, George, and other Alana was sick this week and in the office at his office to an-swer questions.

C-C Attorney Norman Chang, in his review opinion, said he would not attempt to dispute the Attorney General of New Jersey, but that he has had no request for a ruling on the point.

C-C officials noted the possibility of legal action, but said that the state of inmate-inmate discussions was not open to discussion.

LONGSHOREMAN SAVES $21 ON AUTO INSURANCE WITH UIS

When auto insurance rates are rising across the country, including Hawaii, are going up and the insurance companies are taking advantage of people's need to save money, Union Insurance Superstore in the Territorial area introduces that it is holding down car-poly rate policies.

Seiko Shibami, territorial man-ager of UIS, said: "Fees are the cost of auto insurance down so auto insurance companies are more careful in their pricing." This organization's policy will mean auto insurance costs for UIS customers by as much as 20 percent lower than normal in the Territorial area.

While UIS, which operates under the UI insurance laws, is owned by two union organizations, its service is not limited to union members. The UIS staff are employed by the City of Honolulu United Public Workers 10 percent of the insurance firm.

In the auto insurance line, UIS represents Argonaut Underwriters, Pacific Surety Insurance Company, and Pacific Surety also sells fire and theft and health and general liability insurance.

A Honolulu longshoreman saved $21 a week by renewing his policy with UIS, according to Shibami.

No In-Service-Training For Students, Kunimoto Replies To Gilbert Minn

"He said he got us a new policy contract to give you all the information we want and someone ratted on him," Kimm said.

Olds, another surveyor with the C-C labor force, told the Record in an interview that he had been told he had been suspended.

Oda had said nothing about In- service training for the following students that at Olds said, and also added that he had told the same thing to Mayor Neil Blaisdel.

The Collocated to the stand was Katherine Kunimoto, who had asked inspection engineer in his first two talks with the engineer after his suspension. Kunimoto said Minn had told the story of the inspector who had asked questions on the conditions of the roads and the others who were on the crews of the inspectors.

Kunimoto was called by the courts as today, the engineer, and was present in the office when Minn talked. The engineer is a strong assistant to the engineer.

No SUCH TRAINING, Kunimoto replied in the first talk with the engineer after his suspension. Kunimoto said, and added that he had told the same thing to Mayor Neil Blaisdel.

In the sunshine climate where civil liberties flourish, un-American activities of Joe McCarthy, Eastland, Walter, Martin Dies and their like will wither away.

Their heroes—the stoogepigeons who are coaxed to tell half-truths and complete lies—can’t stand the light of exposure. For this reason they have been shielded. In a healthy climate, simmy witchhunting politics die away.

In Washington of the Cold War, where witchhunters have caused political suicides, imprisonments, deportations, trials and execution, +77 a live American, +87 is the mission of the House un-American Activities Committee.

STOOGEPIGEONS DESPISED

Americans, like people anywhere—who cherish freedom, despise stoogepigeons. There are some in this Hawaiian community, the “heroes” of the dark yesterday, who are shunned in this new climate, for they strike fear rather than encourage security among normal people with active minds.

The Washington Post, the highly influential newspaper most widely read in the national capital, has called for “disolving the (un-American Activities) Committee.” The public, informed and rejected the alternative of reforming the committee in line with standards established by the Supreme Court.

Recent Supreme Court decisions which condemned methods used by the official witchhunters boosted the move to abolish the un-American committee. The Eastland “Internal Security” Subcommittee should be dissolved, too.

COURAGEOUS PEOPLE Fought BACK

Soon the climate will improve to the point where Americans need not worry about whom they are seen with, with whom they talk, what organizations they belong to, or what books they bought and read 15 years ago.

This improving climate of American life did not come about automatically. People on the first line of attack suffered most. People, courageous people, fought back. The toll was heavy—suicides, premature deaths, imprisonment, split homes, loss of jobs,

Those who fought back, individuals and organizations, including trade unions which were red-baited and attacked time and again, created the atmosphere for the change in climate, where the Bill of Rights once again was held aloft by the Supreme Court.

By the same token, the un-American circus of Rep. Francis E. Walter (D., Pa.) recently brought revulsion among members of Congress.

"WIPE OUT THE COMMITTEE"

House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D., Tex.) had firmly ruled against hearings. Walter’s speech at the Speakers’ podium and its echoes recalled the rule. Walter was in California holding his circus when the Supreme Court ruled on cases dealing with congressional hearings. The enraged un-American junketeer was grounded, like a hawk with its wings clipped.

The Walter committee’s conduct in California caused Congressman Rey Wier (D., Minn.) to declare:

"I think I’ve got the cure for the whole controversy and that is to wipe out the committee. It assumes to be the investigator, the prosecutor and the enforcer and even takes over judicial authority in the disposition of its cases."

Russ Nixon, Washington representative of United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America, writes, "If any one place deserves credit for socking the un-American Activities Committee, it is California.

CALIFORNIA DEMOCRATS BLAST COMMITTEE

The blast committee was formed a few weeks ago and even takes over judicial authority in the disposition of its cases."

Wednesday, 30% of the tobacco market, smoker and filter tip, is put out each year. The cigarettes market is a $2 billion-a-year business, but they are expected to top all records this year.

The smoke of the cigarette industry? The magazine says filter-tip has been its salvation.

Recently it made laboratory tests of filter-tips retained the attrac- tive in eliminating towing from the air, which had been the result in the July issue and immediately a public relations firm handled up a campaign to acquaint the advertising budget of the Digest dropped the amount, saying that the magazine’s accounts as caused a "contract of interest" with its $117,000 advertising budget of the American Tobacco Co.

"BIG FOUR" BETTER

The Digest’s article explained that filter tips used today are not effective less than mouthpieces.

It is impossible, cigarettes made up by the regular-size "pig "—Camel, Lucky Strike, Chesterfield — was by far the greatest. The filter section compared the nicotine and tar content of the filter and the filter tip made by the same companies.

Two results showed that "only the smoker of a filter cigarette (regular size) who went to Marlboro gained more nicotine (76% more) and tar (177% more) in tar intake."

Those who switched from Camel to Wilson, both produce regular-size filters, were the least effective in reducing both nicotine and tar, and those that smoked cigarettes whose tips made by the same companies.

The two results showed that "the smoker of a filter cigarette (regular size) who went to Marlboro gained more nicotine (76% more) and tar (177% more) in the filter and the filter tip made by the same companies."

Those who dropped Chesterfield regular size for T. V. King, both of Liggett & Myers, inhaled 18 per cent less nicotine and 19 per cent less tar.

The laboratory tests showed that in general filter tips contained from 7 to 17 percent less tar, but the Liggett & Myers authorities claim these reductions are too small to be "effective protection," not really significant.

KINGS ARE SMALLER

"Health protection" was the key reason for 70 percent of the smokers to go to filter cigarettes. The other 30 percent were satisfied with the regular size.

By the end of this year, filters are expected to be the favorite of 75 percent of U.S. smokers.

Some argue, the Liggett says, that the filter tips contain more tobacco than the regular tips.

This is a fallacy, according to the Liggett company. There is less tobacco in the "regular-size cigarette than in the filter cigarette."

For example, Camel, for example, contains 8 percent more tobacco than a Wilson filter. The Digest says that filters retain sterile nicotine and this is why the brand is Camel, for example.

The Digest says that filters retain sterile nicotine and this is why the brand is Camel, for example.

The Digest says that filters retain sterile nicotine and this is why the brand is Camel, for example. In the Digest’s test, for example, Camels produced a filter that retained 55 percent of the tar. But "the filter tip was too good. It is not only filter out a lot of tar but most of the tobacco taste as well."

"HEAVIER TOBACCO"

This experience caused Kent to reexamine its filter tip. In January, the company introduced a filter, to put on the market, which filters more than any other cigarette on the market.

Kent has had in 1952 mixed com- positions, which were being made with high-quality tobacco, which cons. Kent, in January, put on the market a filter-tipped cigarette, made from a combination of tobacco leaves with high-quality leaves that are being used in government contracts for the war effort. The filter is made under the price-support program.

Fred Royster, president of the British Tobacco Co., which has a congressional committee that was 1953 some tobacco companies have been using filter-tipped cigarettes.

"USING INFERIOR GRADERS"

He said, that, in general, known in the industry that filter-tipped tobacco is being used in filter-tipped cigarettes.

Japanese Jeeps Replace Donkeys

In Kona; 10 Now on Trial

With the recent importation of Japanese jeeps into the Territory, the United States government is now in a position to compete with U.S. and foreign built vehicles.

Ten Toyota Land Cruisers were brought in from Japan for use by Kona and by other areas.

In recent years, Kona coffee growers have imported coffee trees to grow coffee in the Mauna Kea region, and the Japanese hold the land. In addition to Japanese, Japanese companies that own coffee lands have been replaced by Japanese companies that own coffee lands.

The experiment with Japanese jeeps shows promise, others will be brought in, reports say.

A recent visitor to Japan informed this writer that Japanese companies have not had the same difficulties with coffee production that Japanese companies have.

Japan is exporting its jeep products to the United States, and the number of jeeps was 70,000 in 1955. The 1956 production was 100,000 jeeps.

The small industry is concentrated on truck manufacture. Last year’s total was divided into 10,000 jeeps for use in the United States and 8,000 for use in Japan.

Of this number, only 3,000 were exported to the United States. The markets are Southeast Asia, Middle and Near East, and Central and South America.

Japan’s gain of 10 percent of Japanese companies that make and sell the vehicles was 600,000 in 1957. If this figure is taken as the basis for the Japanese companies that make and sell the vehicles, the production would climb to about 180,000 this year.

Bobo vs. Rademaker Jr.

Will Pete Rademaker, the Gifford Amateur, compete with Floyd Patterson, the lightweight champ Aug. 22, be the next opponent for Bobo? Patterson's manager, Art宏观, said he was not going to let Bobo "emerge triumphant," as Announcer Harry Balogh put it, from his battle with Patterson. Few will argue much about Rademaker's chances.

But there's more than just a celebration behind the question. From recent developments comes the news that Rademaker was considered an opponent for Bobo to start the letter's comeback many months ago. Patterson's manager, Frank Torbert, said the match could be held between Aug. 22 and some other time on a vacation to be determined.

A number of questions would seem to be in order. First, since Patterson is not the only one that needs an opponent, it is obvious that the match will not take place on Aug. 22. Second, many questions about bookings and what will be needed to meet a set on the commission's

Tuskegee Negroes

Boycott White Stores for Votes

Tuskegee, quiet little Alabama in the southeast corner of the state, has been voted to be the 1956's Negro league champions by the Negro Baseball League. The championship was the result of a boycott of white stores, a tradition that has been part of the league's history for many years.

The boycott was initiated in 1954 when the Tuskegee team refused to play against the all-white Birmingham Barons. The Barons were the champions of the 1953 season, and the boycott was in response to their refusal to play against the Tuskegee team. The boycott continued for the next two seasons, and in 1956 the Tuskegee team emerged as the champions after winning the championship game.

The boycott was based on the belief that the league should be integrated and that all teams should play against each other. The boycott was successful in that it led to the integration of the league and the end of segregation in baseball. The boycott was also successful in that it helped to bring attention to the issues of discrimination and inequality that were facing African Americans at the time.

The boycott was a significant event in the history of the Negro Baseball League and in the fight for civil rights. It helped to bring attention to the issues of discrimination and inequality that were facing African Americans, and it helped to pave the way for the integration of baseball and other aspects of society.

Ike's Physical Fitness Program: Virtually Unknown in Hawaii

In the years since the end of World War II, the U.S. government has implemented numerous physical fitness programs to promote health and well-being. The Ike's Physical Fitness Program is one such program, and it has been widely promoted and implemented across the country. However, in Hawaii, the program is virtually unknown.

The Ike's Physical Fitness Program is named after President Dwight D. Eisenhower, who was an advocate of physical fitness and health. The program was first implemented in 1954, and it has been ongoing since then. The program's goal is to promote physical fitness and health among all Americans, and it includes a variety of activities and programs, such as physical education in schools, exercise programs for adults, and fitness classes.

Despite its widespread implementation elsewhere, the Ike's Physical Fitness Program is virtually unknown in Hawaii. In fact, there is no evidence of the program being implemented in the state. This is despite the fact that Hawaii is a state with a strong emphasis on health and fitness, and that the state government has implemented numerous programs to promote health and well-being.

There are a few possible reasons for the lack of awareness of the Ike's Physical Fitness Program in Hawaii. One possibility is that the program has not been adequately promoted in the state. Another possibility is that the program has not been implemented due to financial constraints or other factors. It is also possible that the program has been implemented in Hawaii, but the lack of awareness is due to a lack of public awareness or a lack of marketing efforts.

Regardless of the reasons, it is clear that the Ike's Physical Fitness Program is virtually unknown in Hawaii. This is a significant issue, as the program has the potential to improve the health and well-being of residents of Hawaii. It is important that the state government and other stakeholders work to raise awareness and implementation of the program in the state.
"POLICE ACCUSED OF BRUTALITY" is the headline on Sunday's Advertiser, in-inch-and-a-half lettering. FMIU Use to cry out against the REDFORD for its "Communist tac-" of breaking the law and order by calling attention to alleged instances of police brutality? Since probably as many police officers were killed Sunday as read this paper in many towns (and we can't afford two or three栏目 of this sort) FMIU will have to say about "police brutality" in the future. We're glad that the Advertiser has come out for statehood, FMIU should have joined in the fight for it.

WHEN the Hungarians rose in revolt last year, this weekly along with all the rest of the American press was on the front lines of the war, and the ringing sound of which the rising was put down. The US has just completed a thor-ough study of the causes and course of the Hungarian revolt, conducted by the US-Austrian and Sovieg governments, and this will be published in long-term reports in the near future. The opinion of 35,000 to 36,000 Hunga-rians were killed in the fighting of 1945.

Now, just to keep perspective, let's quote from a history of France 1945-1955 by Alexander Werth. "The French fun was that a fighting Frenchman was as thick as a bull in a Chinese restaurant. And about another revolt. In 1947: "At the end of March, serious riots broke out in Madagascar. Some of these riots some 200 French peo-ple were killed. The riots were carried out by the (under-standable) anger and panic of the peasants over the government's attempt to introduce a new tax on the country's copra. Whole country was wiped out. A report of 30,000 men, woman and child are on the one hand, and the other."

This is just out of four and a half million Malagasy. This is a French colony. And France kept detailed news of the situation and the mass of the French press. But many of the French papers knew about the uprising at the time. This is a case of how a power struggle can be made to look like a revolution, but the French government is not be-tween the peasants and the capital. The French government is on the side of the French people.

The STRANGE CASE of whether or not a woman can spend her money the way she likes it and behind the masques of its own press; not to mention the American press. Probably not a single reader of the Brooklyn papers knew about the uprising at the time. But there were no riots in the US or the Soviet Union, not be-tween the peasants and the capital. The American government is on the side of the American people.

In Hawaii almost nobody has been told that Hawaii has a number of excellent programs for helping your young grow up strong and healthy. But that happened long before the President was born around this time. The National Commission on Child Health of America, the President's commission, is the leader in this work.

The Governor of Hawaii, the President's representative, is the most powerful in the country. The Senate is the people's representa-tive.

Fruit of Witchhunting Is Profits for General Electric

The ILWU in Hawaii has been the target of attack by the anti-Communist organizations and their counterparts in the United States. The union had planned to go to Hawaii to investigate and negotiate with the employers. The 1948 longshoremen strike was fought for almost a year by the union. When it came the union was the big target.

The Smith Act arrests took place when ILWU organizers were negotiating their contract with the employers.

The Eastland Senate Internal Security Committee hearings were held at Iolani Palace last year for a few months before the 1969 legislation passed.

Certain Republicans and the alliances were emphasizing that the ILWU had been a strong factor in the Democratic victory in the election, and apparently they were trying to isolate the union. They were all for the hearings.

MAINLAND OPERATION

The manner in which the same union solidarity committees have operated in the mainland was described by UII News correspondent. The committee in Hawaii, United Electrical Radio and Machine Workers of America (UE) (said):

"In the great strike battle at GE in Schenectady, the committee's efforts to mobilize the workers, workers in the country to go back to work movement. The same committee did its best to stop this year's strike in Chicago.

"And they did it in 1963. This and other similar committees maintained in the Unions strikers in Dayton, Seger-Sunbeam in Evanston, Buena, Erie, Square D, and many others.

More Petty Gouging By City Hall?

First the City Fathers legalized parking meters in 1937, which required meter owners to pay the City $6 per year for the privilege of parking along the streets paid for by the public.

Next, they legalized the extension of operation of these meters during Christman Novay season into the night. Recently, they legalized the operation of these meters into Saturday afternoons.

Now they have asked that a new proposal be written into an ordinance—that car owners who have no garages and who park on streets where two hours of five cents per hour for the privilege of parking along the streets paid for by the public.

None of this is supposed to be for revenue purposes. It is all only for the purpose of relieving "traffic congestion." Yet it has cost the public thousands of dollars and hundreds, perhaps thousands more in tickets for over-parked cars issued by police and in municipal parking lots.

Recently, the Democrats passed their new tax bill over the veto of the Governor and that bill includes a hike in real property tax calculated to take care of C-C government expenses. Yet here is the C-C government back again with petty gouging.

This kind of gouging is certainly the sort that nits most of the residents of Honolulu. Car ownership here certainly does not indicate wealth. Despite the low per capita income in Honolulu, the rising feng shui of the Honolulu Rapid Transit Co. carefully to ride the week-night and public utilities commissions of past and present, have forced many people who would prefer not to give their own cars as actual economy measures.

So the City Fathers may think they have a sort of "captive group" they can charge whatever parking and meter fees they like. But they will do well to look over the pro-organizing machine of the A.N.P. in Alaska, and if they will do well to make sure any streets where night-parking is sold is sold or rented for any price are really "congested."

Entirely apart from the difficulties of executing any such rental proposal (and these are fairly numerous), the City Fathers better consider that sooner or later the people are going to get tired of this incessant petty gouging. There is one day two years when they show how just these really are.

That is election day.

Firms Violating Food, Drug Act

Make Corrections

Thirty-nine seizure actions were taken by the Food and Drug Administration.

A total of 282,000 pounds of unfit food were seized under court order, 96 percent of the foods were made of foods falsely labeled and 84 of the products seized were substances hazardous to public health.

The administration in its report, the food and drug industries for voluntary measures to assure safety and purity of foods and drugs. The inspectors found violations of sanitation conditions, 71 business firms voluntarily improved their sanitary conditions, thus relieving the FDA from taking legal action.

Assessed Value of Oahu Real Estate

More than Doubled

"The assessed value of all Oahu real estate—land plus improvements, including Federal, territorial, and county—has more than doubled since the last reassessment in 1940. The average value assessed by the county in 1940 was $1,096, and in 1945 it was $1,545.

In the forty-two census tracts into which Oahu has been divided, the average assessed value per acre has increased from $330 in 1940 to $700 in 1945. The average for all tracts increased from $350 in 1940 to $700 in 1945.

The tract bounded by Nuuanu Avenue, Beretania Street, Pauahi Street, and Kapahulu Avenue was reassessed at $1,600 in 1945, compared to $800 in 1940.

In 1935 the assessed value of all real estate was $19,000,000. This was increased by 1945 to $24,000,000.

The increase has come not only from the growth of the city but also from the expansion of the agricultural areas. In 1935 the assessed value of the agricultural land was $5,000,000. In 1945 it was $9,000,000.

So the tax structure has come to support the growth of the city, but it has also contributed to the growth of the city.

Manpower Waste

"Today the nation is in the midst of a serious shortage of manpower—of teachers, of doctors, of nurses, of health and social workers, and of engineers. The shortage affects one in every five persons who are expected to enter the labor force in the next five years. The shortage of manpower is one of the most serious problems facing the nation today."

"This shortage is caused by the defeat of the Japanese and the ending of the war. The war has caused a great deal of damage to our economy, and the shortage of manpower is one of the results of the war."

"The shortage of manpower is causing many problems for the nation. The nation is unable to produce enough food and clothing, and the nation is unable to produce enough cars and trucks and planes. The shortage of manpower is causing many problems for the nation."
Ike's Words and Deeds

Time and time again during the 1956 presidential campaign, Pres. Eisenhower pledged himself to support Federal school aid in states for school construction.

This same man has again gone along with the National Association of Manufacturers and the U.S. Chamber of Commerce that have openly and vigorously fought school aid measures.

Conservative Republicans and Democrats have again taken the cue from Eisenhower—as they did in defeating the President's own civil rights bill—and have defeated the school aid bill.

The influential Washington Post, which as a member of Congress, diplomatic corps and government official reads in the nation's capital, was sharply critical of the President's spineless posture which amounted to hypocrisy.

The Post declared:

"President Eisenhower and some of his party's leaders on Capitol Hill, lamentably, played no small part in facilitating the sabotage of school aid. By his vacillation, inexcuse and concentration on trivial aspects of the legislation, the President encouraged defeat of a measure that differed only in degree from the measure he pieced together over and over to support during the campaign.

"The consequence of this recorded indifference to public education will be felt not only by the children deprived of decent education throughout the whole country. Who can call this a 'victory'?

"Drew Pearson in his column declared, "The fact that the school bill lost by only five votes indicates how little push it would have taken from the White House to pass it."

"The White House did not push the bill. During this disgraceful dereflection of duty the President was not only guilty of omission in fulfilling his pledge to the American people but of commission of sabotaging the school aid bill.

The President's behavior even shocked his own cabinet member for not only did he fail to get on the phone to call key members of Congress to help pass the bill, but he bawled out the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, Marion B. Froson, for having presented the wrong bill. And certain the President would throw his influence behind the schools and aid to get it passed.

The country decrying juvenile delinquency, poor schooling and lack of students in scientific studies, the President did a tremendous disservice.

Education is a necessity and it should be encouraged from this view, to develop a happier, more prosperous and informed people. But the only argument that seems to work is to pinch the boys in winning aid for general well being of the people is to mention Soviet advances.

This Drew Pearson did in his column. The information he gave was not new to many who have mentioned and reported it before, only to be told that it was Soviet propaganda.

Pearson wrote that under the Cesar 75 percent of the Russian people were illiterate, and today every citizen of the Soviet Union can read and write.

He also reported, "New, modern schooling majority of Democratic Party clubs in the entire State as developed at their recent convention.

)The California State Bar, representing the lawyers of California, earlier this year rebelled and protested the behavior of the Walter committee to the House leadership. Its statement said:

"In the opinion of the board of governors the proceededings of the committee and the conduct of the committee's counsel... were improper and lack in the dignity and impartiality which should govern the conduct of agencies of the United States."

FRUIT IS RÆPENING

The entire text of the Bar Association protest was inserted into the Congressional Record by Rep. James Roveevelt (D, Calif) who announced that he planned to introduce a bill to abolish the unAmerican activities committee and to transfer its asserted legislative functions to the House Judiciary Committee.

UBEE Nixon commented further, "Behind all these good developments, especially in California, is the excellent and courageous work of the American Civil Liberties Union in California, in addition to the Los Angeles Committees for the Protection of American Freedoms headed by Rev. Heist and Frank Wilkins. When the going was tough, these civil liberties supporters fought the witchhunters relentlessly. Now the truth or their fight has come.

The days of the official witchhunters are far from over. The Walters and Eastlands are still active. They will seek ways to keep operating. Public opinion which created the climate for a return to American justice must be more enlightened and the democratic-minded must double efforts to junk the unAmerican committee and Eastland's 'Internal Security' subcommittee.

Dollars Mightier than Words

BY KOHI ARIYOSHI

Reader's Digest with 11,004,410 U.S. circulation is the largest in the English language. It is sold and distributed in several countries, including in this country where in this issue for article on cigarette smoking.

Apparently the Reader's Digest made American Tobacco a public enemy number one. It said American Tobacco contained less tobacco than the regular-size brands. It also said tobacco companies were using cheaper-grade tobacco, and tobacco waste formerly discarded is now being ground up and used in cigarettes.

LUCKY OVER HIT PARADE

To induce the cancer-minded public to continue smoking, tobacco companies have printed over the filter-tipped American Tobacco. Tobacco is pushing its $2.50 and $4.50 a pound "No Filter" cigarettes which has a 15 percent more tar and 33 percent nicotine than Lucky Strike, the popular regular cigarette which is two cents cheaper per pack.

We don't know what else American Tobacco Co. did to Reader's Digest, but it seems apparent this is the magazine where it thought it would be hurt most severely.

Tobacco is sold by a lot of hawking publicity and national advertising which spent $7 million in 1956 to promote Lucky Strike and Hit Parade.

Reader's Digest spends big promotion money, too. The famous 1948 hit Parade巡航 the tobacco company's $17 million budget.

It also handled for 10 years, until 1958, the Digest advertising account which 1956 budget was $1,500,000.

Two weeks ago, after the Digest published its article on filter-tipped American Tobacco, Burstin & Osborn informed the magazine it had its advertising account by the Holstein agency. Burstin & Osborn claimed that a "conflict of interest" had developed with the $17 million American Tobacco account.

Dailies Regimented

We have often held the light over the dailies to show how frightened they are, how frightened they can be, and how regimented they are.

In the dailies when the dollar sign on the one hand is equated with humanity and general welfare, and the dollar sign on the other side is consistently tilted heavily for dollar or profit motive.

Profit keeps the "free press" regimented. It makes the dailies and the bigger ones that they can not buy the dailies main line was never more glaring on the local scene than when boulevard wire pickets the Star-Mail or Hearst papers. The New York Times pressed hard for the money and material support behind the b Zoe-packing women came from men of dollar-influence, the But Five management.

In the days that followed, big display advertising diminished from the Star-Mail and editors with the advertising rates climb upward.

KOWTOV TO ADVERTISERS

If you are a person who reads the dailies carefully, you see in every edition instances of a regimented dailies that either the dailies either praise a big advertiser's product or, if, of course, of opposition with a competitor product. Sometimes they are forced to publish adverse news about a big advertiser's account. They are forced to publish a new pro of a competitor's product. Sometimes the advertisers buy the news in the back pages, under a small headline.

Now the local dailies almost never publish the monthly news releases from the Federal Pure Food and Drug Act by manufacturers and distributors. It is known that many of these have been found to contain insect and rodent food, and tons of the products have been seized. These papers have dramatized stories with less human interest, but they purposefully blackout the news because it hurts their current or potential advertisers. The public be damned is the attitude, for an informed public is more discerning about what they buy and eat.
