MINOR REORGANIZATION
LIBRARY SERVICES
UNIVERSITY OF HAWAI'I AT MANOA

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The purpose of this reorganization is to organizationally move the functions of administering the Microforms Periodical Services from the Serials Department to a public service unit, Access Services, consolidate Interlibrary Services and the External Services Program (both subunits of Access Services) into one unit and to refocus the work of the vacant APT in the Preservation Department towards conservation treatment rather than photography.

The Access Services, Serials and Preservation Departments are all subunits of the Library Services Program and all are located in Hamilton Library.

Consistent with the newly created University strategic plan, this reorganization moves to increase functional efficiency and enhance service to the Library's primary constituents, faculty, students and staff.

Costs resulting from possible reclassification of one position will be absorbed by Library Services. No new funds are requested to implement the reorganization.

This reorganization will be effective upon receipt of the appropriate approvals.

I. NARRATIVE REPORT

A. DESCRIPTION OF THE EXISTING ORGANIZATION

The Library Services program is an academic support organization. Its resources and services are designed to nourish and enhance all University programs, particularly those programs that take advantage of Hawai'i's unique location, physical and biological environment and rich cultural setting. In fulfilling this mission, the Library selects, acquires, organizes, preserves and provides intellectual and physical access to collections in a wide range of formats. The Library fosters the sharing of its resources among all UH system campus libraries. It facilitates access to collections held by other academic institutions, government agencies and commercial providers of information. Electronically connected to information resources throughout the world, the Library contributes to global networked information resources and provides assistance and education in information retrieval.

The Library Services program encompasses traditional reference and circulation services, electronic digital bibliographical and information retrieval services, bibliographic instruction services, responsibility for the book, journal and non-print collections, acquisitions, cataloging, and other processing related activities, and direct service to the academic and research programs.

Services and support activities are provided in the two buildings, Hamilton and Sinclair libraries. Hamilton Library maintains 10 specialized service points which are staffed a total of 528 hours a week, and the building is open 92.5 hours per week during the academic semesters. Sinclair maintains an additional 3 service points for a total of 140 hours per week.

The University Librarian administers the program. The University Librarian reports to the Chancellor of University of Hawai'i at Manoa. The library is organized along three main organizational streams: the public services division composed of seven public service departments which are coordinated by the Head of the Public Services Division, the four library processing operation departments, which are coordinated by the Head of the Collection Services Division, and the Library Information Technology Division which is headed by the Assistant University Librarian for Library Information Technology.

The attached existing and proposed Functional Statements describe in further detail the organizational units in the Library

B. DESCRIPTION OF PROPOSED ORGANIZATION

The essential components of the departments within the Library Services Program remain unchanged. Services to students and faculty are not changed by this reorganization. Hours of public services and building hours have not been changed as a result of this reorganization.

The following changes are proposed:

1. Move the service point and responsibility for the Microforms/Periodicals Services from the Serials Department Unit III in the Collection Services Division, to the Access Services Department in the Public Services Division Hamilton Circulation - Charging and Discharging. This affects a change in reporting lines for one vacant position, #15589, Library Assistant IV.

Both the Microform Periodicals Service point and the Serials Department are located in Hamilton Library. The Serials Department no longer has a publicly accessible service point and is strictly for staff only on the ground floor of Hamilton Library. The new Microforms Periodical service point is located adjacent to the main circulation desk on the first floor of Hamilton.

2. Consolidate the functions of the Library External Services Program (which has no position counts and operates with special funded student assistants) with the Interlibrary Services unit of Access Services. Services provided by the Library External Services program will continue to be provided from within the Interlibrary Services unit.
3. Consolidate the personnel of the Preservation Department into one unit, the proposed Conservation, Collection Care and Preservation Reformatting, eliminate the function of photography from the Preservation Department and re-describe the vacant APT position (Photographer PBA #80940) to a proposed Conservation Treatment Specialist pending review by the Office of Human Resources.

C. BACKGROUND/NATURE OF THE PROPOSED REORGANIZATION

Factors prompting the proposed reorganization

Changes reflected in the delegated reorganization proposal below do not affect the mission of the Library Services program, nor do they affect the nature of services provided to the Library's clientele--students, faculty, staff and the community.

The changes have been made for the following reasons:

1. In the 2001-02 building renovation, the Serials Department was physically moved away from the public area. The primary function of the Serials Department is to acquire, process and maintain records for the over 25,000 serial and journal titles received regularly. The public service function of shelving, reshelving and responding to questions about the microforms and periodicals is shifted to the Access Services Department, which is physically contiguous to the area where the microforms and periodicals are located.
2. While the Preservation Department has many functional specialties, the size of the permanent staff does not justify separate units at this time. The need for photographic work in the Preservation Department is no longer at a level that requires a trained full-time photographer position. The Preservation Department no longer maintains a darkroom facility. All necessary photographic work is contracted out to local commercial establishments. The vacant Photographer position will be redescribed to a proposed Conservation Treatment Specialist where in-house expertise is required and need for those services has grown.

Relationship of proposed reorganization to Library
University Strategic Plans

Two of the goals that the Library's Strategic Plan, 1998-2007 are:

- 1) Enhancing and preserving collections in all formats, and 2) Meeting the needs of the library users and teaching them to effectively use scholarly resources and information systems;

This reorganization will provide better, more immediate service to the public using the microforms and periodicals and provide strengthened professional staff support in conserving the library's heritage collections.

D. SPECIFIC NATURE OF THE PROPOSED REORGANIZATION

1. Principal Assumptions:

No positions will be eliminated. Reclassification of one position may occur following review of new position descriptions by the Office of Human Resources.

No additional positions are requested to implement this reorganization.

Implementation of this proposal does not require additional present or future resources from outside the Library's current budget.

Existing office space will be utilized in the implementation of this reorganization.

2. Specific Details of the Proposed Reorganization

- a. Moves physical and functional/organizational responsibility for service to the Microform/Periodical Room from the Serials Department to the Access Services Department
- b. Moves vacant Library Assistant IV position (#15589) from the Serials Department (Organization Chart IX) to the Access Services Department, reporting to the Library Technician V, SR 11, #26662 (Organization Chart V).

E. OTHER ALTERNATIVES CONSIDERED

The changes described in this reorganization proposal are required to maximize functional efficiencies within the new physical environment created by the new building addition and renovations.

The benefits of this reorganization are 1) that it will redistribute workload in the Preservation Department and 2) provide for a more contiguously located management and operation of the Microforms/Periodicals Services.

The only alternative to this reorganization would have been to make no changes and transfer no positions. This would have resulted in an awkward and unnecessarily cumbersome way of managing the Microform/Periodical Room. The change in Preservation recognizes that trends for library conservation no longer emphasize traditional photography as a central part of preservation, rather provide for that need through outsourcing while devoting in-house resources to conservation of library heritage material.

LIBRARY SERVICES
UNIVERSITY OF HAWAI'I AT MĀNOA
FUNCTIONAL STATEMENT

The Library Services program is an academic support organization. The Library is an active participant in the teaching, research and service missions of the University. Its resources and services are designed to nourish and enhance all University programs, particularly those programs which take advantage of Hawai'i's unique location, physical and biological environment and rich cultural setting. In fulfilling this mission, the Library selects, acquires, organizes, preserves and provides intellectual and physical access to collections in a wide range of formats. The Library fosters the sharing of its resources among all UH system campus libraries. It facilitates access to collections held by other academic institutions, government agencies and commercial providers of information. Electronically connected to information resources throughout the world, the Library contributes to global networked information resources and provides assistance and education in information retrieval.

The Library Services program encompasses traditional reference and circulation services, electronic bibliographical and information retrieval services, bibliographic instruction services, responsibility for the book, journal and non-print collections, acquisitions, cataloging and other processing activities, responsibility for the UH systemwide UHCARL computer services network, and direct service to the academic and research programs.

LIBRARY SERVICES
UNIVERSITY OF HAWAI'I AT MĀNOA
FUNCTIONAL STATEMENT

The Library Services program is an academic support organization. The Library is an active participant in the teaching, research and service missions of the University. Its resources and services are designed to nourish and enhance all University programs, particularly those programs which take advantage of Hawai'i's unique location, physical and biological environment and rich cultural setting. In fulfilling this mission, the Library selects, acquires, organizes, preserves and provides intellectual and physical access to collections in a wide range of formats. The Library fosters the sharing of its resources among all UH system campus libraries. It facilitates access to collections held by other academic institutions, government agencies and commercial providers of information. Electronically connected to information resources throughout the world, the Library contributes to global networked information resources and provides assistance and education in information retrieval.

The Library Services program encompasses traditional reference and circulation services, electronic bibliographical and information retrieval services, bibliographic instruction services, responsibility for the book, journal and non-print collections, acquisitions, cataloging and other processing activities, responsibility for the UH system wide Hawai'i Voyager library online management system, and direct service to the academic and research programs.

The program is administered by the University Librarian. The University Librarian reports to the Chancellor, University of Hawai'i at Mānoa.

The Functional Statement describes the organizational units in the Library. Additionally, it outlines the relationships between the various organizational units which are typically organized around: 1) the type of function(s) performed (e.g. services to the public or processing operations); 2) the format of materials dealt with, (e.g. serials, monographs, audiovisual) and/or the languages of the materials involved.
