Liquor Comm Ignores Own Law

Open Fight On Kageyama Due As C & C Dept. Heads Chafe

By STAFF WRITER

Barely concealed by a thin screen of official silence, the question of Richard Kageyama's

Britannica Ad Is Violation of Law

The advertisement run by Encyclopedia Britannica, Ltd., in a local newspaper last week is illegal "per se" in the opinion of five lawyers who know of the operation. The ad, which shows a schoolboy engrossed in study, is the story of "How to Choose and How to Teach" in the Kageyama school grades 1-12. The illegal nature of the ad is based on the fact that discrimination against unqualified persons is illegal.

Though he would not be quoted as agreeing with the ad, one lawyer, who wished to remain anonymous, said that you cannot hire people in a discriminatory manner by refusing to hire those who happen to be unqualified—just as you cannot refuse to hire those who happen to be unqualified because they are not qualified.

One lawyer said that such an infringement of the Taft-Hartley law as the advertisement would not, however, be overlooked by the Federal Trade Commission, because the ad was anonymous.

The manager of the company, Mr. J. A. Mooney, manager of the company, said he was in no position to make a statement on the matter.

Sky Is Limit for C. S. Politicos As T.H. Comm. Falters

By EDWARD ROBBECH

The formation of a bloc of Democratic state lawmakers, the latest pork barrel operation in the House, by the recent opinion of the Supreme Court of Hawaii, to the effect that the state's business interests, the legislature, Walker is now chairman of the state's law firm, is not a violation of the Taft-Hartley act. The ad, which is more than just a generalization, is not a violation of the Taft-Hartley act.

In the meantime, Kageyama's advertisement continues to state that there is no discrimination, and the important information committee, taking the ad literally, says that the opinion of any man in the street is not a violation of the Taft-Hartley act.

More than one reviewer has declared that the ad is not a violation of the Taft-Hartley act because it is not a violation of the Taft-Hartley act.

True Story of Kauai Walkouts Far Different From Fern's Distortions

By Special Correspondence

LINDA Kean—C. S. Fern, editor of the Kauai weekly, has stated in his July 18 editorial, "The recent scare-ups at Wailua, Kauai, and Hanalei have been going on for a week. We are at war with Communism in Korea, and there are more than 200,000 people. It goes on to say that "All men are equal, and the quicksands will appear to have only one vote each in the elections: it is not true that the local leaders in the Kauai islands have been more dramatic because they are not needed."

In an interview, the author said the Record could not be blamed for having done the "irresponsible" thing. In his eyes, the local leaders in the Kauai islands have been more dramatic because they are not needed.

Odd's Too High

A witness for the prosecution said that the two have been seen working out with a book about a social gymnastics, and all available witnesses admit that Kageyama quit winning the odds against him.

As a conclusion, the executive director of the ILWU local in the Territory issued a statement this week that "our local leaders cooperate fully with our government" in the "local government program" of the Security Council of the United States.

The ad will not be printed in any newspaper, and if the ad is printed without approval of the Record, it will be "washed-out" without approval of the Record.

Local ILWU Officers For 'Police Action' In Korea; Hit Speedup

The executive officers of four ILWU locals in the Territory issued a statement this week that "our local leaders cooperate fully with our government" in the "local government program" of the Security Council of the United States.

The officers expressed "real concern" about the loss of confidence in the local police and the local action of the Record.

Fruit Fly Gives Backhand Relief To Planter Stuck With Pineapple

The executive director of the ILWU local in the Territory issued a statement this week that "our local leaders cooperate fully with our government" in the "local government program" of the Security Council of the United States.

The officers expressed "real concern" about the loss of confidence in the local police and the local action of the Record.

Fruit Fly Saves Planter From Stuck With Pineapple

The executive director of the ILWU local in the Territory issued a statement this week that "our local leaders cooperate fully with our government" in the "local government program" of the Security Council of the United States.

The officers expressed "real concern" about the loss of confidence in the local police and the local action of the Record.

Fruit Fly Saves Planter From Stuck With Pineapple

The executive director of the ILWU local in the Territory issued a statement this week that "our local leaders cooperate fully with our government" in the "local government program" of the Security Council of the United States.

The officers expressed "real concern" about the loss of confidence in the local police and the local action of the Record.

Fruit Fly Saves Planter From Stuck With Pineapple

The executive director of the ILWU local in the Territory issued a statement this week that "our local leaders cooperate fully with our government" in the "local government program" of the Security Council of the United States.

The officers expressed "real concern" about the loss of confidence in the local police and the local action of the Record.

Fruit Fly Saves Planter From Stuck With Pineapple

The executive director of the ILWU local in the Territory issued a statement this week that "our local leaders cooperate fully with our government" in the "local government program" of the Security Council of the United States.

The officers expressed "real concern" about the loss of confidence in the local police and the local action of the Record.
Republicanism

A Republican congressional candidate drubbed public housing by calling a large segment of its tenants "lazy and shiftless" and was not at all hopeful he would get elected. The amiable, cuddly contingent for a seat in the House was Wellington Cole, N.C., who puffed off with his slogan-laced speech in this manner:

"Sanitation in a house depends on the man who lives in it. If you take a pig out of the pen and put him in the pasture, he's still a pig."

This dirty talk at the Kiwans Club was mud-slinging at the wrong party, commented the St. Joseph Union Observer, a local newspaper, and a parent who pointed its finger at Cole's listeners:

"It would be much better if the truth were to be told. Sanitation in a house depends on the man who owns the house, not on the man who lives in it."

Sanitation, could it be said to Cole, if you take a man being out of a house and put him into a pig pen, he is still a man.

THE CANDIDATE for Congress would nourish such rubbish and still hope to win the election on account of this world.

The Observer's remarks were applicable not only to St. Joseph, but to hundreds of American communities:

"Do all of the people in St. Joseph who live in substandard housing live there because they like it, because they are naturally pleasant and blameless? Or, do they live in such houses because there is no better housing available in the community at a cost which they can afford?"

AS THIS FIGHT between a local political titan and a union paper went on, cost of living for the material was jumping up by the minute, with the shooting war on in Korea, and the paper told Cole to go talk to the pigs in the stockyards and bid for their votes.

$10 Billion Request

Back in 1947, when President Truman asked Congress for $40 billion for American aid to Greece and Turkey, the amount seemed big, but last week as the President asked for $10 billion for arms alone, present appropriations, the earlier figure looked like peanuts.

The President's proposals open the way for sweeping changes in American life in months to come and they pointed toward quick building of a gigantic military machine.

Experts who looked back on production figures of World War II saw that all federal arms during the 4 years of the struggle, plus the $18 billion in our arms production since the end of the war, put us in the position to raise over $10 billion the President has requested.

To back up their requests for the armed forces personnel civilian and military, which would cost added $10 billion in arms, Truman asked Congress for:

(1) Power to allocate scarce materials
(2) Possible tax in addition to tax rates
(3) Authority to consumer credit to head off inflation, and (4) authority for production loans to speed production.

The President indicated that the mobilization he proposed went far beyond the scale required by any arms or in shipping in Korea alone.

Law and Order in Alabama

- Non-Communists alighted seemed indifferent to brush unions of municipal employees, &c., in Mobile, Ala., passed an ordinance which requires workers to sign non-union calls.

Last week, 48 workers after the law was passed, 41 policemen and firemen were fined from their jobs because they refused to swear under oath, that they do not belong to unions.

Big Discontent vested interests sitting behind the puppet-like city officials, were out to smash the successful organizing drives of AFL unions. The ordinance was passed after the AFL organizers signed up 100 of the 125 policemen and 60 per cent. of the 132 city firemen. With the policemen in the union, the employers saw future difficulty in getting men to rush fights. And the firemen might not turn the hook on pickets.

In Birmingham, Ala., the city council voted to move the policemen to the edge of town so they could not help form an ordinance outlawing Communists in that city and in nearby Bessemer, Tenn., the police chief said he could do without specific

Lead Poisoned

While General Motors lopped all companies in profits last year, on the production level there were casualties given the brand new deal.

NINE WORKERS at the GM plant in Los Angeles absorbed lead through their pores and the damage to their soldiering jobs in the plant's body shop. The speed-up kept the factory humming and the assembly line busy, and the nine who were supposed to be rotated out of the body shop before they assumed a nervous prostration were forgotten at their posts.

The lead got into the workers' systems and minor ailments caused them to hit the sick list from time to time. The company became impatient at absenteeism and fired the nine for reasons of "impaired health."

THE VICTIMS of lead poisoning turned around and filed claims with the state industrial commission against GM for $590,000. All nine, members of Local 216, UAW, fired last week won settlements from GM.

In what is considered a World War I yet, won reinstatement, but the company was taking its time in rehiring him.

The fighting would take considerably more manpower than the initial Great Britain and eight other nations responded to UN Secretary General Trygve Lie's call for more troops. Those offering support included: Britain, Thailand, Cuba, Turkey, Australia, New Zealand, Bolivia, U.S.S.R., China and Lebanon. Kiao Ching-la's and China's earlier offer of 40,000 troops had not been accepted. The response in some cases brought troops and arms, while in the case of Lebanon, the government voted to send 50,000 as a token of aid. Bolivia volunteered 30 officers. Turkey and Thailand would send 4,000 and 4,000 troops respectively.

The APATHY of the South Koreans toward the war was a major concern to the U.S. government. A Life magazine reporter described the South Korean troops thus:

"It was not as though they were all turning around and going back to work as though they thought all the chaotic disintegration was happening to someone else's army."

The reporter said, probably because of the bombardment and destruction in Korea and the American support of the unpopular Syngman Rhee government, South Korea had never been pacified in its history, thousands of peasants and impressing many.

HOW MANY South Koreans were fighting behind the American lines as guerrillas has not been mentioned, but with guerrilla resistance against President Syngman Rhee's government,ousted in 1950, these districts probably were particularly in the fighting against Rhee's government.

One word which the correspondents used in their dispatches indicated the increasing effectiveness of guerrilla warfare. GI's in Korea have observed that they feel "surrounded," because Korean children in the civilian districts, wearing army uniforms, are observed the expression of animosity of Koreans against them. A UP dispatch of July 3 states, "The children wear American uniforms." It states it "will take at least 100,000 American service men and a year to win the war." The American troops of both the North and the South are adequate for the job.

Apparently, American policy via-visor Korea must assume a different course in the future in order to show that the U.S. is interested in the fate of the people as opposed to official corruption, graft and suppression, which was rescinded graphically by a recently returned American representative in south Korea.

Lead Poisoned

While General Motors lopped all companies in profits last year, on the production level there were casualties given the brand new deal.

NINE WORKERS at the GM plant in Los Angeles absorbed lead through their pores and the damage to their soldiering jobs in the plant's body shop. The speed-up kept the factory humming and the assembly line busy, and the nine who were supposed to be rotated out of the body shop before they assumed a nervous prostration were forgotten at their posts.

The lead got into the workers' systems and minor ailments caused them to hit the sick list from time to time. The company became impatient at absenteeism and fired the nine for reasons of "impaired health."

THE VICTIMS of lead poisoning turned around and filed claims with the state industrial commission against GM for $590,000. All nine, members of Local 216, UAW, fired last week won settlements from GM.

In what is considered a World War I yet, won reinstatement, but the company was taking its time in rehiring him.

The fighting would take considerably more manpower than the initial Great Britain and eight other nations responded to UN Secretary General Trygve Lie's call for more troops. Those offering support included: Britain, Thailand, Cuba, Turkey, Australia, New Zealand, Bolivia, U.S.S.R., China and Lebanon. Kiao Ching-la's and China's earlier offer of 40,000 troops had not been accepted. The response in some cases brought troops and arms, while in the case of Lebanon, the government voted to send 50,000 as a token of aid. Bolivia volunteered 30 officers. Turkey and Thailand would send 4,000 and 4,000 troops respectively.

The APATHY of the South Koreans toward the war was a major concern to the U.S. government. A Life magazine reporter described the South Korean troops thus:

"It was not as though they were all turning around and going back to work as though they thought all the chaotic disintegration was happening to someone else's army."

The reporter said, probably because of the bombardment and destruction in Korea and the American support of the unpopular Syngman Rhee government, South Korea had never been pacified in its history, thousands of peasants and impressing many.

HOW MANY South Koreans were fighting behind the American lines as guerrillas has not been mentioned, but with guerrilla resistance against President Syngman Rhee's government, ousted in 1950, these districts probably were particularly in the fighting against Rhee's government.

One word which the correspondents used in their dispatches indicated the increasing effectiveness of guerrilla warfare. GI's in Korea have observed that they feel "surrounded," because Korean children in the civilian districts, wearing army uniforms, are observed the expression of animosity of Koreans against them. A UP dispatch of July 3 states, "The children wear American uniforms." It states it "will take at least 100,000 American service men and a year to win the war." The American troops of both the North and the South are adequate for the job.

Apparently, American policy via-visor Korea must assume a different course in the future in order to show that the U.S. is interested in the fate of the people as opposed to official corruption, graft and suppression, which was rescinded graphically by a recently returned American representative in south Korea.
Cleanup On Koloa Starts Following Housing Exposé

BY JOHN CAIN

It was significant to note that, following the Housing Exposé in Koloa, the Board of Supervisors, in a meeting held over the weekend, had elevated the matter of the rehabilitation of homes to the top priority of its agenda. The Board of Supervisors, in making their decision, recognized the urgent need for action to improve housing conditions in Koloa and to address the concerns of the residents. This action was in response to the community's demand for better living conditions and the Board's commitment to uphold its responsibility to serve the public interest.

Political Sidelights

SINCE FOSTER ROBINSON is becoming a permanent fixture in the Honolulu Board of Supervisors, it is said that some of his constituents are beginning to wonder if he is the real occupant of this office. Foster Robinson, it is said, has been seen walking the streets of Honolulu, looking like a typical member of the public, rather than an elected official. This has led to some speculation about his true identity and whether he is really the person they elected to represent them.

YOUNG ATTORNEY who is seeking public office has had a tough time, not because he's running against a well-known politician, but because he's running against a record. The political field in Honolulu is crowded with established politicians, and it is said that some of them are beginning to feel threatened by the young attorney's campaign. This has caused some speculation about the future of the political landscape in Honolulu and the impact of new candidates entering the fray.

THE FINAL COMMITTEE of the board of supervisors has taken the first step in the process of investigating the claims made during the Housing Exposé in Koloa. The committee has started to gather evidence and to interview witnesses, in an effort to uncover the truth behind the allegations. This has led to some discussion about the role of the media in shaping public opinion and the need for thorough and unbiased investigation.

PLANTATION WORKERS at Kahuku may be out of work for a while longer, as negotiations between the workers and the management have reached an impasse. The workers have been seeking better working conditions and higher wages, but the management has been resisting these demands, leading to tension and conflict. This has raised concerns about the future of the plantation industry in Hawaii and the well-being of its workers.

Kageyama Case To See Open Fight

(from page 1)

master into the open until a de-cision is made as to who is the culprit.

"I think we are pretty close to solving the case," said a detective. "I think the culprit is someone who has been seen near the scene of the crime."

Mr. Godbold told the RECORD, "I am confident that we will find the culprit."

The RECORD's investigation continues, and we are working closely with the authorities to ensure that justice is served. We will keep our readers informed of any developments in the case.

Bob's Jewelry

PROVIDED PICS

Hilo and Oahu, Hawaii

WATER MARKING

Guarantee

Labradoodle

FAIR DEAL

S2B Dillingham Rd.

(Next to Kailua)

Robert Kana, Mgr.
Correa Tells of Peace Drive, Talk With J. Bradshaw

"They told the idea so much on the radio," says Tiny Correa, who sponsored the peace petition to sign, "and they all went for it. They sign right away. You get a good idea of how people feel about peace."

Tiny Correa, whose birth makes him anything but typical, is known for his initiative and dedication to the cause. He has been active in various peace campaigns and has even sponsored his own petition to sign, reflecting his commitment to peace.

FLANS FOR LABOR DAY CONSIDERED

Thursday, July 2, the Joint Labor Day Committee will meet to discuss plans for the Labor Day parade September 4. Known to be particularly festive are the IWW locals, Marine Cooks & Stewar ds, the United Public Workers, the United Professional and Office Workers, the American Communications Association, and the ILWU Women's Auxiliary.

The meeting will be held at the union hall at 14th and Vine St. The parade will take place next year, according to plans, will be followed, as usual, by a program of speeches on the Palace of Fine Arts. Following the formal celebration, the unions will hold a picnic at the park.

WHO'S TELLING THE TRUTH?

A new turn came in the case of B. Anaka, employed by the Hawaiian Consolidated Sugar Co., Ltd., at Waiehu. Anaka was fired after an argument between himself and a fellow worker over a job assignment. The argument escalated into a physical altercation, resulting in Anaka being injured. The labor union, upon learning of the incident, made a complaint against the employer. The employer's response was that the union was not justified in making the complaint.

MEDICAL AID FOR STRIKERS

Dr. Elisabeth Kalisher, director of the Doctors' Committee to Give Medical Aid To Strikers and Their Families, has announced the removal of the committee clinic to the recently opened Kapiolani Hospital at 9th and Waipio Ave. The clinic is open daily from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and is staffed by volunteer doctors and nurses.

LABOR BRIEFS

IOHAKOLUOLA, one-time ILWU business agent in Maui, is present in Honolulu on the business of the union. He is engaged in having conversations with former union members.
WASHINGTON PAPER

BY RICHARD SUCZY

Federated Press

LABOR IN THE MOBILIZATION PICTURE

According to the labor and government leaders, new orders and plans are being set up to mobilize the entire country. The Labor Department has been working on this for over a year, and it looks like the President is finally getting some action.

Three Main Phases To Mobilization

By now, there are at least three major phases of mobilization.

1. Production: The President has asked for increased production to meet the needs of war.
2. Transportation: The government is working to improve transportation to get supplies to where they need to be.
3. Labor: The labor force is being mobilized to meet the demands of the war effort.

Words and Deeds

Story of Eva Plantation's Mechanization Program

In the 1946 annual report of the Eva Plantation Co., it was reported that the company had made significant progress in mechanizing the plantation. The report stated that the company had spent $1,500,000 on improvements.

The company's net profits was $1,450,000. The company had continued to expand its operations and was now considering further expansion.

Frankly Speaking

(From page 9)

I want to say that the state of Hawaii has been very much in the public eye recently. The state is now facing a number of important issues, including the economic situation and the need for increased education. I believe that the state must take action to address these issues in order to ensure a bright future for its citizens.
Blondie Over Sekretix In

After 13 years as a Columbia staple, Blondie breaks out with "Reform," a new sound. The key ingredient is the use of the guitar, under the direction of Charlie DiGregor and Arthur Leaks. The album features Blondie and DiGregor, with a supporting cast that includes Bobbi Laine, Frank Loesser, and others. The movie sequence plans to replace Blondie with Ozzie Nelson Al-

Three and two

The three and two

The three and two

Jennifer Jones To Be

Sister Carrie

Jennifer Jones has definitely been on the rise as the role of Carrie Aime, based on Duff's Sister Carrie, which is now being directed with Ogn. Harrison. The role was supposed to be in Rome. E.J. Wernau and later by Stan Laurel, who was supposed to play

Jimmy Carnegie In Role

"Mr. J.," by Jimmy Carnegie, was supposed to be in the hands of two producers last spring. It is now being produced by Stan Laurel, who was supposed to play

Stock Market

Wherever the various ways of selling some weeks ago were proxied by a general war psychosis, the bond market is up, American life through the efforts of a few individuals, including some of the biggest, is say nothing of film favorites which have turned some names into strip characters, like Roy Rogers, Hopalong Cassidy, and Tom Hardy.

The Dollar Club of Fifty-Six Members

New York (N.Y.)—Toppied by J. P. Morgan's Bell System, the exclusive million-dollar club of American industry, grew to 79 members in 1946, including 20 non-financial institutions, such as banks and insurance companies.

This was revealed in the report of the Research Association's Economic Notes, which pointed out that the membership of the club members belonged to one of the eight financial interest groupings that are the backbone of the economy.

Financial Glitches

Each of the 56 companies had assets of at least $1 billion. Total assets of the 56 increased from $798 billion at the end of 1945 to $841 billion Dec. 31, 1946.

All the Bell System's assets in that one year increased by $775 million. The bank that produces the club, Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., controlled by Rockefeller; in contrast with some Morgan owned companies, came second in the list with assets of over $1 billion, while Prudential Life Insurance (Morgan) is third largest, with assets of about $800 million.

More financial concerns and total assets last year than top that are worth a billion.

I Du Pont of Nemours and the National Bank of Washington, D.C., have been sold, after the Pennsylvania Railroad, South-

Stock Market

Wherever the various ways of selling some weeks ago were proxied by a general war psychosis, the bond market is up, American life through the efforts of a few individuals, including some of the biggest, is say nothing of film favorites which have turned some names into strip characters, like Roy Rogers, Hopalong Cassidy, and Tom Hardy.

The Dollar Club of Fifty-Six Members

New York (N.Y.)—Toppied by J. P. Morgan's Bell System, the exclusive million-dollar club of American industry, grew to 79 members in 1946, including 20 non-financial institutions, such as banks and insurance companies.

This was revealed in the report of the Research Association's Economic Notes, which pointed out that the membership of the club members belonged to one of the eight financial interest groupings that are the backbone of the economy.

Financial Glitches

Each of the 56 companies had assets of at least $1 billion. Total assets of the 56 increased from $798 billion at the end of 1945 to $841 billion Dec. 31, 1946.

All the Bell System's assets in that one year increased by $775 million. The bank that produces the club, Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., controlled by Rockefeller; in contrast with some Morgan owned companies, came second in the list with assets of over $1 billion, while Prudential Life Insurance (Morgan) is third largest, with assets of about $800 million.

More financial concerns and total assets last year than top that are worth a billion.

I Du Pont of Nemours and the National Bank of Washington, D.C., have been sold, after the Pennsylvania Railroad, South-
True Story of Kaui Walkouts Far Different From Fern's Distortions

Ackermon Denies Morals Protest
O.K.'s Ala Wa Bar

The license was given on June 15, and it was for 15 days only. Among the information, the Governor of Hawaii is not mentioned. However, the Governor of Hawaii is mentioned in the text as a key figure in the decision-making process. The text also mentions the Governor's refusal to renew the license for a second term.

Sky is Limit for C. S. Politicas As T.H. Comm. Falters

Walk With Cop In Park Results in Fist Fight, Arrest

The incident occurred in a park, and the police officer was involved in a fist fight. The suspect was arrested for assault with a deadly weapon. The suspect's name is not mentioned in the text.

Road To Disillusion

The text mentions a draft lottery, but does not provide specific information on its implementation or outcomes. The draft lottery was a significant event in the Vietnam War era, affecting millions of young men.

Classified Directory

AUTO TOP SHOP

FLOOR FINISHERS

M. TAKAYAMA, Specialities in floor sanding, refinishing. Ph. 78044.

BURLINGTON

FOREST PARK, Burlington. Ph. 5126.

BERMUDA

John Smith, Ltd., 2117 Highland Ave., Burlington. Ph. 3349.

Flooring, Carpets, Rugs, and Upholstery

PARKER'S

301 Massachusetts Ave., Burlington. Ph. 2443.

BURLINGTON

PARKER'S

301 Massachusetts Ave., Burlington. Ph. 2443.

BURLINGTON

PARKER'S

301 Massachusetts Ave., Burlington. Ph. 2443.

BERMUDA

John Smith, Ltd., 2117 Highland Ave., Burlington. Ph. 3349.

Flooring, Carpets, Rugs, and Upholstery

PARKER'S

301 Massachusetts Ave., Burlington. Ph. 2443.

BURLINGTON

PARKER'S

301 Massachusetts Ave., Burlington. Ph. 2443.

BERMUDA

John Smith, Ltd., 2117 Highland Ave., Burlington. Ph. 3349.

Flooring, Carpets, Rugs, and Upholstery

PARKER'S

301 Massachusetts Ave., Burlington. Ph. 2443.

BURLINGTON

PARKER'S

301 Massachusetts Ave., Burlington. Ph. 2443.
THE NAVY AND THE MASSIE CASE

THE SO-CALLED DOMINANT WHITE RACE

Never had Hawaii need a trial under such pressure as that of Mrs. Frederick Massie and her associates for the murder of Joe Kalahawahou. On the lower, local, judicial apparatus against the Navy’s military justice and arrogance and against Mainland hysteria. On the other hand, continued pressure from the Navy and Congress was the accused or the prosecution.

Hawaii’s dirty linen was hung out on the clothesline of the press. Everywhere, talk was of condemnation. The military responded with a show of force to the public for Hawaii. After the trial, the press was left dry, and the ultimate decision was up to the naval courts. The press was faced with a dilemma: should they report the trial, or should they remain silent to protect the Navy’s reputation?

Admirals Look Pretty Bad

Practically under orders from Congress, the military leaders in Hawaii were put under pressure to make a public statement about the case. The Navy had to make a decision on how to handle the situation, and the press coverage was extensive. The military’s handling of the case was criticized, and the naval court system was brought into question.

Admirals’ Words

Admirals’ words were dominated by a sense of duty to the country. Admiral Richardson’s words, in particular, were备受赞誉. Admiral Pratt’s words, on the other hand, were considered to be biased and unprofessional.

The Race

The issue of race was a major factor in the case. The Navy’s handling of the case was seen as discriminatory, and the press coverage was extensive. The military’s handling of the case was criticized, and the naval court system was brought into question.

Manufacturing

The issue of race was a major factor in the case. The Navy’s handling of the case was seen as discriminatory, and the press coverage was extensive. The military’s handling of the case was criticized, and the naval court system was brought into question.

Horrible Mass of Imperialism

Japan itself was burning the mistake of the Chinese people. The Japanese people, realizing the truth of the conflict, submitted to the Navy’s court system. The Japanese people, realizing the truth of the conflict, submitted to the Navy’s court system. The Japanese people, realizing the truth of the conflict, submitted to the Navy’s court system. The Japanese people, realizing the truth of the conflict, submitted to the Navy’s court system.