Rice's HAC Maneuvers Put Peyton Harrison On Hot Spot

Peyton Harrison, executive director of the Hawaii Aeronautics Commission, is being held by territorial observers as the person most likely to take the top job for the huge, unauthorised expenditures at the Kahului airport, now admitted by the commission to total $87,000. Mr. Harrison has the responsibility, it is pointed out, of handling large departmental expenditures, and those who have followed recent HAC hearings say William Neilen, Kahului airport manager, has been inclined to close names among his possession or proper vouchers, requirements, etc.

As soon as commissioners have made a report and again open in open hearings, the Kahului airport situation will be discussed. The Kahului expenditures are Commission Harold W. Rice. That be is, Mr. Harrison may have had little choice, from a political viewpoint, in ignoring the opening the billings at Kahului.

From Kalama this week, the RECORD learned that Mr. Rice was also a strong supporter of Mr. Harrison when the retired rear admiral, now serving as Gov. Fillmore's naval attaché, sought the director's job.

Mr. Harrison made a quick trip to Maui, the story goes, following his return from Washing- ton where he had accompanied President. Shortly afterward, Rice was campaigning for Harrison as director.

"Commission members were not to believe," says an HAC source. "that the governor wanted Harr-ision for the job."

Statehouse Surprised

When the commission thereafter voted for the appointment of Mr. Harrison, no one was more surprised than the commissioners, or the statewide public.

"It wasn't that he opposed the appointment," says an informed source (more on page 24).

Recent Ruling On Burns' Job Is At Odds With First

Back when there was much political activity among those who would be appointed Oahu County controller, and former Senator W.K. Kaona of the O.C. attorney's office wrote an opinion to the effect that the position should come under civil service.

The opinion was requested by OC Attorney Wifred Goldblatt.

The opinion created a certain hubbub among those who had not been appointed chairman of the Democratic county commission, was concerned among applicants for the position.

Mr. Goldblatt at the time that such political activity would be impossible for last discussion.

But Burns lost the job and no objection was voiced against his political activity, so he has continued as Democratic county chairman.

But now, in December, Acting OC Attorney attended another opinion, object to the smear tactics used by those who opposed his appointment for his present position. Who Mr. Burns made no statement, the RECORD has learned from authoritative sources that the state is still working efforts to secure copies of the letters, which are sent to Washington. He is reported to have made arrangements with one of the recent official visitors from Washington to have copies of the allegedly libelous letters sent him.

In one of the letters, report has been made, it is written Mr. Burns' name with that of another man, also a native of the Big E-

"Glory To God In The Highest, and On Earth, Peace, Goodwill Toward Men"

By WILLIE CROZIER

We are going to celebrate the birthday of the King of Peace. There is no more important issue for mankind today than universal peace, a pre-condition for mankind to live in peace, to live and let live.

So the principles of Christ's teachings are still found and important; meaning "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth, peace goodwill toward men."

Now what does this mean? To me it is a simple world of mankind. I find the following quotation at one point that points out a condition where we, as professed Christians, have failed in practic ing the doctrines of Jesus Christ. The West has lost Christ; that is why it is dying. The East is looking for Christ; that is why it is so revot

"Loyalty" Ad Against Rizal Day Ires Filipino Community; Gets Hot Replies

Ray Salcedo and Antonio La- matad, owners of a bus, and a car and a pair shop on Punahou St., told the RECORD that their shop sent out the advertisement, published in a daily last Friday, which "has been sent to the C. D. Olm- sted, acting Philippines consul general for more...

The advertisement, over the name, "Filipiano Citizen's League," advised naturalised Americans or anyone expatriation: "If you are a true American, do not make a mockery of your American citizenship by being active in the commission of the American Day."

The advertisement, in contradic tion to the "Filipiano" signers quoted Theodore Roosevelt as follows: ""There can be no divided allegiance here. Any man who says that he is an American, but something else also is, is not an American at all."

Many Hit Back

Since its publication, the advertisement is one of the few strong criti cism from a number of persons, notably L. A. Salcedo, D. Sagram of the police department, who is chairman of the sheriff's departmen and a patriot who has led a parade a celebration of Rizal Day. Dec. 31.

L. Sagram wrote: "Should the cumeenese community be criticized by Americans or condemned because they observe Double Ten Day, The Italians, Garibaldi Day? The Irish, St. Patrick's Day?"

My Thoughts:

For Which I Stand Indicted

In the crowded room, we were standing in counterpoint to the air conditioning's roar.

But as an assistant camp administrator, I heard a few of us:

"What the hell, you're all behind barbed wire. It doesn't make any sense."

This person was a tall, husky lawyer who was known to the population as being able to talk out any argument in a second. He and I had been friends for a long time.

"No, but that this might result if labor battles became a reality through lack of cooperation on our part."

It was true. We had been working as migratory laborers, transported from one farm to another, without adequate protection, and exploited as farm laborers in California. We were working long hours under unsanitary conditions.

"And if we are mistreated or abused, would we be brought back here?" I asked.

"Yes, I'm afraid so," the administrator said.

He told me not to worry, that the ground had been prepared for the next day's drive, and that we would be joining, the cause is still in full swing.

Procedures That Robbed People of Rights

This kind of behavior by O-110s prevented during the Palmer raids, and it still is a tactic of the FBI, particularly during periods of repression. Often done, it gets repeated by emboldened agents, said a former FBI agent who worked for a short time in the area, is a trick of the trade. FBI agents, who are the national authorities, rob people of their land and properties—sometimes in government custody or in exile. It is a step not far removed to put 7,800 people in a government building behind bars.

"This is a very dangerous generalization, " said a former FBI agent who worked for the agency in 1930.

The Japanese in 1929 and 1930, the Justice Department revealed that it has a program to put 21,005 people behind bars or in concentration camps—people who are not yet in court for their defense and are still there for their ideas.

Same Kind of Repressive Behavior

A party, the acting assistant attorney general, said that the 1,810 individuals "who are or have been members of the Communist Party and similar organizations, or who appear to have sympathy with the activities of the party to which they belong, or with Russian interests...

...A sweeping and dangerous generalization, no difference in the classification of 1930 and 1929. TheJapanese in 1929 and 1930, the Justice Department revealed that it has a program to put 21,005 people behind bars or in concentration camps—people who are not yet in court for their defense and are still there for their ideas.

Many People Were Unequal

The too lenient and moderate of long periods of evasions were rarely if ever uncovered. This forced removal of the majority of the residents from Terminal Island. They were fishing people, and the aliens had come from Wakayama in Japan, which is the native home of most of the immigrant fishermen on the West Coast and in Hawaii. Because Terminal Island was classed as strategic, the people of Japanese ancestry were given 30 days to evacuate the area not too long after the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor. But one day the government issued an emergency order for them to clear out of their homes within 24 hours. Chaos ensued, with families being forced to sell their possessions for almost nothing, and the government, following a previous pattern, took the land and Japanese, drastic measures. This was done as an act of war, and it was a violation of the constitutional rights of the people in their faces.

On September 29, 1931, the Los Angeles Times reported: "A new court order has been issued against the Japanese in the Los Angeles area, in 1931." The Japanese in 1929 and 1930, the Justice Department revealed that it has a program to put 21,005 people behind bars or in concentration camps—people who are not yet in court for their defense and are still there for their ideas.

The Threat of Being Mobilized Into Labor Battalions

One day a labor battalion for the Anadarko Sugar Co. of Idaho came to Manzanar, looking for several hundred laborers to work in their fields. I told the people to stay away, that they were being used as a ploy to disrupt the government and there was a good reason for this attitude. So many promises had been broken.

Because of the poor response, a boil-in-both Committee was started at the camp and the military police were called in specifically to urge volunteers to go to the black mouth of the river.

Kauai—A chicken keha dinner on Nov. 19, prepared by the Grove Farm and Lihue unit, and the election of officers for 1952, brought to a formal close the active year for Local 21 of the ILWU Women's Auxiliary.

Mrs. Valdez Tells Of Mainland Trip

KOLOA, Kauai—Members of Unit 4 of ILWU Women's Auxiliary, Local 21, met to reorganize for their efforts in helping send Mrs. Catalina Valdez as the local's representative to the San Francisco convention when Mrs. Valdez arrived on Nov. 31. Mrs. Valdez reported that although she was an Islander and had met only a very few of the delegates to the convention, she felt at home among them because they all were working as sisters for a common goal—advancement or use union movement. The togetherness of sisterhood with the delegates, regardless of space or background, Mrs. Valdez said, was a wonderful experience.

Unit 4 officers for the coming year are: President, Mrs. Margarete Berron; vice president, Mrs. Sophie Lora; secretary, Mrs. Susie Kunimura; treasurer, Mrs. Kinue Kagayama; marshal, Mrs. Mary Kukunis; reporter, Mrs. Mano Kunimura; trustees, Mrs. Miharu Takamatsu and Mrs. D. Drowning.

Dannog Shows Fallacy Of Plantation Reason For Segregated Camps

HANAPPEE, Kauai — Mariano Dannog has, in his own way, dealt a strong blow against the old and established practice of plantations to segregate workers of different nationalities and pit them one against the other. He has shown that immigrant workers speaking different languages can live and enjoy life as the best of neighbors.

The language barrier is one of the reasons given by various plantations for housing workers of different national origins in separate camps, and this, Mr. Dannog has needlessly exposed as unwarrented.

When he came to Hawaii as a sugar worker in 1916, Mr. Dannog, 30 years before plantation workers organized themselves into a union that now unites people of various nationalities, he was assured by McNary Sugar Co. to live in Camp Seven, Eleele, where he still resides today.

Camp Seven was then a solidly Japanese camp and he was alone among Japanese, a rare arrangement in segregated workers' camps. He scolded himself for

THE FACTS OF LIFE

By MARTY SOLOW

“Who’s telling the truth?” the New York Daily News asks as it quotes the following statements:

From Maj. Gen. Willoughby’s recent article in Cosmopolitan Magazine: “There was a marked secrecy... to assure Gen. MacArthur... after the alleged ‘surprise’ of the North Korean invasion on June 25. The entire South Korean army had been alerted for weeks and was in position along the 38th parallel.”

Good question!

BEHIND THE HEADLINES

Newspapers recently front-page stories to the effect that the U. S. per capita income was at an all-time high. True, but reports made to the Joint congressional economic committee reveal that there are 105 million families saluting us monthly of $2,000 a year and less. That’s about 60 million people.

Air Force Uses Fresh Coffee for Sweeping
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pacific headquarters for the 1st U.S. Army Air Forces personnel stationed in Hawaii announced today that the Army has begun using fresh coffee for sweeping operations.

The committee reported that the present price of coffee, was too high to use and would not be utilized as sweeping equipment for the floor.

In a study of extravagance at six air bases, the committee reported that there was some over-stocking of coffee, spice and sauce and some other items in several dining halls. On hand in one mess hall at Carswell Air Force base were 10,000 cans of 51/2 oz of coffee, 450 pounds of ground coffee, 50 pounds of sugar and 400 pounds of ground coffee. The 10-day supply of ground coffee on hand, regular beans of coffee consumed three times a week.

The average cost of 100 cents paid for 200 pounds of ground coffee, which cost 67 cents per pound at present prices, was too old to use and would be utilized as sweeping equipment for the floor.

The committee recommended that although present dining equipment is in excellent condition, it is being replaced by upholstered chairs and diners' tables. The investigators found new dormitories are virtually "hotel style" and that "there are still too many able-bodied men filling chair corps jobs."

Average hours in durable manufacturing varied between 4:30 a.m. and 5:30 a.m. during the first half of 1951, but hours in non-durable manufacturing declined from 4:30 a.m. to 5:00 a.m. during June.

Misuses of Religion

By REV. STEPHEN H. FRITCHMAN

Let me begin today by saying in all seriousness that the present revival of interest in religion frightens me dreadfully. Christianity has often been accused of being a religion of those who have nothing else to believe in, and that is much too true of the present revival. A visit to almost any of the large towns in this country will show how little attention is being paid to the genuine teachings of Jesus Christ. The churches are empty and the pulpits are silent. The people are turning away from God, and the result will be a great national calamity.

Not Alone In These Fears

Unless all that I have learned over the past forty years is wrong, terribly wrong, we are seeing a blight, a disease, and a feverish revival of religion that can lead to a shattering revolution in the home, and ultimately in society. It is a disease that has been spreading for many years and is now reaching a critical stage. I am not alone in these fears. Religion is being used today as a means to unworthy ends, especially to confirm religious dogmas.

We Are In Grave Danger

The past hundred years have been years of astonishing and accelerated advancement in scientific knowledge, both philosophical and medical. Yet during these years much religion has turned its eyes backward and spurred the new advances. Christian Science, Scientology, Unification, and other sects with scores of thousands of adherents defy the doc-

Constitution which would read "This nation devotedly recognizes the authority and law of Jesus Christ, Saviour and ruler of nations through whom are bestowed the blessings of Almighty God." Thus would our present Congress seek to make the Christian Church grow strong in all its ramifications, until the whole world is right as George Washington's sage and simple declaration: "The government of the United States is not in any sense founded on the Christian religion." The labor of Jefferson and Madison are not the target of those bitterly hostile to religious freedom.

The Same Congress Which . . .

Let me point out that legislation of religious conventionalism cannot be divided in a vacuum. It must be remembered that the same Congress which seeks to profess religion so loudly and to broaden the borders of its garments and enlarge its privileges and repeal its prayers from the debates and abort its arms before all mankind is the same legislative body which even the most conservative newspapers are calling the "give-away Congress." We have seen how easily oil turned the Statesmanship of those days into the States and private enterprise. We have just witnessed a 13 day struggle in which the administration's give-away of atomic energy production to private hands, with all the evils and dangers and dangers in history for the surrender of the people's collective wealth. The Smith Act, the McCarran Act, the Taft-Hartley Act were written by church-going Congressmen.

At the same time as the Atomic Energy debate went on in Congress, the Subversive Activities Control Board has declared it to be a prominent Episcopalian Clergyman from Brooklyn, New York, inquiring into his social and political opinions with excessive zeal. It wanted to know all about the Reverend Dr. William Howard Melish, which he thought it possible for a man to be both a Christian and a Communist. He answered, of course, that under certain conditions it was entirely possible to be both. After this, he said this opinion of Dr. Melish was treated as something little short of lunacy or treason. Yet Dr. Melish could have said, as Dr. Joseph Fletcher, another Episcopalian minister, did say a week later, to some of this Parliament's greatest and most respected religious leaders have made precisely the same judgment. The greatest living Protestant theologian in Europe, Dr. Karl Barth, made the statement several years ago. Archbishop William Temple of London said the same thing shortly before his death. I am happy to say that Dr. John Howard Lathrop, our Unitarian minister in Brooklyn, wrote to the Angel and had published, his confirmation of Dr. Melish's statement. He said what is commonplace to any informed person, that there are hundreds of thousands of Christian Communities in the world today in India, in China, in Poland and Yugoslavia and elsewhere, Catholic and Protestant alike. Dr. Joseph Hromac of Czecho-Slovakia has made this fact transparently clear to the World Council of Protestants, at its recent meeting in Switzerland at inter-gessional gatherings. While probably very few American Christians are Communist, it is important to see the reason for the public examination of Dr. Melish. It is the leading question. We ministers are clearly aware of such happenings—of an Oxnam, or a Melish or a McMichael—that we should never question the inseparability of Christianity and our prevaing capitalist way of life. If we read Mr. Temple or Karl Barth in years past we are now to forget their words. We are to see them as barely forgivable ecclesiastical naïveté.

Want Docile Clergy in Pulpit

Those Congressmen, public relations experts and industrialists who are concentrating on a purge of organized religion today, in the name of orthodoxy and loyalty to free enterprise concepts, know full well that such public exhibitions, and their coverage in the press and on the air, will tend to make for a more docile clergy in the pulpit the following Sunday. These men know that there has not been in fifty years a church leadership of such professionalism, and also critical, of a great deal in our institutional life. They know that the social, religious, and political leaders of the nation, for the raising of law, will always in our social fabric for the good of the nation for the good of all. They know also that the campaigns against conscription, the campaigns for UNesco, the campaigns against colonialism and preventive war are often supported by church people, a minority to be sure in any single denomination, but enough to be in the majority "minding their own business" as good Christians, so we are told, should be.

The present drive by our Congressmen and some of our business leaders to regiment religion is a tribute, inverted, to the very theorized, that it may be. I am saying today that it is a misuse of religion to make Christianity compulsory and, of course, that is the hallmark of the free and sound mind which can be trusted not to get out of line, who will periodically come before the various Committees on Television and activities and ask for a license to exist, and be given a bill of health signed and certified that no independent thought has taken place.

---

---

A Tide Proves Stronger

I believe there are a lot of us ministers who are troubled about the effort to make the church into a common harlot for sale to the highest bidder. Dr. Robert McCracken, the great New York preacher, spoke of this desire of some of us to have to be just as they are. It is little to do with the way they run their business, or pick their lives partner or the way they treat decisions on political issues. Their aim in life is a complete domination of the world . . . to impose their politic, to get on, to maintain a moderate life in comfort at 65 or earlier. They have no difference in reconciling these aims with church membership. But they would have great dif-

iculty reconciling them with the principles of Jesus Christ.

---

It is just this sort of thing being said in a respectable minority of pulpits week after week, that troubles our custodians of the present arrangements. There is a considerable army of men and women, clerical and lay, who do not consent to the misuse of religion, of its being made into a high gloss for painting the conventional pattern of American success. The principles of Jesus, of Amos and Isaiah, of Buddha and Gandhi, of Jefferson and Channing, of William Temple, of Harry Ward and Walter Rauschenbusch, come rushed to for the lives of millions; and it will take more than Whitaker and Baxter or Young and Rubicam, more than Senator Flanders or Congressman Rabaut to extirpate them. It is something intractable, something that defies control and self-discipline, in all fresh and growing religion. These misuses of religion are all too real and undeniable, but they are never completely analyzed into a system that can be mapped. A tide proves stronger than the toughest hawsers.

Religion Helps Us To . . .

Religion deals primarily with the present, with the here and now, with the immediacy of things. God, and my neighbors thousands of miles away. With Walt Whitman I want to help men affirm life and its goodness when the hushes of fear and habit are removed. Religion is the power to deal with the day. It is the power to see the zero, to see the bottom of the day. There is much to do in one day that a thousand opportunities remain unused when sleep falls on us at the door. Religion helps us see the day. Religion helps us to see our humanity and our participation in the mystic realm beyond the grave. Religion helps us see our place in the universe, however vaguely it is to be promised a life in some mystic realm beyond the grave. Religion helps us scale our expectations to our highest possi-

Religion has to do with accepting and enjoying our responsibilities; it is the understanding of our shared duties to fellow human beings; it deals with clothing and housing our families; it has to do with a decent accomplishment in our jobs, however humble they may be or however meaningless. Man is supposed to read, to maintain a moderate life in comfort, to the integrity of our word, to seeing ahead of time the need for patience and love when others are hard-pressed.

---

Religion Is Your Resolution

I mention these examples because so much religion is obscured by layers and layers of disguise, of ornament and irrelevant decoration. I am afraid that at times I have unwittingly aided in the confusion by adding to the impression that religion is something of the past, of tradition, of organized versions of truth from a thousand years ago. We need to be everlastingly alert to keep alive what is modern; to think from thinking of religion as the Ten Commandments, or the axioms of Confucius, or the be-

---

---

Datos of the Galilean. These are good and useful, of course, but sheer antiquity is no hal-

mark for us. As far as we are concerned, the parables and Genesis gowns and revered collars are standing in pulpits this morning, and too often confirming the idea that religion is a thing to be left to the dead. We have been thinking of years before Magellan sailed the Straits. Religion is not a Papal Bull, nor a decision of a Presbytery synod, nor an edict of the San-hedrin, nor Channing's Baltimore Sermon; it is not an unchangeable, but as surely as God makes your life with your neighbor; it is your laugh at the comedy of life right now; it is your sensing the momentousness and signifi-

---

ance of the dawn of a new day.

There is more truth in the world at this hour than in the days of Jesus or Moses or Thomas Aquinas. Let us cease our worship of (more on page 16)

The Hilo Hui

Having no direct ties—at least on the surface—with "The Big One" is a hull of small capitalists at Hilo. They control a number of firms with a total capital stock of $25,103,915 and a value of possibly twice that figure. At the top of the list stands Senator William H. Hill, who has a finger in nearly every pie. Others are Orlando J. Lyman, R. A. Hutchison, James Henderson, Herbert C. Shipman, George Lowson, Gwinn J. Matthias, A. Douglas Ednie, Guido Gia cometti, Gaven A. Bush, W. L. S. Wil liams, Thomas Strauchlman, Peter C. Beamer, J. Wendell Carlsbin, H. Lindgren, John Dykes and one or two more.

Woman Refuses To Pay Tax for War

"I refuse to contribute a single penny to war and thus be a millstone dragging my country and the world down to eventual death and destruction. Therefore I refuse to pay the entire Federal tax and will take the consequences."

So writes Mary Bacon Mason, wife of Hawaiian, of Newton Center, Mass., in a letter directed to President Truman last February. Since then the letter has been reprinted many times and has become the basis for a move to "Oppose War By Tax Resistance."

"I seek faith in and loyalty to the Father-Creator of all, and desire to be in harmony with and helpful to all humanity. This requires peace, cooperation, truth, and non-violence toward all human beings regardless of dangers, provocations or provocations."

"Imagined Enemy"

The national administration has, under the leadership of President Truman, violated those principles, many Mason charges, in areas where "we hastened into violence eagerly, clinging only to the vast USA needs the amelioration of this small and remote community in order to safeguard itself from an imagined enemy."—The Red.

SEATING ARRANGEMENTS at Saturday night’s dinner in honor of Secretary of Interior Oscar L. Chapman at Queens’ Surf were not so democratic. The affair was staged by president DeBrazza of the Honolulu board of directors as a fancy ball. Several guests were selected to sit at the tables of those who sold them the tickets. But it didn’t work out that way, and people from other hotels wound up at the same tables indiscriminately for hospitality from the outer islands.

One man who also attended the Republican function for New York’s Gov. Dewey, also at Queens’ Surf, said the distribution of seats was on a first-come-first-served basis.

STEALING PENNIES from a blind man has always been a phrase to describe the lowest forms of human conduct—but we have residents who fill the bill and they’re to be found right on Queen Street in front of the Auahi, selling cigarettes.

MERRY CHRISTMAS! is a phrase that should be sent to all the people at the end of the year, but it is particularly needed for the blind, who have difficulty getting along in this world.

HAPPY NEW YEAR! is a phrase that should be sent to all the people at the end of the year, but it is particularly needed for the blind, who have difficulty getting along in this world.

Chile Mason, San Francisco University’s All-American backfield star, was in Honolulu last week as a guest of the western league. Miss Mason is the latest addition to the All-America team, and she is expected to play in the annual game on January 2.

THE RUBBER MATCH between the Kakaako and Palama baseball teams takes place on the Honolulu Stadium Sunday, starting at 2:00 p.m. Palama won last week, and Digest figures the Palama team will come out on top this time.

...along many lines. There must be living space for nations. There should be every encouragement for small and medium-sized businesses. Wage earners should become property owners. Finally, the farmer should be protected in his vitamin vegetables. Such of these points occur in Papal messages.

...that some nations need more space for surplus population, they readily concede. But the right method is orderly emigration to the great unused land spaces of the earth. It looks for the most probable distribution of men on the earth's surface to the various dominions of animal workers; to those surface which God created and prepared for the use of all. (May 18, 1944). Such migrations will benefit both the country which gives its sons and the nation which is enriched by their industry.

More than this, there must be access to raw materials so that nations less numerous may enjoy as a chance to survive. Within the limits of a new order founded on moral and spiritual bases, there is no place for that cold and calculating egoism which tends to hoard economic resources not needed for the use of all, to such an extent that the fates of nations have been favored by nature are not permitted adequate economic survival. (May 18, 1944). A year later, the Pope asked for a "generous sharing of forces between the strong and the weak." In the interests of universal justice.

"Clearly the right to private ownership does not mean the right to hoard resources indefinitely in open disregard of the common good. If the right to hoard resources was to prevail, desperate men would be seen throughout the world. The Pope warns those who "interpret liberty to mean absolute freedom to hoard property that they succeed—more than their adversaries—in overthrowing the very institution, so natural and indispensable—of human co-operation toward the family." (March 7, 1946). Unless a sound international juridical and economic order leads to the effective distribution of the world's wealth, we are bound to have strife and even war.

A lawyer came to Jesus and asked him which was the greatest commandment of the whole law. Jesus answered: "The first and greatest commandment is:

"Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, soul, and mind, and the second is like it:

"Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. On these two hang all the law and the prophets."

Jesus Christ and "Amen, I say to you, truer words he never said to me, for one of the three of my brothers, he said, to me." So Christians of Hawaii: Do we or don't we practice in everyday life the teachings and examples of Jesus Christ?

D. R. Sherretz' Right To Appeal Is Questioned; Four Applicants for Job

...and may it be that he is fired at the pressure of the commission without appeal? It may be that the legislature intended to put the responsibility of supervision in the hands of the chief of police and the executive secretary of the liquor commission are, in fact, hired by commissions which are, themselves, hired by the governor. If he had no appeal, it would be not to the commission which hired them, but to the civil service commission which governs their respective agencies. Any employe who is hired by the civil service commission would be appealing to the very body which fired him, and he would hardly be at much of a hearing to be unpunished.

No One Ever Got Job Back Even though Sherrettz should be granted an appeal and then be vindicated by the commission which fired him, he would still...

Who are members of the Filipino Americans' League? Neither the chairman or secretary answers this question, but Lamadrid refers to the "two fellows from Waialua," he said, to the names of those responsible for the advertisement.

But Mr. Dionicio told the RECORD that Lamadrid had mentioned only the name of Salcedo. "It is believed Lamadrid may have referred to a photographer and a pupilist," Dionicio said.

Young People Laugh "I was amazed when I saw the advertisement," Dionicio said, "and More On Rice (from page 1) "He just didn't care who they appointed, so I knew it was the affair of the commissioners."

As for the Kubutauli advertisements, MAG asks, how is it that there's still another one going on worth of piggies for the installation of permanent lights? But that can't be confirmed until the bill is presented to the commission.

I wonder if it is represented the thinking of second-generation Filipinos. I wonder what the young people thought about it.

As nearly as the casual general had been able to determine, the younger generation only laughed at the advertisement. Letters bearing the advertisement and the thinking behind it included a number of complaints, president of ILWU Local 142; Ray Bartolome, president of the National American Veterans Association; and the Rev. E. C. Yadao, president of the Filipino-American Citizens Association.

The Rizal Day celebration is to be sponsored by at least 40 organizations, many of which include both people born in the Philippines and those born in America. It is planned as a single Mass and a commemoration, Mr. Dionicio said, and will be held at the Princess Kekaulike School in the evening of May 30.

Persons of the Filipino community are cooperating fully in preparations for the program, Mr. Dionicio said, and admission is free to everyone.

MERRY CHRISTMAS!
THOUGHTS DURING CHRISTMAS

Christmas, with its diversified and commercialized trimmings today, originated in a most hallowed, governmental manner many centuries ago, when in a stable at Bethlehem, Jesus was born in a manner among the gentle beasts of burden.

The fact that the great religious teacher and advocate of social change was born in such humble surroundings has historical significance.

For it was after a long and tiring journey from Nazareth to Bethlehem, with Mary riding a donkey led by Joseph, that Jesus' parents were turned away from lodging places in Bethlehem. The Jews were then persecuted by the exploiting and oppressive Romans of the imperial regime and the people were set up in poor, lonely, poverty-stricken local areas. The Romans, like all subjugators, kept people divided and in fear, in order to keep them under control.

Mary and Joseph knocked on many doors, and some people were prejudiced against them and others were afraid to give them shelter because of the Romans. And Bethlehem was regarded with subject people coming there to report for a census the Romans had ordered.

The Roman empire then was far gone in the process of decay from rottenness within, and the poor and downtrodden looked for salvation. In Palestine, rumors spread that a new kingdom was coming to succor the suffering people, and this rumor disturbed King Herod, an altar such despised by the restless people who hoped for a better life. Thus, in fear and unrest, Herod ordered the extermination of every Jewish boy under two, and so the Babe gave of himself to be the promise and hope of a redemption which also would threaten their privileged position.

To save their new-born Son, Mary and Joseph fled to Egypt, then later settled in Nazareth. There Jesus grew to be a carpenter.

John the Baptist, cousin of Jesus, was then trying to unite his people, awaken their conscience to the inherent strength they possessed in resisting Roman oppression. For this, John the Baptist was arrested, imprisoned and executed.

Jesus, by leaving his work bench and going to His people to carry on the religious teachings of His cousin. Protest against abuses and demand for social change, He found expression in religious teachings.

Thus Jesus told His followers that “It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter the kingdom of heaven.” What would Wall Street have done to Him?

He drove the money changers from the temple and cast out the crooked, greedy, exploitation of the poor. He talked against despotism and bigotry and His gentle voice stirred the people.

And so the Romans and their lackeys crucified Him. They charged: “He stirred up the people . . . He was disloyal, blasphemous, subversive and seditions, they said, but history has shown that He was on the side of the masses. His crime was ardent and steadfast devotion to the people against their selfish special interests and the privileged class.

And like the steeplechase of today, there were betrayers of the masses. For thirty pieces of silver, Judas Iscariot fingered Jesus and had Him crucified. And the misled and the selfish even spat on Jesus as He was led to His execution.

Jesus came at a time of great social upheaval. The old Roman empire was crumbling, a slave society where men and women and children were bought and sold and also captured from the enemy and enslaved. The official municipal class—the curiales—was ebonizing under the weight of heavy taxation which went to the privileged few. And the curiales who collected revenues resorted to graft and corrupt practices, just like those we find today. Thus, a moral degeneration like that preceding the French revolution.

While the French revolution ushered in capitalism, when decadent feudalism was unable to satisfy the needs of the people, the social upheaval of the old Roman empire of slavery gave way to medieval feudalism.

The political anarchy and economic misery of the Roman period made the poor look for a redeemer and a new religion. Paul, Jesus’ disciple, did a magnificent job of spreading Christianity. This new religion appealed to the masses, for it had warmth and advocated human brotherhood, and in this respect it was far advanced from the pagan religions dominant at that time.

Christianity clashed with emperor worship and the Roman state religion, and the spirit of independence among Christians caused Roman laws.

Peter and Paul tried to assure the Roman authorities that the Christians recognized the divine origin of secular government but this did not stop the “blood letting,” and Nero made a pyre out of live Christian bodies to light the garden where the privileged feasted.

But the people wanted change and Christianity stirred religious thinking that helped to bring about the change. Jesus rejected the idea of leaving Rome could stop the people’s movement.

Nero started his reign in A.D. 64. By A.D. 300, there were so many Christians that persecution was ineffective and Christianity defied Roman imperial rule. Emperor Galerius in A.D. 311 revoked the execution of 363 Christians and started an era of tolerance. Constantine, in A.D. 315, issued the Edict of Milan which legalized Christianity.

Looking back over a period of 1900-odd years, we find many parallels today to occurrences then. Social changes are going on and the privileged few use force and violence and propaganda, instill thought control and fear, all in the effort to protect their special interests as against the interests of the masses.

So at Christmas time, we wish freedom from exploitation for all colonial and semi-colonial people where wars of subjugation are going on. Imperialism must come to an end. Peace and goodwill must prevail among all people, producing not for Wall Street’s profits or for British or French imperialism, but for the common good—and not for destruction.

All this depends upon the common people who have made vast strides over centuries of time, so that on earth there shall be peace and goodwill toward men.

MERRY CHRISTMAS!
