

The University of Hawaii, College of Education, Project METALS presents...

Understanding Micronesian Students

Chuukese, Marshallese, and Pohnpeian cultures

September 15, 2004 (Wednesday), 4:30 to 7:00 PM

Have you heard surprising stories from teachers about their Micronesian students? Do you want to know more about Micronesian students and where they are coming from? This workshop will provide important information on three Micronesian cultures – Chuukese, Marshallese, and Pohnpeian – to help you better understand Micronesian students and their culture.

This workshop is designed for pre-service teachers enrolled at the College of Education-UHM. They have priority in registering for the workshop.

A culture resource team will provide first-hand information on the cultures. Presenters are:

Graceful Enlet (Chuukese)

Enid McKay (Marshallese)

Lillian Segal (Pohnpeian)

Date and Time: Wednesday, September 15, 2004, 4:30–7:00 PM

Location: Yuki Yoshi Room - Krauss Room 012

Cost: Free!

Space is limited, so register early!

Registration Checklist:

1. Duplicate form for each registrant.
