UH Mānoa Commission on Inclusion & Diversity Dr. Amefil "Amy" Agbayani Faculty Diversity Enhancement Award Nomination Form

2022 Nomination Information

Completed Nomination Packets must be received by March 18, 2022

The Mānoa Commission on Inclusion and Diversity is pleased to announce the annual Dr. Amefil "Amy" Agbayani Faculty Diversity Enhancement Award. This annual award program recognizes faculty that have demonstrated a significant commitment to enhancing diversity at the University of Hawai'i at Mānoa campus.

Eligibility

Award nominees can be faculty that have implemented policies, procedures, and/or programs to enhance diversity on the basis of color, ethnicity, race, creed, religion, sexual orientation, gender identity, immigration status, or social background.

Criteria

The nominated faculty member must have demonstrated a significant commitment to enhancing diversity through one or more of the following:

- Accomplishments, leadership, and service in support of diversity enhancement that have made an impact of the university community
- Achievement in creating a supportive environment that honors and supports diversity and has made an impact on the university community
- Achievement in recruiting and retaining diverse groups to faculty, staff and administrative positions and its impact on the university community
- Achievement in recruiting, retaining, and graduating diverse groups of students and its impact on the university community

Nomination Process

The nomination packet, including the nomination form, may not exceed four pages, and must demonstrate the nominee's significant commitment to enhancing diversity through one of the criteria identified above. The nomination packet should include the following:

- The one-page nomination form.
- A statement citing evidence of specific accomplishments and services of the nominee (3-page maximum). The statement may be written by the nominator or nominee.
- No more than 3 letters of support that represent the diverse group of customers/colleagues who have personal knowledge of and who have benefitted from the nominee's services.

Award

One award-winning faculty member will receive a $1,500 award for virtual conference fees (non-travel), professional development, or educational materials of up to $1,500, and will be recognized at the President's Award Ceremony May 2, 2022.
