

International Open Access Week at the University of Hawaii at Manoa Library, October 24-27, 2011

Monday, October 24, 3- 6 p.m.

RiP: A Remix Manifesto

Film screening and discussion

Hamilton Library Room 306

Activist filmmaker Brett Gaylor investigates copyright and how it has been distorted into a set of laws that restrict creativity, inhibit discovery and turn regular people into criminals. The film features groundbreaking mash-up artist Girl Talk, Laurence Lessig, Cory Doctorow, and Brazil's Minister of Culture Gilberto Gil. Refreshments will be provided, as well as a discussion after the film.

Tuesday, October 23, 12 p.m.-2 p.m.

Creative Commons Animated Shorts Film Festival

Sinclair Library Heritage Reading Room

Sometimes you can get something for nothing; come see what can be done with open source software and remixed copyright rules. We'll be showing three animated short films created with free 3D animation software that are free to share under a Creative Commons attribution license. The films screened will include: Elephants Dream (2006), Big Buck Bunny (2008) and Sintel (2010).

Wednesday, October 26, 10 a.m.-11:30 a.m.

Jean Claude Bradley Lecture

Hamilton Library Room 301

Jean-Claude Bradley is an Associate Professor of Chemistry and E-Learning Coordinator for the College of Arts and Sciences at Drexel University. In 2005, he began the UsefulChem project which introduced what he calls, Open Notebook Science. This concept adds transparency to science by publishing research in real time on online, freely accessible blogs, wikis and web pages. Hear from Bradley and learn more about his pioneering work at a virtual lecture.

Thursday, October 27, 11 a.m.-3 p.m.

Everything is a Remix Poster Session

Hamilton Library Entrance

From music to literature and even academics, everything is a remix. Stop by our poster session to learn more about who is remixing what or even share what you're remixing!

Open Access Resource Table

Tuesday – Thursday, October 23-27, 11 a.m.-3 p.m.

Sinclair Library (Tuesday) and Hamilton Library (Wednesday and Thursday)
Drop by our Open Access Resource table throughout the week to learn more about what Open Access is, how it affects you and how you can get involved. Tuesday and Thursday look for us in front of Sinclair Library and Wednesday we'll find us in front of Hamilton Library. Be sure to ask how to be entered for a prize!

