Hypnotist Practicing At Maluhia Vets' Bonds Need Help

Pearl Harbor Worker Is Volunteer Hypnotist, Helping People-Mossman

For the past three months, a "lay hypnotist" whose full-time employment is in an unrelated field at Pearl Harbor, has been treating patients at Maluhia Home in the words of Mr. Thomas M. Mossman, "doing a heck of a lot of good." Dr. Mossman, medical director of the Oahu health department, has asked that the identity of the hypnotist be withheld because "already so many people are treating themselves, they are making unreasonable demands on our services." Not an employee of the city and county, the hypnotist has given his services on a volunteer basis. Dr. Mossman said that the possibility of hypnosis in mental health is still being studied at Malu-ahia and indicated that the treatment had been experimental or experimental type.

The term "lay hypnotist" (more on page 7)

DUS CO. ASKS HIGHER FARE, BUT . . .

HRT Told Fact-Finders New Pay Hike Offer Not Tied To Increase In Fares

The Honolulu Rapid Transit Co., which offered a wage increase to its workers in the current negotiations, saying the pay hike would not be contingent on getting an increase in its fare base, was advised of the public utilities commission, this week, it would not be conditioned on the future fare increase. The public utilities commission, this week, it would not be conditioned on the future fare increase.

Edward D. Hallman, vice president and general manager of the HRT, said higher fares will be requested to meet increased costs of the new union contract. The contract was signed Tuesday.

The report of the Emergency Fact-Finding Board appointed by the governor said June 27, "The company makes its offer of cost items to the union not absolutely contingent upon the granting of a rent increase by the Public Utilities Commission." (For emphasis--MB)

18-Cent Pay Increase

The company's offer of a one cent increase per hour and reduction in work week from 44 to 40 hours with same weekly pay continues an 18 cents an hour increase.

The wage offer was accepted (more on page 7)

Home Loans Bog Down In Congress; Joe Farrington Hit

Because a $20,000,000 bond issue for Hawaiian veterans home loans appears to be stalemated in a congressional committee in Washington, financing of homes for a large number of local veterans soon of world war II and the Korean conflict is in grave danger of being stalled for at least another year.

Among the reasons are that Congress may adjourn within possibly 13 days more, leaving the bill in limbo, and that local veterans and other parties interested in passage of the measures have been unable to discover what, if anything, Delegate Joseph F. Farrington is doing to speed action on the

(more on page 4)

Portland Dockers Warn New Anti-Bridge Move Will Bring Stop-Work

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)--Stop-work meetings for "an indefinite period" were promised by the local of the International Longshoremen's & Warehousemen's Union, and the strike was warned against ILWU President Harry Bridge.

The local, one of the four largest in the ILWU, sent attorneys to the meeting of a wire with the notice that the action was taken to protect the uniformity of the local's contracts with the Justice Department has been trying to deport for more than 16 years.

The wire read: "If another indictment is issued (more on page 7)

Lee, Kido Seek West Coast Real Estate Deal

While funds are being sought for financing veterans' homes in Hawaii, some local real estate operators are shifting their attention to the mainland.

Among those is Sen. Herbert H. K. Lee, the man who introduced the $70,000,000 bond issue for vets' home loans. Sen. Lee is presently on the mainland investigating the possibilities of entering a development project in the San Francisco area.

Supervisor Mitsuyuki Kido, an associate of Sen. Lee, in the project, explained this week that one reason for entry into the Cali-

(more on page 6)

KULILOUO VOTES FOR STORE

130-10 Vote Asks Planning Commission To Give M. Costa Permanent Zoning

A Honolulu dairy operator who runs a commissary at his Kulilouo farm at the foot of the hills for the convenience of his employees and neighbors, received an overwhelming vote of appreciation at a public meeting held by the Kulilouo Improvement Club Monday night at the local park.

When the meeting opened, the air was filled with music, and a beautiful, enthusiastic, speaker introduced the subject of the meeting.

Richard Young, speaking against the issuance of a business permit, said he was a permanent business permit, said a business site would enable a traffic變成 Kulilouo and Kuluipea roads, which would connect with the market. Mr. Herbert Aisworth expressed concern (more on page 5)

Former Welfare Dept. Heads Blast Chopping of Rolls; GOP Pattern Seen

Two former directors of the Territorial Welfare Department joined Rep. Charles C. How- hane this week in criticizing the Republican administration for drastic cuts of the welfare rolls announced last week.

One was Ernest Heen, Demo- cratic, who presided over Blais- dill as director of the welfare department last year. Blaisdoll's explanation that the cut was "a clear mandate from the legislators," Heen made a sharp retort.

"The welfare department," he said, "has a clear mandate to take care of the needy in. We feed our people when they are convicted of crimes and put in jail. Does it make good sense, when we refuse to feed those who have committed no crime and are merely in jail?"

The other former welfare di-

(more on page 7)
McCarthy Uses Labor Spy To Smear Defense With "Assassination" Plot

PITTSBURGH, PA., July 19—Mistrusted was denied Smith Act de- no-ments by his own counsel and admitted membership in the Communist Party, testified on the meaning of Marxism-Leninism as a scientific world outlook, not "force and violence" as the prosecution charged.

Dr. Phillips is the second de- witness.

As the prosecution completed its case recently, the defense moved for acquittal on all counts denied. At that time, Defense Attorney Irvin Goodman of Port- land argued that "The defense witnesses are unequivocally opposed to the [Communist] armed forces in their desire to promote revolution by force and violence."

Draganek Method Hit

Henry P. C. Hall, Communist Party chairman, in an argument for a directed verdict of acquittal for himself, blasted the "timeworn, negative charge of conspiracy."

Defendant Paul Bowen in his argument said that this country is run by munitions manu- facturers, cartels, financiers and economic monopolists. He blasted at the distortion of Marxism- Leninism by the prosecution.

The defendants in the case were William J. Stineman, former legislator and president of the Washington State Senate; Robert D. Johnson, chairman of the state Civil Rights Congress; Todd Petkus, Northwest corresponding editor-in-chief of the People's World; Mrs. Barbara Hilliard, former executive secretary of the state Communist Party; and Earl Larsen, a CIO Woodmen of America union organizer.

Larsen's attorney said in court that he joined the Communist Party in 1940, our government smoke- noes have been used to link up to the party since this date.

Seattle Defense Blasts Prosecution Frameup

SEATTLE, July 19—A fundamental social change can only come about when the majority of people desire it, Dr. Herbert Phillips, expert on Marxism and Paris-based World Smith Act defense, testified to the jury on Tuesday.

In understandable terms, Dr. Phillips, a former University of Washington professor, explained the concept of Marxism-Leninism which, he said, is a disciplined system of thought that gives context and validity to paid FBI informers. Dr. Phillips is not a defendant in the case.

BIG BUSINESS PRESS

The Star-Bulletin's front-page banner headline July 26

"FIRST Fares May Go Up To $2 for HONOLULU, HAWAII, TITANIC"

It was a matter-of-fact head- line that told the story of an impending passenger- fare hike. If a union had recently asked reduced fares from $1.50 to $2.50, the Star-Bulletin headline have been matter-of-fact, unemotional.

Dr. Phillips contended that the sun will rise tomorrow.

Bananas Big Industry

In Caribbean Countries

R. J. Baker, who is travelling in the Caribbean area, is a ke-ystone of the potato photographers, author and author of books on Ha- waii.

By R. J. BAKER

Guatemala economy is based, upon its agriculture. While most of those engaged in farming aim to be self-sufficient, producing largely for home consumption, few and farmers are the impor- tant foodstuffs. Coffee makes up more than three quarters of the country's exports.

Throughout the Caribbean areas, bananas are grown in the Americas to Monos and including the major islands of the sea, the banana industry has become big business. In spite of the fact that the banana industry's economic role Guatemala exports by the shipload, millions of dollars.

Government Supports Workers

The great American chain of mountains cuts through central Guatemala, with many peaks and some of them active volcanoes. There is a season snow- covered mountain, the largest and highest peak, which can be seen often from the ocean and mountains toward the Pacific. Bananas are grown in both areas.

Along the Pacific shoreline there are no good harbors, the landings are low, the ocean frequently rough and un- safe for the loading of bananas. The rail line runs south to both areas.

The mining of living in Guatemala is not as reported. The strike was called at the strike was authorized. "No," said the workers al- ways "what they want because the government is working with the work- ers."

Exploited By United Fruit

Phillips went on to complain that the railroad for long years past has been a "house of taxes, and now that the govern- ment is pressing to pay the freight. It is a good and adequate portion of the tax for the American, fruit company owners are re- dicted.

It was further explained that the railroad government which has drawn revenue from Guate- mala without leaving government benefits is now losing land area are abandoned and the company is having a minimum of decay, while the fruit company moves on to other areas.

The United Fruit Co. ap- pears to have made sufficient in the United States congress, said the informant, "and because the company is working with its exploitation of our coun- try's resources, I am sure we must much to embarrass our govern- ment."

This represents the viewpoint of one prominent in business, and well informed on the affairs of this country, Guatemala.

Zubiatsu Monopolies Back In Power

By KEN KOYASHI

Part of the result is due to the American, fruit company owners are re-

WATING FOR JOBS—These men camped out for almost five days outside the centennial to buy for New York's "New" bicycles, prices ranging from $51.90 to $59 a week. When applications were finally handed out, 7,500 men were on line. Available number of jobs was 180. (Fred Pich/San Francisco Chronicle)

The Hollow Gesture On Excess Profits

(from page 8)

$1,000 and $3,000 bought automobiles. This was a drop from 3 per cent in 1951. Only 2 per cent of the families with incomes between $5,000 and $5,000 bought automobiles in 1952. In 1953 the percent- age was 9. The number of families with incomes between $5,000 and $3,000 able to buy cars in 1952 dropped to 5 per cent from 7 per cent in 1951. Families with incomes of $2,000 or more comprised 31 per cent of the purchasers of automobiles in 1950. By 1952 this had increased to 39 per cent and the number of low income buyers had decreased accordingly.

As a result, 64 per cent of families with incomes under $3,000 did not own cars in 1953. The hollow gesture was a preventive of an over-production, a common occurrence, and a result of the low-income earners.

Haw'n Pine Get's '52 Safety Award

A certificate for its outstanding record in all safety measures has been awarded to the Hawaiian Pineapple Co. The award was made by the National Safety Council as part of their yearly national awards program.
Back Door Blamed For RECORD Beat; Corrections Noted

Showing laudable self-control, Chief James Martin sat quietly Tuesday afternoon before a charge by Supervisor Nick Tovey that the RECORD story reporting the $400,000 appraisal of Diamond Head Memorial Park had leaked out the "back door" of the C-G office's attorney, a sequel to Toovey's recent charge about two vacancies on the hospital managing committee.

WE WERE encouraged by numerous businessmen in Waikiki who said recently to this writer that it is essential to read the RECORD to get the other side of any story.

The RECORD's Fifth Anniver- sary is next week (a resolution was introduced by Supervisor Nick Tovey in the City Council to recognize the appropriateness already made for the Aloe Wood in Kuhio Park officially on August 3, the first Tuesday in August). Supervisor Manfred Rodrigues (D) suggested the resolution and moved to table it, which motion was passed. The meeting was to be attended by informed witnesses, Pastor from the Honolulu church, the owner of the house and the doubting stockholder is actually reported to have been Ralph W. Holley.

HONOLULU RECORD
Published Every Thursday
by
29-1716 Fawcett Street
31 Sheridan St., Honolulu 14, T. H.
Entered as second-class matter July 9, 1935, at the post office at Honolulu, Hawaii, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Voice of the Membership

Rank and file voices prevailed at the Kalihi Improvement Club last week. The club changed its by-laws for the first time in its history, and it's an indication of the democratic group experience was new and encouraging.

The issue was business zoning near the foot of the hills in Kalihi. The meeting was packed with women who had been operating there property of Kalihi Nui Farm Corporation for the past five years, serving the community that has been kept alive by the one remaining business and a distance toward Koko Head. The store's first served the farm's employes, but other residents also benefited from its service, in time.

Earlier, the board of directors of the club voted 5-2 against business zoning of the site, but followed an appeal by club president by manual Costa Jr. A public hearing was held by the commission, where the opposition was adequately represented.

Meanwhile, the members of the club went out with petitions and canvassed Kalihi. Out of 302 property owners, 272, or about 90 per cent, opposed the zoning and 30 per cent, 48 per cent were not contacted.

The planning commission, after the original hearing, threw the issue back to the membership, resulting in this week's meeting.

The board of directors was reversed by the membership.

The rank and files brought in numerous new members who were quick with suggestions. It was said there were only 22 paid-up members.

"It" Carson of the planning commission, successively as its president, said the board of directors reversed the membership. It reversed the board of membership voted 150-10 for a permanent business zoning for the site, while the men of the meeting should not get exclusive rights. Some members of the club commented that if Robert Hinds, Lili'uokalani Park, or the Bishop Estate at Kahaluu cross the road when the people urgent need the store?

The planning commission, in considering the business zoning request, cannot ignore the absence vote of the residents who in a democratic manner, decide on this issue.

Harper Seeks To Renounce; Witnesses Differ On "M's Ranch House" Ruckus

What had been seen as a possible counter-attack against Chief of Police Dan Liu by Captain Al- leroy Hensley, a personal attack on Harper Monday through, his counsel, Eugene Beno, who, usually threw himself on the mercy of the police commission.

Harper, who joined the case, welcomed the evidence and did not say what "M's Ranch House" Ruckus, which was the greater the greater.

Witnesses on both sides agreed Monday, at 9:15 a.m., that Harper had extended a hand in friendship and when it was not accepted, that Harper had an "unsavory character." Harper, who was a friend of "M's Ranch House" Ruckus, had invited Harper.

One witness thought "M's Ranch House" Ruckus added an epithet and several wit- nesses said that the invitations were not considered friend.

HONOLULU RECORD
Published Every Thursday
by
29-1716 Fawcett Street
31 Sheridan St., Honolulu 14, T. H.
Entered as second-class matter July 9, 1935, at the post office at Honolulu, Hawaii, under the Act of March 3, 1979.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Voice of the Membership

Rank and file voices prevailed at the Kalihi Improvement Club last week. The club changed its by-laws for the first time in its history, and it's an indication of the democratic group experience was new and encouraging.

The issue was business zoning near the foot of the hills in Kalihi. The meeting was packed with women who had been operating there property of Kalihi Nui Farm Corporation for the past five years, serving the community that has been kept alive by the one remaining business and a distance toward Koko Head. The store's first served the farm's employes, but other residents also benefited from its service, in time.

Earlier, the board of directors of the club voted 5-2 against business zoning of the site, but followed an appeal by club president by manual Costa Jr. A public hearing was held by the commission, where the opposition was adequately represented.

Meanwhile, the members of the club went out with petitions and canvassed Kalihi. Out of 302 property owners, 272, or about 90 per cent, opposed the zoning and 30 per cent, 48 per cent were not contacted.

The planning commission, after the original hearing, threw the issue back to the membership, resulting in this week's meeting.

The board of directors was reversed by the membership.

The rank and files brought in numerous new members who were quick with suggestions. It was said there were only 22 paid-up members.

"It" Carson of the planning commission, successively as its president, said the board of directors reversed the membership. It reversed the board of membership voted 150-10 for a permanent business zoning for the site, while the men of the meeting should not get exclusive rights. Some members of the club commented that if Robert Hinds, Lili'uokalani Park, or the Bishop Estate at Kahaluu cross the road when the people urgent need the store?

The planning commission, in considering the business zoning request, cannot ignore the absence vote of the residents who in a democratic manner, decide on this issue.
Vets' Bond Issue in Peril; Campaign To Cable President

(from page 18)

measure by his Republican colleagues.

In this situation, some veterans, in despair, have turned to direct action. The Hawaii Home Owners' Alliance has formed a coalition of banks, credit unions, and other financial institutions in the state to oppose the bond issue, saying that it is unnecessary and would benefit only a few wealthy individuals at the expense of the general public. However, many veterans feel that the issue is too important to let it die without a fight.

1,400 Apply for Bond Lott

Vigorous demand for the bonds is reported in Hawaii, where the bonds are being sold at a discount. The demand is said to be so strong that some veterans are willing to pay over $5,000 for a bond, while others are paying as little as $1,000.

The bond issue is expected to raise $10 million for veterans' homes, but many veterans feel that the money is needed elsewhere. They argue that the government should provide better housing for veterans and that the bond issue is a way for the wealthy to gain control over the housing market.

Congressman Sikes West Coast Real Estate Business

Lee Kido Sikes, a veteran who served in World War II, has been elected to the Hawaii Real Estate Commission. He is the first veteran to hold this position in the state.

Sikes is a strong advocate for veterans' issues and has been involved in many veterans' organizations. He believes that the real estate industry has a responsibility to provide affordable housing for veterans and that the government should do more to support veterans in this area.

Lee Kido Sikes, a veteran who served in World War II, has been elected to the Hawaii Real Estate Commission. He is the first veteran to hold this position in the state.

Sikes is a strong advocate for veterans' issues and has been involved in many veterans' organizations. He believes that the real estate industry has a responsibility to provide affordable housing for veterans and that the government should do more to support veterans in this area.

Investment in T. H. By Insurance Firms Small; Premiums $20 Million

Insurance companies' premiums for small policies has increased significantly in Hawaii. The state's largest insurance companies have reported a 20% increase in premiums over the past year. This is due to the high cost of living in Hawaii and the increasing demand for insurance.

Despite the increase in premiums, many veterans feel that the cost of insurance is still too high. They argue that the government should provide more affordable insurance options for veterans.

Lee Kido Sikes, a veteran who served in World War II, has been elected to the Hawaii Real Estate Commission. He is the first veteran to hold this position in the state.

Sikes is a strong advocate for veterans' issues and has been involved in many veterans' organizations. He believes that the real estate industry has a responsibility to provide affordable housing for veterans and that the government should do more to support veterans in this area.

Lee Kido Sikes, a veteran who served in World War II, has been elected to the Hawaii Real Estate Commission. He is the first veteran to hold this position in the state.

Sikes is a strong advocate for veterans' issues and has been involved in many veterans' organizations. He believes that the real estate industry has a responsibility to provide affordable housing for veterans and that the government should do more to support veterans in this area.

Lee Kido Sikes, a veteran who served in World War II, has been elected to the Hawaii Real Estate Commission. He is the first veteran to hold this position in the state.

Sikes is a strong advocate for veterans' issues and has been involved in many veterans' organizations. He believes that the real estate industry has a responsibility to provide affordable housing for veterans and that the government should do more to support veterans in this area.
Socialism Cannot Be Imposed; To Come by Free Choice of People--Charles Fujimoto

Statement made by Charles K. Fujimoto upon being sentenced by Judge Jon Wilig July 3, is here published.

Long ago, when I entered the Army, the idea of living anywhere other than in a military camp, was a dream of the distant future. I entered a dream of the distant future. Now, after more than seven months of trial and more than seven months of the jury, I wish to affirm my original statement.

I stand here, awaiting your sentence, with a perfectly clear conscience. I know nothing of my whole being that I have done which is wrong to the people of the United States or against the Government. The only knowledge I possess is that the truth is better than any lie, and in the struggle for the truth, my colleagues and I will be vindicated.

Born on Kauai

I was born on a sugar plantation on the Island of Kauai. I was raised in these Islands and I was educated in the schools of the Territory. I know nothing of convictions I possess, and the ideals to which I aspire, were nurtured in these Islands.

In 1944 I publicly announced that I had accepted the position of Chairman of the Committee on the Constitution for the people, and because I wanted meaningful action for the people, I was in the struggles of the people for a better life, I Rose that by that action I could make some contribution to understanding and constructive realization to that end.

In the years that have passed, I have done whatever I could, received either support or opposition, to improve the economic and social conditions of the people, to bring about an end to all discrimination, and to speak up for the achievement and maintain perpetuation of political and social freedom.

I have always believed in pursuing political and social freedom and economic freedom. I believe in the supremacy of the people, the right of the people to pursue their own political and economic freedom, and to pursue their own social and economic freedom.

My colleagues and I were charged that we were a conspiracy. Where was the conspiracy? We were the same that we always have been. We were the political party formed a conspiracy. Where was the evidence that we were forming a conspiracy? There was no evidence that we were forming a conspiracy.

The government, in its own self-interest, and to justify its war on the people, will always try to show that any group of people are engaged in a conspiracy. And the government will always try to show that any group of people are engaged in a conspiracy. And the government will always try to show that any group of people are engaged in a conspiracy.

It seems to me that the thing that we ask is that we have an honest trial. That we have an honest trial is all we ask. As long as the trial is honest, we are content. As long as the trial is honest, we are content.

Mr. Fujimoto

Five British M.P.s Press for Top Level Talks With USSR

BY ROBERT GRANT

LONDON (AP) Five M.P.s, all of them members of the Labour Foreign Affairs Committee, have taken the initiative in a move to get the British government to take into account the interests of the people of the world.

The five are Harold Wilson, Ian Forsyth, John Savory, Barbara Castle and R. H. Crossman. The government has in recent months been striving to expand east-west trade.

The five have presented a memorandum to the Prime Minister, Mr. Macmillan, which says in part: "We ask the Prime Minister to impress upon the Russian government the importance of the Russian government's role in the world, and particularly in the Middle East."

Mr. Macmillan has been asked to impress upon the Russian government that the Middle East is not an area of conflict, but an area of cooperation, and that the British government should be present in the area to promote peace and stability.

Area Without States

An old Hawaiian man told the woman who was "polohi" (correct).

A chicken farmer had spoken up for the commission. People waited for more backers of the commission to go up front to speak for them.

Carson Asks Questions

"Kiko" Carson, a member of the planning commission, who is the last to speak, said: "I don't think that the commission has done a good job."

Mr. Carson said that the commission had been asked to consider the question of the application for a permit to operate a liquor store.

"I don't think that the commission has done a good job." When the question was put to vote, no one came to vote for the application for a permit. When the question was put to vote, no one came to vote for the application for a permit. When the question was put to vote, no one came to vote for the application for a permit.

The town is finally put to a vote. Only those who paid their membership fees voted in the election, and those who paid their membership fees voted in the election, and those who paid their membership fees voted in the election, and those who paid their membership fees voted in the election.
CPC Leads ILWU Volleyball League; D. Kealoha Stars

CPC Cannery Club 56 leads the ILWU Oahu Volleyball League with a 3-2-3 initial spiking of D. Kealoha, chalking up their second victory last Sunday morning by defeating Abacos-Monterey Moors, 25-13, 15-8, scores, at the ILWU Mainland Club. The Longshoremen-Hawaiian Fish "B" contest was postponed.

CPC Cannery and the Hawaiian Pine gym, the Hawaiian Pine "A" best the hapless regional Screwdrivers in two sets, 25-23, 25-20. Spike leaders for CPC Cannery's first game for the Hapco sextette, who are strong favorites to win the entire series, were Frank "Truck", W. Watney and T. Louis with 13, 11, and 10 spikes respectively.

The AmCan Club 103 vs. AmCan Bees game was postponed.

SPORTS TID-BITS FROM HERE AND THERE

The most interesting news to come out of the major leagues for a long time is the renewed effort of quite a number of ballplayers for a shot at the majors. In the past but the franchise owners have been able to "disراد" the group to the local minor leagues.

This week, the players' representatives, Allie Reynolds and Ralph King, made a point of taking up the matter of signing and hinting at the possibility of some of the ballplayers being sent to the majors. They have been looking forward to an organization such as the scouts and managers have, two of the strongest "unions" in the country.

Incidentally, the organization that Reynolds and King represent is the same one the owners themselves had proposed after a "threat" by another group of players. This group had the blessing of the owners and was going to sell as the grievance committee for the players with the National and American leagues.

SPORTS WORLD

BODDY LEE, the secretary-administrator of the Territorial Boxing Commission, has been holding a series of meetings with fighters, managers and promoters in an effort to get the lights back on and get some boxing in the Territory. The TBC was the recipient of a letter from the Territorial Police that the percentage of receipts from the hotels that scheduled and promoted boxing. The board of directors of this series of meetings were presented to the TBC last Monday evening. The board elected six new members and signed the list of members who were going to meet again and vote on the matter of boxing in the Territory. The TBC was the recipient of a letter from the Territorial Police that the percentage of receipts from the hotels that scheduled and promoted boxing.

The majority of the fighters voiced the opinion that this was too big a cut for managers they didn't even see until they didn't take the trouble. This may have been slightly exaggerated, but it is generally felt that there are very few opportunities to fight in the Territory. The next meeting of the board of directors will be held next Wednesday, and the board will try to get the lights back on and get some boxing in the Territory. The board elected six new members and signed the list of members who were going to meet again and vote on the matter of boxing in the Territory.

The RURAL SOKO won the Hawaii Baseball Championship for the fourth consecutive year, and with congratulations go to Peanut Kubinich for producing the best team in the league. He also has our congratulations for taking one of our favorite ballplayers, Kaoru Nemoto, who led the team in batting this year. Kubinich has been able to get replacements for a number of his stars who have left the league. These replacements have come through admirably during this past season.

Remember With Flowers!
KODAI KARASUI
307 Keawe Street
Phone 5333
HILO, HAWAII

Gregory H. Ikeda

ALL LINES OF INSURANCE

Barker 14
1931 KAPOLIAPU LN.
Res. Phone 5357
Bus. 5357
902000 or 203000

Police Testing Station No. 37
General Auto Repair
9 N. KUKUI STREET
Phone 5178
Landlords Win Points In New Rent Bill; Some Still Out To Kill Control
(from page 1)

er & housing accommodations in the immediate neighborhood intolerable.

This paragraph is an addition to the original text and clarifies the context of the rent bill. It allows evasion for “committing a nuisance or making any accommodations for immoral or illegal purposes or for other than housing accommodations.”

Some check is placed upon the preceding paragraph which states: “No tenant shall be removed or evicted on the ground that the accommodation is not be considered as a nuisance, or that the accommodation is not reasonable in its terms, or that the accommodation is not adequate in its terms.”

Another of this sort states: “It shall be unlawful for any landlord to make any fraudulently deprive a tenant of services necessary for the use of the accommodation, including, without limitation of electricity, gas, water and heat, or to cause the creation of conditions of normality and to render the accommodation unavailable.”

What is “Luxury”? “Luxury” housing accommodations are the ones controlled under the new bill. “Luxury” housing is defined as that which is actually being rented by a family of four or more and which cannot be considered equipped with an area of at least 500 square feet. For example, a 10 by 12 foot room would be considered as being in such training.

In the urban areas, rental controls are to be set up by the city or county. The areas ofnerent accommodation are to be established by the city or county, and the city or county is required to establish a rent control commission for the area.

The house of the family of four or more could be considered as luxury housing accommodations.

HRTTold Fact-Finders New Pay Hike Offer Not Tied To Increase In Fares
(by page 1)

H Newfoundland dockers warn new anti-Bridges move will stop work.

ILWU President Harry Bridges, the longshoremen's union, will hold stop-work meetings for an indefinite period and will recommend to the longshoremen on the Pacific Coast to do likewise to bring would be less accurate in determining this Phoenix House, according to the insurance companies, than the term “hypnotism.” Dr. Mosman, who has practiced hypnotism and has been trained in some form of hypnotism by Dr. C. W. Mosman, said that hypnotism is practiced in a number of cases only upon certain types of patients.

More On Maluhia

(from page 1)

More on Welfare

(from page 1)

More on Welfare

U.S. Steel Acquires New African Interest

PARIS (A. N.) — Comex, a French company in which the U.S. Steel Corp holds 81 percent interest, is preparing to develop a large high-grade manganese deposit in the West African country of Senegal.

The deposit is estimated to contain an estimated 50 million tons of manganese ore which currently accounts for 16 percent of the world's production.

New Zealand and Australia are the world's leading suppliers of manganese ore.

The manganese ore at the deposit has been classified as high grade and is expected to be a major source of manganese for the steel industry.

Social Security Benefits

Rep. Carl Curtis (R. Neb.), chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, is studying the social security laws, promises to find out if the social security system has been doing its job and if the system is adequate to meet the needs of the people.

What are the social security laws? The social security laws are designed to provide for the security of the aged, the unemployed, the disabled, and the survivors of the deceased.

Social Security Disability benefits are provided to those who are unable to work due to a disability that is expected to last for at least a year or result in death.

Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI) benefits are provided to workers who have paid Social Security taxes during their working years and are now unable to work due to a disability.

Social Security survivors' benefits are provided to children, spouses, and dependent parents who are eligible to receive benefits based on the deceased beneficiary's earnings record.

Social Security retirement benefits are provided to retired workers who have earned a sufficient amount of work credits during their working years and are now 62 years old or older.

Social Security provisions guarantee that workers and their families will receive benefits in the event of death or disability, ensuring a measure of security and stability.

Social Security provides a safety net for individuals who are unable to work due to disability, ensuring that they can maintain a basic standard of living.

A retired worker and his family can receive Social Security benefits if the worker has earned a certain number of work credits during his working years.

The Social Security Administration (SSA) is responsible for administering the Social Security program and ensuring that eligible individuals receive the benefits to which they are entitled.

Practices and regulations around Social Security benefits vary depending on factors such as employment history, income, and family status.

In cases where an individual has maintained a certain level of income and been employed for a sufficient number of years, Social Security benefits may be reduced to ensure that the retiree remains able to meet basic living expenses.

However, in cases of severe disability or unforeseen circumstances, Social Security benefits can provide a critical safety net, ensuring that individuals and their dependents are able to maintain a stable and secure living situation.

Social Security systems are continuously evolving to adapt to changing needs and circumstances, with ongoing efforts to ensure that the system remains accessible and equitable for all eligible individuals.

Social Security benefits are not only important for individuals but also for the nation as a whole, as they help to maintain a stable and secure society by ensuring that eligible individuals have the means to provide for their basic needs in retirement, disability, or in the event of the death of a breadwinner.
POWER-HUNGRY RIFE

The Korean armistice is close at hand but Syngman Rhee balks and sabotages efforts to end the fighting. He does this, he says, because the victory on the Korean peninsula belongs to him, and he thinks in the name of "anti-communism" will get U.S. support, just as the corrupt Chiang Kai-shek did.

The whole South Korean show was run by U.S. military advisors beginning and as for Rhee, the war has kept him in power.

One month before the outbreak of the war, the Korean legislature refused to give him a vote of confidence and thus gave notice that he would be dumped from the presidency. According to the constitution, the national assembly voted for the president at that time, but Rhee changed this in a subsequent war emergency. He made it so the whole people would vote for the president. He sent his political lieutenants, rabble rousers and gangsters into the countryside under the cover of the election and by hook and crook, garnered votes. U.S. correspondents, in reporting the election, was significant for lack of democracy. Against his opposition, Rhee used violence.

Rhee keeps himself well abreast of U.S. military brass thinking. In recent talks, American military negotiators threatened to "release" North Korean and Chinese war prisoners unilaterally, after continuing the war on the one point of "voluntary" POW repatriation.

When final agreement was being reached on repatriation of POWs, Rhee "released" 27,000 POWs, causing the war to continue, killing thousands needlessly. To the newly released news reports described as the "heroes" of the "escaped" POWs, were impressing them into the ROK army.

General Mark Clark, commander-in-chief of UN forces, knew what Rhee was up to 12 days before the power-hungry Rhee turned loose the POWs. He reported this information to Washington officially. He did take preventive measures, although Rhee's past conduct gave him clear warning to do so.

Rhee's killing off of his political opponents, jailing of his political enemies, wouldn't go along, and his treatment of POWs set a dangerous precedent. Rhee and Kojo and other stockades are barbaric, his ROK and Chinese Nationalists fatigued North Koreans and Chinese POWs with symbols saying they refused to return to their homes so that the POWs could decide to "reject" their government. Many POWs had scars where they cut off the tattoo.

Despite his gangsterism and barbarism, Rhee believes that the U.S. leaders will not censure him. He wasn't worried when Clark threatened to release remaining information recently that he commanded the loyalty of front-line ROK troops who would not fight for Rhee. The Nation magazine quoted American diplomats "speechless to regard Rhee's infamy."

This policy is of the Cadillac cabinet and its mouthpieces.

Goebbels, the Hitler of the day,Star-Telegram, no usual loutishly, sounded a pessimistic bell about the ending of the Korean war when it hasestered all along. It said: "We must not expect too much of this truce. Instead, we must make a thoroughgoing effort to end the fighting on the Korean front. We don't know what the ROK armies will do."

The fighting of the past week showed that the ROK army still crumbles like paper under assault by the opposition. Keyes Beech's dispatch to the Chicago Daily News ridiculed the propaganda of U.S. newspapers about the big ROK "counter-offensive." He wrote that the South Koreans were walking back into areas they had abandoned five days before "with an alacrity unbecoming to troops supposedly itching to drive to the Yalu."

Without U.S. arms, air support, troops and supplies, Rhee is helpless in peace or in war.

"We don't know what the ROK armies will do?"

That's just plain nonsense!

ON THE CAPITAL'S CUFF

The Hollow Gesture On Excess Profits Tax

By JOHN B. STONE

Two government economic documents give vivid demonstration of the hollowness of President Eisenhower's gesture in forcing through Congress a 9-month extension of the excess profits tax from July 1.

The move was calculated as a noble gesture to prove that the cabinet of multimeum and its members are going to be as tough on business as they are on the little guy.

Present Excess Profits Tax a Fare

Actually, the $600 million the extension will bring into the treasury is in the bucket. And of course, now that the extension is passed the wartime taxes on individual income of low-salaried workers will be continued until the end of the year, though everybody admits these taxes are much higher now than the excess profits tax.

The magnitude of the fraud can be measured by comparing this present tax with the one which was in force during World War II. The present one brings in millions, where the tax brought in billions. Yet the tax rate on the fellow who earns $7,000 or $8,000 a year is continued.

Finally, everybody on Capitol Hill knows the next congressional move on taxes will be for a Federal sales tax, which soaks the poor.

The entire tax steel is based on the Truman administration's phony economic conception that the mass purchasing power of the low-income groups is the main instrument to prevent inflation. Eisenhower is just pushing this conception to its logical end.

Rate of Profit Goes Shooting Up

Just how misguided or misguiding the conception is can be illustrated by the Federal Trade Commission's report on first quarter earnings of manufacturing corporations this year and the Commerce Department study on consumer prices in 1953, which is down.

Net profits of manufacturing companies in the first quarter of 1955 were 11 per cent higher than in the first quarter of 1952. Manufacturers' sales were 11 per cent above the first quarter of last year. Yet profits were up 11 per cent.

So it seems that despite the excess profits tax, despite the much-complained discrimination against business, things are going pretty well. The profit structure is pretty good when you can increase profits 11 per cent while increasing sales only 9 per cent.

If Eisenhower really wanted to demonstrate fairness, he should have considerably increased instead of simply extending the excess profits tax.

Ability To Buy Automobiles Down for Low Income Families

The second part of the 1933 Survey of Consumer Finances presents the statistical basis for the actual plight of the family with small or moderate income, faced by ever-rising prices and continually high taxes.

The survey shows that in 1933, for the second consecutive year, the proportion of spending units (family's) owning automobiles did not increase.

In 1933, only 2 per cent of the families with incomes below $3,000 (more on page 5)