An Educator’s Tax Workshop
Oahu, October 4, 2003, 8:00 AM to 12:15 PM

Are you a salaried educator? Do you pay for job-related expenses out of your own pocket? Do you wonder if there are any expenses you should be deducting as an educator? Did you know that private school expenses can be deductible? Do you know what the tax benefits are that you may be eligible for when you send your child to college? Are you taking the maximum education deduction/credits on your tax return? Did you know that non-credit workshop fees are deductible?

Tax experts will provide an overview of tax adjustments and credits; explain educator expense deductions; parent’s expenses relative to children’s education; and review the IRS work related expense form. Questions and answers will be included. Presenters include any or all of the following:

Gail Bonilla, Internal Revenue Services
Warren Imada, Leeward Community College
Kathryn Sparlin, Certified Public Accountant
Mona Tom, H & R Block
Ronald Tomasa, Certified Public Accountant

Date: Saturday, October 4, 2003
Time: 8:00 AM to 12:15 PM
Site: McKinley Community School, Room 110
