Hart Fires Hoopii For Competition; Bouslog Has Case

"Insubordination" in the official language of the Honolulu Electric Light Co., has a number of meanings. In a letter to Pontal Hoopii, 15-year employee of the C-C refuse disposal division (Standing and Sitting), Hart accused Hoopii of "insubordination" last week, but Hoopii says his case is simply an attempt to increase his garbage worker is competing with the C-C department. In his off-hours. In the letter, Hart informed Hoopii that he is suspended and dismissed.

"He says the department is losing money when the C-C Hoopii, but I can prove that's true," says the refusing worker. "I feel the city by working for a private firm during my spare time."

Hart, having addressed the question of whether there is no objection to his working during his off-hours. He says he is willing to sign an appeal of his case to the Civil Service Commission. He will file his appeal to Bouslog.

Hart's Decision

Hart's decision to have Bouslog handle his case is a step in the right direction. Bouslog is well known for his fairness and objectivity. His decision to appeal to the Civil Service Commission is a wise one, as it will ensure that the rights of all employees are protected.

Shuffleboard War Inspires Rosy Promises to Bar Owners

Barroom shuffleboard, the latest innovation on pin-ball machines, appears to be the game that is bringing a lot of golden eggs for its promoters. And in typical fashion, the promoters are going to the people's best to dive in and get a hunk of the action. At the moment, promotions are starting the proprietors of every "spade" providing free services to send out their own"spades" to get the public involved.

At the moment, promotions are starting the proprietors of every "spade" providing free services to send out their own"spades" to get the public involved. The promotions just can't believe there's a producer who can't be had by some offer or other.

Big Four of Games

The manager of a Manhattan Ave, Bar, though he has set up promotions firmly that he doesn't want any sort of advertisement, nevertheless got the following offers:

- Mayo Coffee, which has installed many of the machines, offered him the usual 25 per cent of the machine's "take.

- Shuffleboard Games made the same offer and.88-doesn't believe it. that it is the only well-known distributor of shuffleboard games in the Territory and that others are "illegal."

- Luminous Neon Signs offered the bar one cent plus an offer to keep the bar's best players in reserve.

- Music Services offered the bar 60 cents plus free service to the bar's record-player.

Still the manager refused so he, one of the four came back to offer a straight $50 rental for the space the game would occupy if the manager would allow it in his establishment.

"I wouldn't," said the manager, "because I'd have to move more tables out and it makes the bar too noisy. Our customers wouldn't like that noise."

Customers are a lot of other games don't like the noise, but the establishment seems to like it.

If the no-notice order is carried out, any weighers around the office of E. K. Fernandez, the Hawaii Governor, will have the job of weighing the powder. Indeed, "even get stuck for the full amount," says the press. Fernandez has already put the Aquadiva. News of the loss first reached the worker-unions employed employees Tuesday when the loss was confirmed by the United Press. They were told that the Aquadiva is only liable for half the loss, or $13,000. They have to pay the rest out of their own pockets.

The man who has co-promoted the show with the Aquadiva, E. K. Fernan- dez, was quoted as saying the RKO said, but its sister, Betty, had little encouragement for the new show. She was in- clined to place the blame on the non-organization.

"It was up to the government employer to sell tickets," she said, and they did it. What's the matter with that committee that it wasn't the ticket sale?"

Philippines Austerity

While it is not uncommon for legislatures in many countries and places to debate, argue and vote on taxes they haven't read, the height of the U.S. Congress may be achieved by the Philippines congress recently when it voted to extend the 1948-49 budget.

In the New Budget, which is an exact repeat of the 1948-49 budget for the vice president is provided. There is now a vice president. But the regular congress and the Office of Special Prosecutors, abolished last year, is appropriately restored.

While the Quito government is constantly hamstringing “austerity” to economize on spending, the budget includes appropriations for offices that never functioned.

The new-functioning Philippine session in Paris was given 119,750 pesos; the Philippine session in the former Chiang Kai-shek capital, at $18,000 pesos annually, although every congressman knows that there is no office there now. The Philippine consulate in Shanghai received 71,000 pesos, although this office is also nonexistent. The war crimes office, no longer functioning, got 71,000 pesos. About a million and a half pesos were appropriated for salaries of officers that never functioned or are out of existence.

While the 1948-49 budget appropriated a million pesos for the purchase of furniture and equipment, including “the acquisition of a library, office and buildings,” the new budget repeats these appropriations. Some are for the non-functioning sessions in Paris or the non-existent Foreign Service. For the new offices, this budget would buy new sets of furniture.

The Philippines budget is a mess and the president’s question was how to straighten it out.

The 1948-49 budget was first extended by President Quirino when the old congress failed to pass a new budget. The old congress had its hands so full trying to avert the acute fiscal crisis from the senate presidency and putting in Senator Cenizo to keep the new congress intact. The two made up after the last November elections.

The Supreme Court of the Philippines ruled the executive order void and called a special session of days last December 30 when a new budget was passed in record time.

In a courtroom in Budapest, Hungary, an American businessman, Robert E. Vogeler, last week pleaded guilty to espionage activities for the U.S. Army intelligence, and asked for “a mild sentence.

Two western correspondents—one for the Columbus Dispatch and the New York Times, and another for the Manchester Guardian—covered the trial, besides resident correspondents who filed news for agencies like UP.

On the other hand, there were stories of other American servicemen. He answered: "I have never told anything whatever to other American underlings, like the directors of Standard Oil, with whom I talked over the policy of our company.

He took the court the job with the FBI was actually a cover for my espionage work.

National Summary

A mild slap in the face. What hurt the GOP more was this: While the Republicans had been forced to hand over 20 per cent of its chairmen as ad interim, the Senate tasked committee of inquiry around the floor by saying each guest contributed $1,000 to the party and was given complimentary tickets to the series. This, they argued, the affair was exempt from all taxes, including the 2 per cent District sales tax on meals over $3.60.

The President last week was ostensibly “not the mild-mannered, smiling man picturesque in newspapers with a strong penchant for all kinds of hats.” A day after he had said he was volunteered to a national police conference that he never used his prerogative as chief executive to run through red traffic lights. But the Truman police made the trip from Blair House to the Armory where the dinner took place, encountered 26 traffic lights and ran through every red light.

The police escort overruled the traffic lights while motorists squirmed.

Peace Talk

In England, Winston Churchill, early advocate of the cold war, was blasting at the international strategy of the western powers and foreign news analysts in Washington wrote:

"WINSTON CHURCHILL suggested that another top-level attempt be made for the first time in the history of the British cabinet.

With the die-hard Conservative talking rapprochement with Russia, the AP writer said: "Abhin, Devin, Truman and the American department have received quick and quick in an effort to clarify Secretary Acheson's recent statement, which was originally interpreted as meaning negotiation with Russia is not under consideration.

President Truman, who earlier this month said he "doesn't feel a chance of getting a seat at the table and snubbed a glowing note on the United States and Eastern Europe, including Standard Oil, had instructed native en- couraged the talks. He said all this, that his boss, President Benes of Czechoslovakia, had made a trip to Budapest when he also gave evidence of an inquest and colleague peace."

The judge asked Vogeler how he knew about activities of other American firms. He answered: "I have never told anything whatever to other American underlings, like the directors of Standard Oil, with whom I talked over the policy of our company."

He took the court the job with the FBI was actually a cover for my espionage work.

Two western correspondents—one for the Columbus Dispatch and another for the Manchester Guardian—covered the trial, besides resident correspondents who filed news for agencies like UP.

In the all talk on peace, the most relevant was the fact that Churchill was still promoting the "deep-seated desire for peace."

Navy Stoolpigeon Oath

Defense Secretary Louis Johnson received a letter last week from Americans for Democratic Action, asking the scrapping of the stoolpigeon oath now used by the navy.

The ADA ACTION followed the denunciation by Harvard University professor hitting the stoolpigeon system employed among Harvard students taking naval reserve training courses. The new oath is to encourage the student to "take the high road," that they attended meetings of organizations labeled "subversive," by the attorney general, and to let names of others—they quoted them.
CIO Executive Board Ousts 3: 4th Union Official Walks Out

WASHINGTON (FP) — Membership rolls of the CIO clipped by more than 300,000 in line with the ouster of three union officials as an execu-

The three ousted unions were the United Furniture Workers, the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers and the Paint, Tobacco, Agricultural and Allied Workers.

As the executive board actions have been described as too lenient, there was little doubt that the ousters would set off a wave of jurisdictional strife similar to the one that has swept the jurisdiction of the International Union of Electrical Workers.

Official Defies Free Speech Ban

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — The Philippine government announced today that it has received a letter from the U.S. government, concerned over the refusal of the Philippine government to allow a film to be shown at a public screening. The U.S. government has expressed its concern over the free speech ban that prohibits the showing of the film in the Philippines. However, the Philippine government has stated that the ban is necessary to protect national security.

REMARKABLE GOVERNOR

It took Governor Ingvar M. Stainback a very long time to focus his attention on the unemployment question. And when the Territory’s plight caught his interest, to what extent no one can guess. But he was one of the most enterprising and efficient men in the Territory. He left Washington where he had come to try for his reappointment.

The people of Hawaii who have not heard the governor mention the unemployment question picked up their ears two weeks ago when one of the daily papers began playing up the news that he was working on a program of employment, in the national capital. This was sweet music to the ears of the unemployed, who have watched the governor in their waiting lines in the Palace grounds, walk every noon hour toward Merchant St., according to some of them, to check on the erratic behavior of the stock market.

Among unemployed the governor has earned the name of “Chase the Red Stainback,” since in both sessions of the legislature he emphasized this, as the number one task and did not mention the critical unemployment situation. When he made a trip to the Pacific coast and gave a speech, his theme was the same.

But our governor has now seen that unemployment must be tackled. So he proposes to send home 15,000 Filipinos workers from Guam in order that 15,000 from Hawaii can grab those jobs.

This is wonderful thinking, remarkable indeed! Who would have thought our governor of Hawaii could come up with such a proposal?

How would we feel if the governor of California, Oregon or Georgia proposed to the Interior Department to deport aliens from Hawaii—Portuguese, Filipinos and others who are restricted from citizenship—to create openings in Hawaii for their own unemployed?

Our parents also, like the Filipinos on Guam, came here under permanent contracts, helped develop the land and became rooted to this land.

The politically-minded governor obviously has not mentioned repatriating Filipinos in Hawaii because they, in large part, are represented by the militant ILWU, which, to his dismay, fights for rights.

The proposal of unemploying 15,000 on Guam who are not equitably paid according to our standards, should be blasted from hell to breakfast, until the ears of the governor are pinned back. He should hear from the Filipino community here, from the Philippine consulates and the Philippine government.

There is unemployment and economic crisis in the Philippines, too, worse than that which we find here. Furthermore, the governor’s remarkable thinking has brought out the fact that the Filipinos who have lived in independence and valiantly resisted the Japanese during the war are last to be hired and first to be fired, or are easy to sack when times get tough.

Well, how can we demonstrate to the Asian and Pacific peoples that the American way is the way of life for them!”

wine by concealing the gallows in boright sacks slung over our shoulders.

One month our neighbor paid the police in Kona who in turn paid off the county police officer in Hilo. This was protection not only from the local police but also from federal agents also. Thus the moonshiners, who were our neighbor, sold the police, were always tipped off when federal agents were on their way to Kona.

Whenever the police came through, we sent everybody out to help. We helped our neighbors find their lost children, and we searched for the lost children of others also. We never paid for our efforts. In fact, we were always paid for our efforts. And the police were always tipped off when federal agents were on their way to Kona.

This situation continued until the police finally caught us and arrested us. We were all sentenced to a year in prison. We were all given one year in prison. We were all given one year in prison.

Looking Backward

Violators of the 8th Amendment

The old Lezau reefer house at Walkie these days brings a dream, looks like royalty in its odiums, sharp glances into other envy and odious offences into those of still others. Those were popular during the prohibition days, not for the hot pot but for the so-called dignitaries who clicked and swapped illegal drugs, and enjoyed in addition, the fact that they were breaking the law.

Somehow, those get their surprise aids. One oldtimer said recently: "Mr. Tishka had a big-shot barkeepers these days. New months, says you hear reports that some club dealers partake of the commodity, but they don't tell their secret, for they fear to go in other words, not for the hot pot but for the so-called dignitaries who clicked and swapped illegal drugs, and enjoyed in addition, the fact that they were breaking the law.
