Why Didn’t the Star-Bulletin Print This?

The so-called “prominent Comm- moners” that make the news aren’t the ones FBI con- cerned too much about as poten- tial enemy agents, an act they called Honolulu and published on the Mahanali Dec. 3 said.

“It’s the quiet man who has been seen voting the republican or Democratic ticket, pays his taxes, takes his kids to Sunday school and mows his own lawn Saturday afternoon,” the AP story quoted a for- mer FBI agent as saying.

“He doesn’t have a police record. You probably would never remem- ber him after passing him on the street.

“But the 1-A Lists probably have his name if he is involved in espionage or a potential saboteur.”

The Star-Bulletin which carries AP dispatches hasn’t printed a single line of this news release by-lined Joseph Grant.

• Is it because the big fuss over the recent Eastland hear- ings in Hawaii looks like a foolish show, when the FBI itself says the potential saboteurs and es- pionage agents and subversives are the innocent looking Republicans and Democrats?

• Is it because many Japanese remember the injustice of the ar-

SUBVERSION IN OUR MIDST

every additional editorial on the east side ear- rings Riley H. Allen publishes in the Star-Bulletin is further indication of how deeply he and Delegate Elmore W. Smith have infiltrated the incumbent in the recent political race. The ILWU didn’t support her.

The Star-Bulletin gives a big play these days to the Eastland show and to its annual appeal for Christmas funds for the needy—and 11 and a half months out of the year, when it does not run holiday gift ads, it is aloof or hostile to welfare clients, the un- employed and underprivileged people.

The last couple of days it showed some guts and published stories on the phony revival meeting held in this city and notably its reporter was called a “plain lois” and an “instrument of the Eastern government.”

The Star-Bulletin that makes so much noise about “subversion” in this Eastland can do this community great service by hitting a subversion that is weakening our social structure. This subversion is juvenile delinquency and child prostitution is a horrible facet of it.

Among the six girls held by police last week, rang- ing between 12 to 14 years, for alleged prostitution, one revealed that she was first used sexually at the tender age of seven.

Many of these children work for money, because they need it. They come from low income families. Their patrons are generally elderly bachelors, but included married men, too.

This child prostitution is a social cancer. This is the type of thing that weakens society and depraves it.

Why is the Star-Bulletin editorially silent about this?

Child Prostitution Increasing Here

Girls Reported Roving in Gangs To Find "Work"

Far more child-prostitutes than the six recently apprehended by police officers are operating in Honolulu. Phony revivals and something like a gaunt among elderly bachelors keep the latest six picked up from $5 to $10, the RECORD has learned, though many of these are above the ages of 15 and 12 of the six picked up thus far.

Girls from one of the city’s largest high schools are reported by knowledgeable sources as “working” at Oahu Kalihi St., Hall St., Beretania and Kinaole Sts., and often with the elderly retired bachelor who can afford the low income bracks.

Capt. Kenneth C. Gundluff, head of the crime prevention division of the police department, says his men have not received reports of the high school girls but adds that probably evidence on cases of this sort is extremely difficult.

A source well informed on such matters, however, has told the RECORD these girls, like those younger ones apprehended last (more on page 5).

Is HRT Subsidizing Tour Service At Expense of Students, Public?

Because 20,000 of about 85,000 transit passengers are students, it is said by some sources, the stu- dents are subsidizing the tour bus- lines which some claim are running in the red if all costs are charged against it.

Another source says the HRT is charging $3 a head as opposed to $5 as charged by its competitors for the round-the-island tour in order to run its companies out of business. Once this is accomplished, he says, HRT will be forced to raise its rates.

Some independent tour operators are concerned by a move they ex- pect HRT will make in a few days. That’s this—HRT has a HRT charter to operate the round-the-island tour service. The independents that do not operate under the city’s utility laws do not have charters. They feel that (more on page 7).
Is HRT Subsidizing Tour Service At Expense of Students, Public?

The HRT will insist on a regulation that tour operators must have charter to do such business. HRT recently denied these allegations. Its explanations are these:

- It reports to the PUC regularly, that it has been performing at a deficit.
- Its accounting methods have been approved and the books are open to Federal income tax agents.
- Without its tour business and chartered bus service, HRT would have been compelled to face an immediate deficit.
- Since 1947 its passenger traffic has decreased from 180,000 to 100,000 a year to the present 60,000-100,000. Its policy is to seek rate increases only as last resort since Mammion transit system surveys show that when a 10 per cent rate increase takes place, a transit system loses 1 per cent of its riders permanently.
- The company made a net profit of $24,000 last year. But it is arguing that when the two drivers' wage hike (five cents per hour from July 17 this year and another five cents in Dec.) is added to the deficit, it will cost the company $50,000 a year. Therefore, it claims the school bus fare increase is necessary.
- It is also reported that the HRT contends other utilities like Hawaiian Telephone Co. and Hawaiian Electric Co. charge a

Printed on Liquor Bags

Here's a thought that might be worth consideration of the various island liquor commissions: according to Public Safety, the organ of the National Safety Council, the State of Washington has admitted its liquor control has printed bags for use in all package liquor stores. Price on the bags is 1 cent and it is 3 cents for non-alcoholic items. It is 3 cents for alcoholic items.

It's a Christmas measure in Washington, but it sounds as though it might be a good idea the entire year round.

Majors of the U.S. Navy had more traffic accidents on Coastal roads in 1955 than members of the Army armed forces, comprising 34.1 per cent. But soldiers were more than 10 times more than on the highest rate for adults who use the telephone or when they turn on lights to study.

These will be some of the arguments the HRT is expected to use in seeking the PUC’s approval for a school bus fare hike.

Prostitution

A friend of mine says the women he knows appeal to some customers for protection and have much more demand on them the higher in the social scale. When one girl has acquired such a reputation, it is not difficult to bring about a friend, says the source. He broke into the traffic. Thus a gang has its nucleus.

Of course, it appears that the recent crop of adolescent prostitutes discovered was forced in some way, and he adds that police are still investigating the case.

One of the bachelors, who may be charged with carnal abuse of a girl under 12, has prevailed vigorously that he was 15 years old at the time. The girl has testified that she was 12 at the time. The judge was in a difficult situation, and the young man was nothing to do with a girl under that age. If they were above 13, he says, he had no qualms about it, but he wanted nothing to do with virgins.

Wealthy Men, Too?

Confirming what Capt. Oundie says about the difficulty of getting evidence, Capt. Oundie was followed without success a lead to the effect that wealthy bachelor has from the Waikiki area of age has also worked with the Waikiki area of age as an agent of other circle of teen-age prostitutes. Although the lead came from a reliable source, police close up when questions relating to the subject are asked.

The existence of teen-age prostitution on Waikiki is known on a very wide scale is not new, though, it has been generally difficult to discover individually. More than three years ago, the police received a number of reports about such cases. The Waikiki Health Center disclosed that the same type of reports had been received before, but since no cases of venereal disease have been reported among the girls involved, although authorities were known by the health department officials.

HOLIDAY GREETINGS!

By MERCURY

On February 13, 1956, the Honolulu Advertiser ran an editorial headed: "Who is Guilty of Assassination?" It said:

When does guilt by association become a political issue? How long or how short is the public's memory when confronted by a reversal of priorities?

Today our Merchant Street concern, using a charge of guilt by association, is striking at the Government of Hawaii through the Secretary of Hawaii.

Six years ago, however, the Delegate to Hawaii accepted the endorsement of the ILWU, which headed them as new, by men who were leaving union labor in Hawaii down the Communist path.

The union leaders then were at the peak of their potency, strength and were engaged in following the Communist Party line. An open line was opened. But the Delegate publisher accepted the support of the men who followed the Red-bonded path. They did not protest. In every scrapbook around Hawaii is a cartoon depicting the delegate getting into bed with the ILWU.

On March 14, 1956, the editorial staff member ran an editorial headed: "Exaggerating the Red influence here, it is reiterated parts of a lecture made in California by a leading member of the Communist party of the United States and who has lectured in Hawaii under the guise of an expert. The "anti-Communist crusader," as the Star-Bulletin named him, had said the "Communist-dominated" ILWU had succeeded in reducing the political pressure to the appointment for the Territorial Commission on Subversive Activities.

Not so said the Star-Bulletin editorial, as follows: "That regrettable action by the Legislature was not primarily the result of Communist influence. It was directly and chiefly the result of the majority's taken attitude of immunity and over-sensuous members of the Legislature."

"It was also partly the result of the attitude of other members of the Legislature who played along with ILWU propagandists and lobbyist."

Then letting off some anti-union steam, the same Star-Bulletin continued: "We freely admit — and regret — that the ILWU has a strong hold on thousands of workingmen...."

On October 25, 1956, when it was definite that the Board of Internal Security Subcommittee would hold hearings in Hawaii, the Star-Bulletin ran an editorial headed: "The Spotlight on Hawaii, in which the administration was made accused of influence of communism here has often been exaggerated.

AN OLD LADY went to Lawry's party last Thursday night and to Kealakekua Sts. Sunday and argued and long and loud, but couldn't get them to sell her a gallon of gas, and the reason—she wanted Fossil fuel.

JOE ROSE is getting mistransmutations about someone again — this time by someone who says he saw it happen. Therefore, the RECORD was given a copy of Mrs. Florence John's description to Mayor Blaisdell's "nonsense" comment written on the side, by a Star-Bulletin writer. "(This is Joe Rose's comment, Joe notes what these characters call "facts"). And from all we hear, Mayor Blaisdell isn't interested in investigating the things in all. We warn you, Mayor Blaisdell isn't interested in investigating these things. And from all we hear, Mayor Blaisdell isn't interested in investigating the things in all. GOV. KING, who is still busy in the "connecticut river" for various reasons, may have slipped a slip when he appointed Mrs. Melvin Martin in the State Board of Health. Mrs. Magran was the secretary of Mayor John H. Wilson for years, and she served on the Hawaiian Homes Commission for a number of years. In the common touch at all times, and has a calm, sympathetic approach to all people. Democrats say that Mr. King doesn't really "happen." When issues affect the people, go on. But of course, the job on the State Board of Health is something unique and it requires a special approach—which one can be sure Mrs. Magran will understand.

A FORMER LEGAL DEPUTY noting the termination of George St. on the face book, said: "The people are talking about the decision in the office to give some important consideration to any City Hall policemen who feel it. Sure was in the past for the last twenty policemen to leave was a late change in plans, and one school the mayor seems very close on any other matters. Such a decision has it that someone dear to the mayor and him the vice prosecutor had dragged it during the campaign. But most folks who watch the campaign could say any such allegation is to use the mayor's word, "not factual."

PAUL CHUNG, who takes over on the 1/2/02 date's office is now K. Sterling, sits at the board meetings. Some days, an interested spectator. But he stays outside the rail, through assistant clerks wonder, he doesn't come in and sit at the table to find out what's going on. Maybe it's like Presidents who hesitate to confer with their advisors leaving the White House because they're afraid somehow things they're being influenced.

THE CHINESE BUDHIST ASSN of Hawaii, 42 Kawaanaa St., headed by Ahn M. Tung, is drawing to the close of a season for religious dinner. But further contributions are still very much appreciated.

SPKESMEN FOR A SALES TAX are back down a campaign on the door. The Democrats are trying to convince them they can't avoid such a tax because it's the "only way" to make the deficit. But the Democrats give in to the kind of thinking, then Gov. King can be credited with getting the tax through the legislature when the GOP and the Chamber of Commerce could never get it through in the past. But when he got the Treasury's finance into such a terrible state by vetoing the tax bill two years ago, now has the Democrats right on the spot.

Millard Pudicky, kicking the sales tax around, recently says the ILWU has been one of its most vocal opponents, but he fails to mention any of the duties that ILWU has been the Hobart to. Instead of the ILWU's $17,000, across the couple they've payed, was accepted by the legislature. Turned out they needed to have made that in advance.

AND SPEAKING OF SEAMEN and their struggles for better wages, the rumor from the West Coast is that Shanghai Aotea, through the Robert Blaisdell got "dumped," whether physically or emotionally, by the Ed Starter in the McSor-AFL isn't known yet. But Shanghai Aoe was in hot water with the guys that run that ship. As soon as she was reported to ship out — only ships to which was sent allegedly didn't want him.

MAURICE J. MOLINE, refrigeration engineer on the Mariposa, pulled a slightly incredible stunt during the ship's return from Australia. He got left behind in Tahiti and then hitched a ride on the Te Vega, a Liberian sailing vessel, and caught up with the Mariposa by telephone. He took him back on the ship but now they're back in San Francisco. He's been hit with a fine, a 60-day suspension, and possible discipline from the U.S. Coast Guard for missing ship. He says he was sent somewhere on a friend's place and fell asleep. There he was also a girl, he says. Not after all, with all the liquor consumed on the ship, it seems a little tough.

SPORT SHORTS

BY KENNY

NOW MIGHT BE THE WINTER of discontent for local boxing fans be made glorious summer by the hopes of the University of Hawaii, headed by Coach Herbert Minn. With no professional boxing around from the office, and with rumors proliferate frantically denying that they are interested in any promotion at all, boxers of the University of Hawaii, if they were ready might step into the picture with service out has, and with possibly an invitation or two of college teams from the Mainland, and make themselves a place with local fans that could easily become permanent. But on a basis of past performance, nothing like this will happen at all.

You will hear a number of excuses given as to why it won’t happen and as to why there’s not enough interest in boxing to turn out a real team. It’s a little hard to accept these reasons at face value. Why couldn’t an intra-club tournament be held to determine the championships of the university in different weights? Such tournaments have been held in other institutions in other localities where the interest in boxing was not greater than here, and they resulted in enthusiastic turnouts. Colette is one of the few clubs left where a young man can learn something about handling his hands without getting his block knocked off by a seasoned professional. Most young men like to know how to handle their hands, so classics and tournaments for novices usually get plenty of takers.

After the novices have completed a year, they’re ready to enter something like an all-varsity tournament for the championships, and if they’re good enough to win there, they’re generally good enough to compete against the average run of amateurs. That’s the place where an able coach can step in and give them individual attention and make real fighters out of them.

But for a long time now under the aegis of Coach Minn, boxing at the university has been an end in itself, not solely to qualify lads to compete in amateur non-paying, non-scholastic tournaments. So it is not to be expected that any real advantage will be taken of the full professional boxing to give the fans the kind of shows that have made college boxing popular in many places on the Mainland, even in competition with professionals.

Hotel St.

From page 12 use such information to declare some establishments off-limits. Regardless of any action by city officials, the military has never before taken such action on such bases in the island chain.

COL. MAY BE BIG BOSS

But the nemesis of Hotel St. still appears to be a few oafish HASP colonel who has been a military presence in the Cannery and other exotic places in the world and who carries a copy of the report of the Kealau Committee on crime when he comes to board meetings.

The colonel, informed one source, is on a mission to whip out whatever vestiges of vice he may find on Hotel St. and he is highly personable and a good man.

The embattled proprietors sighed deeply this week when they assured that, of all people, the colonel may become the worst disciplinarian of the disciplinary board. In that case, they expect, they might as well rest out their buildings to Buccaneer A. A. Allen as a sort of last resort, like the “breeding on unseasonable” activities of his followers now being confused at the Civic Auditorium, with the Star-Bulletin as the chief scorpion.

But the colonel may have asked HASP to help them form a code of conduct and behavior that will be acceptable, but act.

COL. CHARGES AHEAD

Since George St. Sore, C.G. inspector, was informed this week, that he will not be reappointed, he has unceasingly been looking for other efforts he has begun to assist the military with a “clean-up” of Hotel St. But the HASP colonel is reportedly elsewhere and behavior notwithstanding, the military was the leader of his rank.

While assisting HASP, St. Sore at least offers a civilian authority amusement center men felt they could be trusted with, whereas they felt they needed further attention. Thus, when they approached Mayor Biddlewed Tuesday, he promised to appoint an attorney to try to help smooth their troubles with HASP.

Downward Trend

In Car Accidents

Here Continues

The scene of downtown traffic is not like last week with 21 victims reported last week, many of which were killed last week, however, in comparison with 18 fatal accidents in 1964. The number of injured, however, is 211 over the 239770 last year at this time—with less than two weeks to go till the year’s end.

Drinking while driving appeared to be the major factor off last week, with eight fewer who were killed drinking involved in accidents. But the total for the year, 1,937, is 190 over the figure for last year at this time.

A definite, though comparatively a slight drop is noted in the number of service personnel involved in accidents, that total for the year thus far being 1,418, or 20 less than last year at this time.

Stock car racing will begin on January 18.
"Nice Guy" St. Sure Gets Mad, Charges Deputies Campaigned on Court Time

ports of the mayor's strong language seemed to justify the charges. He was a man who had been known as merely considerate notice. St. Sure often spent enough time to make plans, wound up as an inconsiderate man. He was considered as a 'Matter of course'.

GEORGE BIRKS BACK

To reverse dropping his constant role of "nice guy" St. Sure fired back next day that Blaisdell had hired him because he had objected during the recent campaign to the use of his deputies for campaigning when he felt they should be taking care of prosecuting cases in the courtroom.

One deputy, who charged, had begun campaigning for Blaisdell's reelection as early as July, and another had acted as the mayor's campaigner. The RECORD learned that Messrs. Taussig and Francis DeMello, although the latter was a law clerk rather than a deputy and is now, reportedly, a deputy attorney general.

Some City Hall observers of the mayor's standing commented that they in their time have had seen such a wholesale use of deputies in both legal offices in a campaign as during the last one. Republicans deny the, as might be expected.

But St. Sure had another ground complaint. Instead of using his "poor job," he maintained, he had brought the backlog of cases down from 200 when he took office to 60 as of Monday, and he had hoped to bring it further to maybe 50 by the time the year ends.

Critics of the prosecutor say too much of that backlog was reduced by jailing prisoners that should have been tried, but it was difficult from an official position to find fault with St. Sure's statement that the backlog is now lower than at any time in the last 10 years.

DISTRICT Atty. Robert, a deputy and former prosecutor, is in a position to know.

Robert, the deputy and a Democrat who held the top post in the office under the late Alvin H. Wilson, Jr., had an outstanding record as a deputy in the past two years, trying many of the office's most important cases and securing 100 per cent convictions. These have included homicides, rape and other violent crimes.

But the brothers announced Tuesday they will both leave service of the city in January and open a private office.

The two men mentioned most often as possible successors for the top spot were those of Takekawa Kitaoka, assistant prosecutor, and John Peters, first deputy to the C-G attorney. Kitaoka was mentioned for a top post in one of the city's legal offices two years ago, but the board at that time let him know he would not be considered. As St. Sure's appointment has changed, the RECORD learned, and both sources are that if his name is offered to the new board, he probably will be considered.

Peters, regarded generally as a more capable, more experienced trial lawyer, is said to have support of the Republican Party machine, and the board might have trouble replacing him if St. Sure is asked to replace him. As a natural for pros-

FRANK-LY SINGING

BY FRANK MARSHALL DAVIS

An Atrocity Is An Atrocity

To me, an atrocity is an atrocity no matter where it is committed. If a woman is a victim of a war in Budapest, any more horrible than war victims in Potsdam, and I feel very poorly certain that a corpse in Egypt is just as cold and dead as a corpse in Hungary.

I have been moved to comment by the way in which the United Nations has treated the Hungarian and Egyptian episodcs. Since America is a great country, we Americans should not publish our newspapers in ways that show the world we are the most powerful people. On the other hand, we are the strongest and English are our allies, the daily press on the other hand does的文章 in the presence of playing politics with death.

Naturally, I cannot condone what has transpired in Hungary. I think the shooting down of workers in the streets is a disgraceful and undemocratic act. We should not participate in such evil acts, especially those which Moscow will not soon recover. But at the same time I believe the general public has the right to know the truth. The skilled glorifying allies have not behaved as angels in their relations with the Soviet Union.

The Greek government had the power of life and death over the workers, and it was a great mistake to have allowed the boss to go abroad. Did it become morally right because France and Britain were international policemen instead of the Soviets?

EQUALLY MURDEROUS

My heart cannot bleed for the dead in Hungary without bleeding just as generously for the dead in the U.S.A. You may not think it in the press, but the French and British were at least as much responsible for the U.S.A.

Let me quote from an article written by T. B. Czerny which appeared under a British headline "The U.R.S.S. in the U.N. and the U.S.A."

"A Yugoslav reporter and I were the first to go to the Yugoslav press, and they said, 90,000 of whom are connected with schools and centers near Moscow. They read Mykhiko by boat and the others were at the rest of the way by bus. Other colored boats in the red waters of the river are the refugees are mainly women and children, and the young people are preparing to go back to the city.

Another article said, in Manchuria where industry is growing rapidly, American machines are running side by side with Soviet machines.

Even a fool knows that these U.S.-made machines are not pre-war machines. The Chinese bought new machines from whom? From U.S. businessmen eager to do business with anyone for profit. The machines were evidently sold to a go-between country first, for transhipment.

Now, should Eastland and Robert Morris lie counsel, investigate these big businesses for "undermining the security of this country?"

This would be downright ridiculous. But it is more ridiculous to make so much fuss about "enemy propaganda" pouring into Hawaii.

What if "US"., a Soviet picture like Life magazine is found on desks of local laborites? What if "China Reconstructed," a magazine, is also read by them? Everyone expects the readers to read widely. They have to.

Because information about People's China and some other countries are kept from the reading public here, when the Star-Bulletin publishes what is general information to people abroad, it is banner-head news.

The Star-Bulletin wasn't "subversive" in publishing the series. But better late than never. The RECORD published such histories long ago to inform its readers. This weekly was called all sorts of names, and the House un-American Committee called it a propaganda medium for People's China. The Star-Bulletin now joins this weekly, a couple of years late.
