University of Hawai‘i
Plan for Language Access
July 2022-June 2024

I. Introduction

In 2006, the State of Hawai‘i’s Language Access Law\(^1\) was enacted to affirmatively address the language access needs (on account of national origin) of limited English proficient (LEP) persons.\(^2\) The law seeks to address language barriers to:

- accessing important benefits or services,
- understanding and exercising important rights,
- complying with applicable responsibilities,
- or understanding other information provided by state-funded programs and activities.

It was the intent of the legislature that the provision of language accessible services be guided by Executive Order 13166 (2000), Title VI of the Civil Rights Act (1964), and succeeding provisions of federal law, regulation, or guidance. \([\text{L 2006, c 290, pt of §1}]\) Title VI protects people from discrimination based on race, color, or national origin in programs or activities that receive federal financial assistance. The University of Hawai‘i (hereinafter referred to as “UH” or “University”) receives federal funds and complies with Title VI.

II. Language Access Plan

The Hawai‘i Language Access Law requires State agencies receiving federal financial assistance to file a language access plan by July 1, every two years, with the Office of Language Access (OLA), within the State of Hawai‘i, Department of Health. \(\text{See Haw. Rev. Stat. § 321C-4(c).}^3\) The updated UH System Plan for Language Access covers the period of July 2022-June 2024. During this period, the Community College System Director of Compliance, EEO/AA, and Title IX under the Office of the \(^1\) Hawai‘i’s Language Access Law was codified as Hawai‘i Revised Statutes (HRS) Chapter 371, part II, §§ 371-31 to -37 (2006 Haw. Sess. L. Act 290). It was repealed in 2012 by Act 201, as of July 3, 2012 and recodified as HRS Chapter 321C.

\(^2\) Limited English Proficient (LEP) persons are “individuals who do not speak English as their primary language and who have a limited ability to read, write, speak, or understand English.” U.S. Dep’t of Justice, Guidance to Federal Financial Assistance Recipients Regarding Title VI Prohibition Against National Origin Discrimination Affecting Limited English Proficient Persons, 67 Fed. Reg. 41455, 41459 (June 18, 2002).

\(^3\) See also Office of Language Access Memorandum No. 2022-001 which states: “Pursuant to Chapter 321C, Hawai‘i Revised Statutes (HRS), all state agencies receiving state and federal funding are required to establish and file a Language Access Plan (LAP) with the Office of Language Access (OLA) and shall continue to file their plans with OLA every two years.”

Vice President for Community Colleges will serve as the University’s contact person for consultation with OLA.

III. Four-Factor Analysis Required to Determine the Extent of Language Assistance to be Provided

The U.S. Department of Justice Guidance to Federal Financial Assistance Recipients Regarding Title VI Prohibition Against National Origin Discrimination Affecting Limited English Proficient Persons (“DOJ Guidance”) issued pursuant to Title VI and EO 13166, as well as Hawai‘i’s Language Access Law codified in HRS 321C-3, set forth a four-factor test to determine if language access services must be provided, and if so, the extent of those services. The four factors are:

1. The number or proportion of persons with LEP that are eligible to be served or likely to be encountered by the program;

2. The frequency with which individuals with LEP come in contact with the services, program, or activities;

3. The nature and importance of the program, activity, or service provided by the program to people’s lives; and

4. The resources available to the University and associated costs.

IV. Assessment Regarding Limited English Proficient Populations Eligible to Be Served by the University

The University engages in an individualized analysis in compliance with federal and state law, that balances the above-stated four factors. To obtain data in connection with all four factors and inform the University’s provision of language access services, the University engaged in the following steps to inform this plan and procedures:

1. Conduct Campus Surveys. Periodic Systemwide surveys have been conducted to obtain data from different units on all ten University campuses to identify language access demand, needs, priority programs, and vital documents in each different unit or program surveyed. The most recent survey was conducted from November 2021 through February 2022;

2. Review and consider the March 2016 Statistical Report entitled “Detailed Languages Spoken at Home in the State of Hawai‘i” published by the Research and Economic Analysis Division (READ) of the Hawai‘i Department of Business, Economic Development and Tourism (HI-DBEDT). The University considered the statistical data of the top languages other than English spoken at home for each County, as well as the size and location of the population, and the level of assistance needed as detailed in the report.

4. Review and consider the April 2016 READ, HI-DBEDT, Report “Non-English Speaking Population in Hawai‘i.”

5. Review and consider the 2009-2013 ACS Language Access tables for the State of Hawai‘i. This table was released in October 2015 and details the languages spoken at home and the ability to speak English for the State of Hawai‘i’s population.

6. Review and consider the October 2018 Report “Serving Hawai‘i’s English Learners” prepared by Hawai‘i P-20 Partnerships for Education with data provided by the Hawai‘i Data eXchange Partnership. Although the report focused on the K-12 population, the University considered the data in relation to the potential population matriculating to higher education.

7. Review and consider the November 4, 2021 Office of Language Access Memorandum No. 2021-004 which details the top 14 languages spoken by individuals with limited English proficiency in the State of Hawai‘i.

8. Review the English proficiency requirements for undergraduate and graduate students at the University of Hawai‘i4. These requirements hold that applicants for whom English is not their native language must demonstrate a certain level of English proficiency to gain access to UH courses or programs.

The assessment determined that English language fluency is an essential aspect of the University’s educational programs and activities (e.g., undergraduate or graduate education).5 Most of the University’s “clients” or “customers” are students who must have sufficient English language fluency to qualify for higher educational programs.

4 International Admission Requirements, University of Hawai‘i at Manoa Office of Admissions, https://manoa.hawaii.edu/admissions/international/ (last visited September 2, 2022); English Proficiency, University of Hawai‘i at Manoa Graduate Division, https://manoa.hawaii.edu/graduate/english-proficiency/ (last visited September 2, 2022).

5 The Hawai‘i Language Access Law is modeled after Title VI. “Title VI does not require recipients to remove language barriers when English is an essential aspect of the program,” Exec. Order No. 13166, 3 C.F.R. 13166 (2000), (such as providing civil service examinations in English when the job requires a person to communicate in English, see Frontera v. Sindell, 522 F.2d 1215 (6th Cir. 1975)), or when there is another non-pretexual “substantial legitimate justification for the challenged practice and there is no comparably effective alternative practice with less discriminatory affects. Elston v. Talladega County Bd. of Educ., 997 F.2d 1394, 1407 (11th Cir. 1993); New York City Environmental Alliance v. Giuliani, 214 F.3d 65, 72 (2nd Cir. 2000).
The assessment process also determined that most nonacademic programs open to the general public involve nonessential services, entertainment, or commercial activities (e.g., sports events, bookstores, food vendors, concerts). Based on the four prong “Oral and Written Language Services” factors set forth in HRS § 321C-3, multilingual notices are not required for these types of programs.

Additionally, the surveys conducted by the University have not demonstrated a large demand for language access services on any campus, or in any programs/services, across the board.

With the above general caveats in mind, the University recognizes that there may be programs, or services, in which language access assistance may be helpful, based on the frequency the program may potentially interact with LEP individuals (e.g. outreach agricultural programs, admissions), or based on the safety or health concerns involved, even if there has not been frequent interaction with LEP individuals (e.g. security or health services). The University is also aware that an individual may not be LEP in all situations, and in general may be able to interact with their existing level of English skills, and participate in University programs, but due to trauma, or the complexity of some formal University processes, may not be able to navigate certain University systems or meaningfully participate in administrative proceedings with the same level of English skills. Because of this, language for individuals who are LEP can be a barrier to accessing certain University benefits or services, understanding and exercising important rights, or complying with University procedures (e.g. judicial processes).

Therefore, the University has identified certain offices and services where language access notices are recommended, and where requests for language access services should be considered on a case-by-case basis by the program or campus. The offices identified systemwide in which LEP support is prioritized are included in Attachment A. Each individual campus may prioritize additional services/programs for the provision of LEP services.

V. University Structure for Language Access Support

Language Access Coordinators (“LAC”) have been designated for each of the ten University of Hawai‘i campuses as well as the University system. These individuals are responsible for developing, updating, and coordinating the overall implementation of the University’s Language Access Plan and their respective campus procedures. Responsibilities of the campus LAC also include:

- Serving as a primary contact for LEP individuals who are requesting language assistance services on their campus
- Responding as appropriate to inquiries regarding the University’s Language Access Plan and requests for language assistance
- Providing support to campus offices with respect to the language access issues
- Coordinating with System offices and the University’s Language Access Committee on language access issues
- Assisting in the compilation and coordination of internal and external language resources
- Collecting information necessary to enable the University to provide language access to LEP individuals as appropriate

A listing of the current Language Access Coordinators for each campus can be found on this website: https://www.hawaii.edu/offices/eeo/language-access/

In addition to Language Access Coordinators, the President’s Office has convened a Language Access Committee (“Committee”) which meets regularly and recommends appropriate steps for the University to comply with the language access laws and meet the needs of LEP individuals where appropriate and possible. The Committee consists of the Language Access Coordinators for each campus and system, as well as representatives from the University’s Office of the President; the University Community College System Office of Compliance, EEO/AA, and Title IX; the EEO/AA Office for UH Mānoa and UH System; and Hawai’i P-20. The Committee works with and receives information and guidance from the Office of the University General Counsel, and others, as needed. Members of the Committee are listed on the University’s Language Access Committee website: https://www.hawaii.edu/offices/eeo/language-access/

VI. Protocol for Providing Language Services

The University has in place general procedures for the intake of requests for language access assistance from LEP persons, and for the assessment and provision of services. These procedural steps are set forth below and apply to all ten University campuses. Each campus may also develop protocols for responding to language access requests for specific units or departments in addition to these general procedures, based on demand, the unit function, and need.

A. Notice of Language Service Availability

8 Hawai’i P-20 has adopted the duties that were previously assigned to the Office of the State Director for Career and Technical Education. Hawai’i P-20 is currently the administrative office managing the federal Perkins V grant and serves as civil rights oversight for the state Career and Technical Education (CTE) office per the Title VI Guidelines for Vocational Education.

9 If there are fewer than fifty (50) persons in a limited English proficient group that reaches the 5% threshold, the agency must provide written notice in the primary language to the limited English proficient language group of the right to receive competent oral interpretation of vital documents, free of
The University notifies LEP individuals that they may request language assistance from the University, and that free language assistance may be provided when English proficiency is not required for participation.

Website Notices and Request for Services Forms. Website notices in fourteen major languages notify LEP individuals that free interpretation services may be provided, except in programs or areas where English proficiency is required. A language access bar located on University System webpages and each campus webpage lists fourteen languages, and links to a language request form LEP individuals may complete to request language assistance. The fourteen languages are those that have been identified by OLA as spoken by at least 5% of the state population or 1,000 people, and are:

1. Ilocano
2. Japanese
3. Tagalog
4. Korean
5. Spanish
6. Cantonese
7. Vietnamese
8. Chuukese
9. Mandarin
10. Marshallese
11. Hawaiian
12. Samoan
13. Cebuano
14. Thai

For an example of the University’s language access bar as well as the request forms LEP individuals may complete for assistance, please see https://uhcc.hawaii.edu/index.php.

Signage. The University has multilingual signs and/or pamphlets at those offices identified by the University as priority services for language access support in Attachment A. (Please see Attachment B, Notice of Language Assistance Posters). These signs are a functional and effective method to inform LEP individuals of where and how to request language assistance. Signage is, and will continue to be made available to staff at specified University support service locations identified as primary points of public contact.

Language ID Cards. Following a plan of action similar to the "I speak..." language assistance request cards used by agencies in Hawai‘i as well as across the country, multilingual language assistance cards will be made available in the offices/units associated with the priority services identified in Attachment A. (Please see Attachment C, Language ID Cards). The LAC for each campus may also place language ID cards in additional key locations on their campus based on demand and need. The cards are printed in English and 14 non-English languages. LEP individuals can request an interpreter by showing the appropriate Language ID Card to staff, or writing in the name of their language.

B. Language Services Support Assessment

Completed online request forms for language access assistance are routed to a general language access email account uhlac@hawaii.edu that is monitored by a Committee Outreach Coordinator. The Committee Outreach Coordinator will forward the language access assistance request to the appropriate campus/system LAC and work with the LAC to ensure the request is assessed and responded to appropriately. Depending on the request and the service/program involved, other University administrators may also be notified of the request. The LAC will appropriately identify the issues and the services requested based on information included in the submitted form.

For individuals who request language assistance in person based on the notices and posters included in campus offices, the office will inform and consult with the campus LAC of the request, if support is needed. For these in-person requests, the LAC will help to appropriately identify the issues and the services requested using the resources discussed in Section VI. C. below.

C. Provision of Interpretation/Translation Services

Based on the campus assessment, if the campus LAC determines support is warranted, they will identify appropriate resources, both internal and external, in order to provide language access services free of charge to eligible LEP individuals, including:

- competent, timely oral language services (such as on-site, video remote, or phone interpreting
- written translations of vital documents/information

The University is aware that it must provide interpretation or translation from appropriate and competent individuals and may not rely on or ask students, friends, family, or untrained school staff to translate and/or interpret. Each campus LAC is trained that use of family members or friends as interpreters is highly discouraged.

The LAC will work with relevant campus administrators to respond to language access requests and will utilize the below resources and procedures in providing appropriate language services and support:

1. Resources

Internal Resources - Dual and Multilingual Employees. To fulfill language service requests, the University compiles a list of potential internal dual and multilingual employees who may assist in 10 The LAC Outreach Coordinator may be rotating and consists of individuals in the Community College System of Compliance, EEO/AA, and Title IX, as well as members of the Language Access Committee.

11 If the program or campus determines a need for additional bilingual personnel, they should include the relevant language skills as a desirable qualification when filling vacant state funded public contact positions. See Haw. Rev. Stat. § 321C-3(4)d.
providing translation or interpreting services. Bilingual staff who are willing, on an as-needed basis, to assist the University by facilitating informal oral or written communication with LEP individuals are self-identified through a survey and by campus leadership. (Please see Attachment D, Volunteer Language Service Provider Form). The University is in the process of vetting the skill set, language competency, and availability of the identified employees to serve in this role as language support. These dual and multilingual volunteers may be available to work with the LAC and campus staff to meet the language needs of the LEP populations. Each campus LAC has access to the list of identified dual and multilingual employees and has the discretion to assess the circumstances to determine whether use of such internal resources are appropriate.\textsuperscript{12} Campus LAC and other personnel will also use the four-factors (refer to Section III in this document) to identify the appropriate interpreter skill level for the particular situation, and when a qualified interpreter is recommended or necessary. LAC members understand that use of internal University resources may not always be appropriate if the matter requires extensive language access support, in cases where translation may be technical, and in cases that are subject to a more formal process and/or are judicial in nature.

External Resources - National and State Agencies Providing Language Access Services. The University provides to the campuses a resource list that contains national and Hawai‘i-based providers whose services may be utilized for oral interpretation and written translations. (Please see Attachment E, External Language Assistance Services). The University participates in a contract for telephonic and video interpretation services as a member of WSCA-NASPO, through the Hawai‘i State Procurement Office (SPO). The current authorized vendors are Corporate Translation Services, Inc dba Language Link and Voiance Language Services, LLC. University campuses may also utilize Hawai‘i-based service providers in addition to the national vendors under the NASPO Contract to provide language services.

2. Providing Oral Interpretation Services

The University understands that the availability of oral interpreter services may be critical for LEP individuals in order to communicate with University staff and apply for and receive services from the University. As appropriate, the University provides oral interpretation services to LEP individuals both telephonically, via video, and face-to-face.

a. Use of Family and Friends as Interpreters

Although an agency has flexibility in determining the appropriate mix of language assistance services to provide, the University highly discourages the use of family and friends as interpreters.

The University understands, however, that an LEP individual may choose to use a family member or friend to assist with language access, even in situations where other language service options are available.

\textsuperscript{12} The University’s list of internal dual and multilingual employees who may be called upon to provide interpretation services will be shared with any oversight agency upon request and as appropriate under regulation and law.
If an individual chooses to use a family member or friend to assist with language access, the appropriate campus LAC shall take reasonable steps to determine if the individual providing the interpretation is competent to provide this service by engaging in the following steps:

- Determine whether conflict of interest, confidentiality, or other concerns make the use of the family member or friend inappropriate.
- Use caution if the LEP individual asks to have a minor provide interpretation.
- Determine whether the campus shall provide interpreter services in place of or, if appropriate, in addition to, the person selected by the LEP individual.

b. Telephonic Interpretation Services

Telephone interpretation is useful in brief-encounters or urgent situations where immediate assistance is needed. It is more economical and provides quick access for LEP persons.

To ensure immediate language access to all LEP individuals, each University campus has immediate access to telephone interpreter services in more than 100 languages, 24 hours per day, 7 days per week through contracts with national vendors and also through Hawai‘i-based providers as described below.

The University signed a participating addendum along with another 14 states for telephonic interpreter services as a member of WSCA-NASPO, through the Hawai‘i State Procurement Office (SPO). The current authorized vendors are Corporate Translation Services, Inc. dba Language Link and Voiance Language Services, LLC. Campuses are notified of the option to utilize these two national vendors to provide telephonic interpretation services via a distributed document entitled “External Language Assistance Services.”

The University also informs campuses of the options to utilize Hawai‘i-based service providers in addition to the national vendors under the NASPO Contract. Campuses are provided information regarding the various options available via the resource listed in the External Language Assistance Services document. (Please see Attachment E).

c. On-Site Interpretation Services

On-site interpreting generally requires advanced booking. After consultation with the campus LAC, a department or unit can utilize an internal University staff interpreter if appropriate, or contact an external interpreter directly. (Please see Attachment E).

The following are the specific steps the campus LAC and the department/unit may take to respond to an on-site request for language services

(1). Determine whether there is a need for an interpreter.

- Ask the LEP individual directly which language they speak.
- Use visual aids that list languages, such as Notice of Language Assistance Posters and I-Speak cards, so the LEP individual may point to the language they speak. (Please see Attachments B and C).
- Seek assistance from dual or multilingual staff, or family and/or friends, if the LEP individual is unable to say which language they speak.
• If the department/unit is still unable to identify the language needed, the department/unit can call a telephone interpreting service to help determine the specific language spoken by the individual with LEP. (Please see Attachment E).

(2) In connection with the campus LAC, determine if it is appropriate to offer interpreter services at no cost to the individual. Interpreter services may be appropriate if:

• The request is not in connection with a service where English proficiency is required.

• The request is in connection with an important or priority program/service as listed in Attachment A.

• The request is necessary with respect to allowing meaningful access to education or essential services.

(3) When oral interpreters are needed, departments/units must explore all effective and timely options.

• Consider the feasibility of having the interpretation by phone, video, or face-to-face, as appropriate.

• Utilize competent and qualified volunteer staff when appropriate. The use of internal volunteer interpreters may not be appropriate if the matter requires extensive language access support, is technical, or concerns a process that is more formal and/or judicial in nature.

• If volunteer staff is not appropriate or not available, utilize external language service providers as identified in Attachment E.

d. Video Remote Interpretation Services

Video remote interpretation (VRI) services involve real-time, full-motion video service provided via Zoom or other video conference platforms. Depending on the circumstances, VRI may fulfill the requirements of telephonic or face-to-face interpretation services as appropriate.

The majority of the external resources in Attachment E provide VRI services.

3. Translation of Vital Documents/Information

Written translations of vital documents\textsuperscript{13} are required for LEP groups that constitute 5\% or 1000, whichever is less, of the population of persons eligible to be served or likely to be affected or encountered. See Haw. Rev. Stat. § 321C-3(4) c (1). Under the Safe Harbor Provision, for an LEP person who is seeking translation services, but speaks a language that does not meet the threshold, the \textsuperscript{13} Vital Documents are defined as printed documents that provide important information necessary to access or participate in services, programs, or activities of a state agency or covered entity, including, but are not limited to, applications, outreach materials, and written notices of rights, denials, losses or decreases in benefits or services. See Haw. Rev. Stat. § 321C-2.

University of Hawai‘i

Language Access Plan (FY 2022-2024)

University will provide written notice in the LEP Person’s primary language of the right to receive oral interpretation of written materials, free of cost.

As stated above, based on the survey information, and low demand for language access services received by all campuses across the board, the University has determined that LEP persons constitute less than five percent or one thousand of the population of persons eligible to be served or likely to be affected or encountered. Accordingly, the University has not identified vital documents related to priority or essential services that are currently required to be translated.

However, the University recognizes that translation services may be helpful in certain areas, and campus LACs will work with departments and units to identify information or situations where translation may be desirable.

Steps to Identify Documents/Information For Translation

a. Identify documents for translation priority.

Departments and units may prioritize documents that are critical for obtaining services and/or benefits, or are required by law, and which may directly impact the mission of the University. Such documents may include, for example, applications, consent forms, complaint forms, outreach materials, and notices of rights.

b. Categorize and prioritize documents for translation.

Consider the frequency the document may come in contact with an LEP individual, i.e., forms, information brochures, and periodic or seasonal communications.

c. Make documents language access ready.

Documents should be user-friendly and translatable. To the extent possible, documents should be written and designed in plain language so that documents are clear, logical, concise, and easy to read. Plain language means the author needs to analyze and decide what information is needed by the individual to make informed decisions, before words, sentences, or paragraphs are considered. Plain language documents use words economically and at a level that the client can understand. The sentence structure should be tight; the tone welcoming and direct, and the design visually appealing.

d. Identify the targeted languages using language data collection.

All vital documents must be translated for languages that meet the threshold above. Non-vital documents that are identified as priority documents (see paragraph 1 above), should be translated in the languages most useful as identified by University survey, and other reliable sources such as agency data (e.g. November 4, 2021 Office of Language Access Memorandum No. 2021-004 which details the top 14 languages spoken by individuals with limited English proficiency in the State of Hawai‘i).

e. Assess translation options.

Please use the internal volunteer list and the external language services resource list; Attachment E

4. Ensuring Quality of Language Access Services

To ensure the quality of interpreter services, the current authorized vendors from the State contracts were selected through a Request for Proposal (RFP) evaluation process that took into consideration the interpreter quality assurance, such as the screening process for interpreters, the general minimum requirements for experience, education, language proficiency, and certification to ensure quality of interpreters.

To ensure translated materials are accurate, consistent, reliable, readable, culturally appropriate, and free of errors, the University only retains translators from external resources that have been authorized or qualified by the American Translators Association (ATA) and/or other approved translator programs.

To ensure the quality of interpretation for internal resources, the University requires volunteer interpreters to adhere to the interpreter code of ethics. The University does this by requiring all internal volunteer interpreters to read and sign the Interpreter Code of Ethics contained in Attachment D prior to assisting with any language request.

The University recommends that volunteer interpreters engage in language access training and testing opportunities, including free training offered by OLA, interpreter workshops sponsored by other state agencies, such as the State Judiciary, and language skills testing coordinated by the University of Hawai‘i at Manoa’s Hawai‘i Language Roadmap Initiative.

As an added measure of control, the University also uses feedback and comments from users, community-based organizations, the Language Access Committee, State Language Administrative entities such as OLA, and other stakeholders to assess the quality of interpreters and translators.

D. Data Collection and Reporting System

Campus LAC will document requests for language access services. The LAC will use a document modeled after the Language Access Encounter Tool (revised 9/6/22) created by the Office of Language access to collect and report data regarding language services pursuant to Chapter 321C, Hawai‘i Revised Statutes. (Please see Attachment F, Language Access Request and Tracking Tool). The campus LAC will also assist other administrators on their campus with using the Language Access Request and Tracking Tool to obtain accurate data regarding language services provided. The data collected by each department/unit should be reported back to the campus LAC on, at minimum, a yearly basis.

If a LEP related incident is reported to the University, the LAC may direct the complainant to the University System Compliance offices – The System Office for Equity Assurance, or the Community College System Office of Compliance, EEO/AA, and Title IX. The Compliance offices will assess the complaint and appropriately address complaints in accordance with University policies and procedures. The LAC may also direct individuals to the Office of the Language Access website at https://health.hawaii.gov/ola/filing-a-complaint/ to file a complaint with an entity outside of the University.

VII. Training

The Language Access Plan is utilized as the University’s official Language Access Policy and Procedures and is accessible to all employees on the University’s language access webpage: https://www.hawaii.edu/offices/eeo/language-access/

The campus LAC will ensure that priority offices in Attachment A are familiar with the Language Access Plan, the procedures for interpretation and translation services, as well as the internal and external resources for language services. The LAC will work with the campus to provide notice to employees of the identity of the campus LAC and their contact information.

The campus LAC will organize annual training to ensure that departments and units in Attachment A, and other identified administrators who have public contact positions are properly trained and understand the proper use and purpose of the Language Access Request and Tracking Tool (Attachment F), so that accurate data regarding language services requests can be obtained.

LACs and members of the Committee attend the OLA quarterly Language Access Coordinator meetings, and will consult with OLA regarding training, and utilize OLA’s assistance in conducting training for the University, as appropriate.

VIII. COVID-19 Emergency

The COVID-19 pandemic has affected the operations of the UH system in terms of the methods utilized in providing programs and services as well as the types and numbers of services offered. In order to ensure that the UH System is meeting obligations with respect to support and access for LEP persons in essential areas during the COVID pandemic, the following steps have been taken:

- Website notices in fourteen major languages of the right to free interpretation services and contact information to request interpreter services are included on the System webpage https://www.hawaii.edu/covid19/ with COVID-19 information. These fourteen languages are those that have been identified by OLA as spoken by at least 5% of the state population or 1,000 people.

- Interpretation services will be made available for those that need agency-specific information related to COVID-19, as well as other related essential services as appropriate. Based on need, the University may provide telephonic interpretation services, translations, or other interpretation services as appropriate.

- Assessment via a survey sent systemwide will be made of the dual-and multilingual employees within departments who may be called upon to provide emergency translation, interpretation, or other duties related to language access.

- Staff training with respect to language access will be conducted annually.

IX. Sub-Recipients and Sub-Contractors

Sub-Recipients are responsible for complying with civil rights, and other Federal and State laws and assurances, including and not limited to, informing individuals of any rights to free interpreter service, auxiliary aids as qualified, and the right to file a discrimination complaint when they feel their civil rights have been violated or an interpreter has not been provided.
Contractors and Sub-Contractors are responsible for providing reasonable, meaningful access to their services and for posting required notices, including assurances.14

X. Updating and Revising the Plan

To ensure continual improvement in ensuring access to education and essential services, in a manner that is culturally and linguistically appropriate, the University’s Language Access Committee and LACs will monitor the provisions of language access services for LEP individuals, and update the Language Access Plan as appropriate. The next update to the Language Access Plan is due to OLA by July 1, 2024. See Haw. Rev. Stat. § 321C4(b).

ATTACHMENT E
The University of Hawaii is committed to providing meaningful access for people with limitations to speak, read, write and understand English in programs and services that are essential, and where English Proficiency is not a requirement. Under federal and State laws, limited English Proficient (LEP) individuals may have the right to receive assistance through qualified interpreters and translated materials at no cost to them and without significant delay.

Please work with your Campus Language Access Coordinator (LAC) to assess any request received for language services. Your campus Language Access Coordinator can be found here: https://www.hawaii.edu/offices/eeo/language-access/

The University maintains a database of internal volunteers that may be able to provide limited translation and interpretation services. These external language assistance services should be used when such internal resources are not sufficient, not available, or inappropriate.

Translation/Interpretation Services Available

Written Translation Services

Written translation services will normally be used to translate requests for language services that have been submitted online or otherwise transmitted to the LAC. Written translation of vital documents within a department or unit may also be appropriate on a case by case basis, depending on the population being served and the demand for language access services within that department or unit.

Telephonic Interpretation Services

Telephonic interpretation is a useful tool for brief-encounters or urgent situations where immediate oral interpreter assistance is needed. It is an economical option and provides quick language access for LEP persons.

Face-to-Face or Onsite Interpretation Services

Face-to-face or onsite interpretation is normally used for complex or formal settings that require lengthy discussion (e.g., interviews, hearings, health or medical related issues).

Face-to-face or onsite interpreting generally requires advanced booking. Each department or unit should work with their campus LAC to assess the appropriateness of the provision of these services.

Video Remote Interpretation Services

Video remote interpretation (VRI) services involve real-time, full-motion video service provided via Zoom or other videoconference platforms. Depending on the circumstances, VRI may fulfill the requirements of telephonic or face-to-face interpretation services as appropriate.
Language Access Service Providers

When appropriate as confirmed by your LAC, the following external resources are available to assist in the provision of language services.

State Contract Service Providers

The Hawaii State Procurement Office (SPO) has entered into an SPO price contract with the following service providers that is available to all state agencies, including the University.

SPO Contract Service Providers

- CTS Language Link (KFS Vendor Code 56756-0)
- Voiance Language Services, LLC

Corporate Translation Services, Inc. (CTS), dba Language Link, and Voiance Language Services, LLC are current authorized vendors that provide written, telephonic, and video remote interpretation services to all state agencies (SPO Vendor list Contract No. 20-17; Effective 10/21/2021).

CTS Language Link and Voiance Language Services will require an account number and/or pin number to access their services.

Please see the attached NASPO Contract and Vendor Information for more information about each provider including how to request an interpreter, current rates, languages covered, minimum charges, and billing information.

University departments and units are not required to use only CTS Language Link, or Voiance Language Services. Staff may also obtain interpretation services from the below mentioned providers. Departments and units that already have an interpretation provider may elect to retain that provider but will have to follow applicable procurement rules and regulations.

CTS Language Link and Voiance Language Services provide all of the translation and interpretation services listed above with the exception of face-to-face interpretation services.

Service Providers with KFS Vendor Codes

The following service providers have previously been established in the Kuali Financial System (KFS) with KFS vendor codes.

General Information

Contractors shall provide 365-days a year, 7-days a week, 24-hours a day On-Demand Over the Phone Interpreting (OPI), Video Remote Interpreting (VRI), and Document Translation services on an “as needed” basis for Limited English Proficient (LEP) clients needing an immediate interpreter or translation assistance.

The below are interpreter operational requirements:

1. The interpreter shall remain neutral in the conversation unless prompted by the customer with additional instructions.
2. The interpreter shall speak in the first (1st) person.
3. The interpreter shall use the utmost courtesy when conversing with the customer and/or the client.
4. The interpreter shall respect the cultural differences of the client.
5. The interpreter shall refrain from entering into a disagreement with the customer and/or the client.
6. The interpreter shall accurately interpret the client’s statements and relay the message in its entirety with the meaning preserved throughout the conversation. Information will not be edited or deleted which may erroneously change the meaning of the client’s statements.
7. All conversations, interpretations, or translations will remain confidential and shall not be shared with individuals unrelated to the call or translation. Calls must only be recorded for Quality Assurance and training purposes. Call recording may be further restricted in other state’s Participating Addendums.
8. The translator shall provide accurate (reflect the meaning correctly), effective (provide the intended effect on the reader), and impartial (unbiased) services.

The contractor must provide toll-free access to interpreter services from anywhere in the United States, 365-days a year, 7-days a week, 24-hours a day. The contractor must have all the necessary equipment, installed and functioning, to provide the services required in the contract.

The interpreters must have a telephone terminal equipment with expansion capabilities to accommodate an increase in call volume, as needed.

The contractor must only invoice for the time that interpreter service is provided. The time required for establishing the language service needed and/or connection time to the appropriate interpreter will not be chargeable. Billing of the interpretation period starts when the interpreter answers and begins interpreting. The interpretation period is ended when the interpreter has been disconnected from both the customer and the client.

On-Demand Remote Over the Phone Interpreting (OPI)

Interpreter services for the most frequently* used languages must be performed within the United States from a professional facility and not a home-based office. Interpreter services for the least frequently used languages may be performed outside of the United States and/or from a home-based office.

*Most frequently used languages” means the top ten frequently used languages.

A. Prohibition of Interpretation on a Wireless Device in a Moving Vehicle and Noisy Areas

1. The contractor agrees no interpretation work by wireless communication device shall take place in a moving vehicle if the interpreter is the driver. This strict prohibition is intended to avoid driver distractions, accidents, risks to others, and lack of interpreter focus on the interpretation work itself.

2. Background noise such as traffic, barking dogs, crying babies, wind, and other people carrying on nearby conversations is a distraction to others on the phone and interpretation work should not proceed when any participant cannot hear due to the background noise and requests the interpreter to relocate to a quiet area.

3. Any interpretation conducted on a wireless device, whether texting or oral, is prohibited under this contract if conducted in a moving vehicle when the interpreter is the driver. To be clear, this prohibition shall also apply in states with laws addressing cell phone use and/or texting while driving and applies to all drivers involved with manually or orally typing; or entering multiple letters, numbers, symbols or other text in a wireless communication device; or sending or reading data in the device, for the purpose of oral or non-voice interpersonal communication, including texting, emailing, and instant messaging. Vehicles equipped with Bluetooth devices and dash-mounted phones are not an exception to this prohibition. Interpreters must not be driving in a moving vehicle when conducting interpretations.

B. Connection
1. On average per month, the Contractor must answer at least 95% of all incoming calls within five (5) seconds of the call starting to ring at the Contractor’s facility. The call may be answered by an automated attendant but the customer must be given an option, either by voice prompt or keypad selection, to speak with a live operator/customer service representative. If the customer opts for a live operator/customer service representative, the connection must occur within ten seconds of the customer's selection.

2. On average per month, the Contractor must respond to calls at a rate of 95% or greater within 30 seconds of the client’s language being identified. Once interpretation begins, the call cannot be placed on hold or put into a queue of any kind.

3. If in a given month the language mix of Spanish to all other languages is below 75%, the percentage of calls that must meet the 30 second response time will be adjusted as follows:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>If the percentage of Spanish is:</th>
<th>Connective time will be:</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Less than 60%</td>
<td>80% of all calls will be responded to within 30 seconds, after the client's language being identified</td>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>70-80%</td>
<td>90% of all calls will be responded to within 30 seconds, after the client’s language being identified</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

4. In the event interpretation service for Arabic, Chinese, Spanish, Russian, Somali, Vietnamese, Swahili, Tigrinya, Korean or Farsi does not begin within 60 seconds of the client's language is identified, the customer shall not be charged for any interpretation services provided for the duration of the call.

In the event, any interpretation service request for Arabic, Chinese, Spanish, Russian, Somali, Vietnamese, Swahili, Tigrinya, Korean or Farsi results in a customer being told “no interpreter is available,” the Contractor will be subject to a self-assessed penalty equal to the cost of the customer’s average interpreter call for the month in which the “no interpreter available” event occurs.

The above penalties will be assessed monthly by the Contractor and must be itemized and deducted from the appropriate monthly invoice total.
On-Demand Video Remote Interpreting (VRI)

VRI must provide real-time, full-motion video and audio over a dedicated high-speed, wide-bandwidth video connection or wireless connection that delivers high-quality video images that do not produce lags, choppy, blurry, or grainy images, or irregular pauses in communication.

VRI must be a sharply delineated image that is large enough to display the interpreter’s face, arms, hands, and fingers, and the participating individual’s face, arms, hands, and fingers, regardless of body position. [VRI must also provide] a clear, audible transmission of voices.

A. Equipment

1. Real-time, full-motion video, and audio over a dedicated high-speed, wide-bandwidth video connection or wireless connection that delivers high-quality video images that do not produce lags, choppy, blurry, or grainy images, or irregular pauses in communication.

2. A sharply delineated image that is large enough to display the interpreter’s face, arms, hands, and fingers, and the participating individual’s face, arms, hands, and fingers, regardless of his or her body position.

3. Clear, audible transmission of voices.
Document Translation
