FROM: Linda K. Johnsrud
Vice President for Academic Planning and Policy

SUBJECT: INFORMATION ITEM: REPORT ON CENTERS, 2005-2006

In accordance with Board and Executive policy, I am pleased to transmit a report on the status of centers, institutes, and similar organizational units within the University. As the University has become more entrepreneurial and active in seeking and securing grants, the interest in establishing centers that focus resources and research efforts to meet special needs or deal with current issues has increased. These centers often serve as focal points to emphasize a strategic thrust of a college, school, or department.

This is the sixth annual report shared with the Board. It consists of a report of centers that are new, ongoing, or terminated. Excluding organized research institutes, administrative service centers, and distance learning centers, the University system houses 103 centers with research, instruction, and/or public service purposes. Eighty-one (79%) of the centers are affiliated with UH Mānoa. Of these, 33 (41%) have a research focus; nine (11%) a public service focus; 2 (2%) focus on instruction, and 37 (46%) have multiple purposes. The eight centers at UH Hilo have either a public service focus (50%) or multiple purposes (50%). The nine centers at the UH Community Colleges are classified as public service and instruction. The one at UH West O'ahu is a multiple purpose center.

The Chancellors and I would be pleased to respond to questions at the Board's convenience.

Enclosure

University of Hawai'i
REPORT ON CENTERS
2005-2006

Introduction

In accordance with Board of Regents Policy, Section 5-6 Establishment and Review of Centers (and Institutes) and Executive Policy E5.215, this annual report updates the Board on centers that are new, continuing, or terminated during the 2005-2006 academic year.

Centers focus University expertise in research, instruction, or public service in a specific discipline. They are a means by which the University accomplishes its mission to serve the state and provide leadership nationally and internationally in selected areas. Organized research institutes, administrative service centers, and UH distance learning centers are not part of this report.

The BOR policy states that centers require BOR approval only when they: “(1) require significant current or future commitments of institutional funding, personnel, or physical resources, a substantive change in program mission, and/or involve major institutional liability; (2) involved Board or Presidential agreements with external governmental or private entities; and/or (3) involve an honorific name in the designation of the center.” All other centers may be approved by the President, who, in turn, has delegated authority to the Chancellors and allowed delegation to lower administrative levels. Chancellors are responsible for maintaining a master list of centers for their campus.

For the academic year 2005-2006, the University of Hawai'i housed 103 centers. Of the total, 26 (25%) were approved by the Board, the rest were approved at various administrative levels to carry out the requirements of funded legislative mandates or to implement the conditions of grants and contracts.

Most of the centers are a part of the University of Hawai'i at Mānoa (81 or 78.6%); UH Hilo houses eight centers, the UH Community Colleges have a total of nine, and UH West O'ahu has one. Details are provided in the attached Report of UH Centers. Of the continuing and new centers, there are 33 centers focused on research, 15 focused on public service, 8 that are instructional, and 43 have multiple purposes.

During 2005-2006 two centers were created, both at UH Mānoa, and four were terminated (one at UH Mānoa, three at Maui CC).
