

Celebrating Community Knowledge for Social Change
the Center for Oral History in the UH Mānoa
Department of Ethnic Studies presents:

experience:
HAWAI'I LIFE HISTORIES

Thursday, Sept. 19 | 6 - 8 pm
Windward Community College | Hale A'ō 101 & 102
Oral History Podcast & Talk Story

Ka Po'e Kau Lei: Hawai'i's Lei Sellers Now & Then

with:

Leimomi Miyahana (Harriet's Lei Stand),
Kimo Adams (lei maker & owner, Ka 'Ulu Lā'au),
& Lurline Wailana McGregor (writer, television producer)

Inspirational personal stories, in their own voices, from the Center for Oral History archive in the Department of Ethnic Studies in the UH Mānoa College of Social Sciences, about the legacy of Hawai'i's lei stands from interviews conducted in 1986. Their descendants will share insights on generational experiences, challenges, and changes in the art of lei making.

Pūpūs will be served (while supplies last).

This event is free and open to the public. Contact the Center for Oral History at cohes@hawaii.edu or (808) 956-6259 for more information.

This project is supported by a grant from the Hawai'i Council for the Humanities and is produced in partnership with Hawai'i Public Radio, and Ko'olaupoko Hawaiian Civic Club

University of Hawai'i at Mānoa™

The Center for Oral History collects, documents, preserves and highlights the recollections of Native Hawaiians and the multi-ethnic people of Hawai'i. It produces oral histories and interpretive historical materials about lifeways, key historic events, social movements and Hawai'i's role in the globalizing world, for the widest possible use.
