Welcome! 欢迎！歡迎！

On behalf of everyone in the department of EALL, I would like to wish you all a very Happy Year of the Pig! May your New Year be full of fortune and luck!
Every year, we celebrate the Lunar New Year with Chinese Culture Day and, for the eighth time, different units of the University of Hawai‘i at Mānoa are sponsoring this year’s festivities: the Chinese section and the Chinese Flagship Program in the Department of EALL, the Center for Chinese Studies, and the National Foreign Language Resource Center.
This is a great opportunity for all of you who are studying or are interested in the Chinese language and culture. Get a glimpse of the Chinese way of life with hundreds of UH students and visitors from local schools who will be attending this special event.
Come and join us for fun and educational activities to experience diverse aspects of Chinese culture.

Department of East Asian Languages and Literatures

2019: Year of the Pig

According to www.nongli.com, a site dedicated to the traditional Chinese calendar, those born under the sign of the Pig, last of the 12 zodiac animals, are straightforward, wealth-loving, and steadfast. They may, however, lack people skills, be awfulizers à la Chicken Little, and be short on perseverance. For more info on the Chinese zodiac, see http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Chinese_zodiac.
